JAPAN CANCELS NAVAL TREATY; CRITICIZES U. S.

Mikado Affixes Seal to Documents.

TOKIO, Dec. 21.—[Friday.]—(AP)—Emperor Hirohito today affixed the imperial seal to the documents concerning Japanese abrogation of the 1922 Washington naval treaty, which limited the navies of the United States, Great Britain, and Japan to their relative strength at that time.

The cabinet previously approved the documents and all members countersigned them. Final notification of the treaty denunciation is expected to be handed to Secretary of State Cordell Hull at Washington after Christmas, although a draft of the communication is expected to be telegraphed to Ambassador Hirosi Saito Dec. 22. The treaty's abrogation takes effect Dec. 31, 1936.

Paints U. S. as Villain.

Coincident with the cabinet and imperial action, the press commented on the London naval conversations and pictured the United States as the villain of the international naval drama. American obstinacy was blamed and the attitude of the United States was contrasted with that of England.

In an editorial on the London adjournment, Nichi Nichi advises America to "discard the false pride of racial superiority and make friends with truth and justice."

Chugai Shogyo urges measures to make America, "which has been notoriously obstinate," understand Japan's Pacific motives. Other comments spoke of Great Britain's zeal for an agreement, moderation and reasonableness.

Seeks to Prevent Common Front.

The press reflected an eagerness of the government to maintain the closest contacts with Britain to prevent an Anglo-American common front. For this purpose the navy and foreign office are completing instructions to Ambassador Tsuneo Matsudaira and Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto at London to continue as long as possible discussions with the British on the subject of compromise suggestions of Yamamoto and Vice Admiral Sir Ernie Chatfield.

An authoritative forecast, however indicated the instructions forbid the weakening of the Japanese demands for substantial parity. Although they might agree that Japan could attain parity only after several years.

Urges Anglo-American Pact.

[Copyright: 1934: By the Associated Press.]

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Japan must consent to continue the 5-5-3 naval ratio provided in the 1922 Washington treaty or see the United States and Great Britain make their own bilateral agreement, an American spokesman said today.

As the tri-power naval negotiations closed here after two months of futile efforts to devise something to replace the treaty Japan means to denounce, the spokesman said flatly an Anglo-American accord is likely.

The American delegates to the conversations, Norman H. Davis and Admiral William H. Standley, believed the Japanese delegation fully realizes the situation facing Japan as a result of her insistence on naval parity, the spokesman said, but naval treaties are such political footballs in Japan that the outlook for future naval limitation is highly uncertain.

Japanese Get Warning.

No prediction as to whether another general agreement restricting the world powers' fighting ships is possible can be made, he said, in announcing the likelihood of an Anglo-American pact.

The spokesman asserted the British and the Americans have made it clear to the Japanese delegation that Great Britain and the United States will play ball by themselves if the oriental empire does not want to play in the same league.

He emphasized that the British and the American delegations in the course of the conversations presented no common front against the Japanese. A common point of view, however, held them together, he said.

Another note of British-American harmony was struck today by Sir Norman Angell, Nobel peace prize winner, who said the two English-speaking nations should join forces "against war-makers," asserting Great Britain's navy and the resources of the United States ended the world war.

7 Die in Crash of Dutch Air Derby Winner

BULLETIN.

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 21 (Friday).—(AP)—All seven occupants of the Dutch airplane, "the flying hotel," were killed in a crash yesterday near Rutba Wells, Iraq, British royal air force planes reported today.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BAGDAD, Dec. 21 [Friday]. — Airplanes of three nations, including twenty-four British military machines, are starting at dawn from various points in Trans-Jordan today to search the Syrian desert for the famed Douglas airliner Univers, known as the Flying Hotel, which won the handicap section of the recent England to Australia air race.

The plane, built in the United States for the Dutch Air Lines, left Amsterdam Wednesday morning on a special Christmas flight to the Dutch East Indies and back with three passengers and a crew of four. It passed over Cairo at 9:50 o'clock Wednesday night and was sighted over Rutbah Wells, about halfway between Gaza and Bagdad, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning. A few minutes later the radio operator asked for his position and that was the last heard of the machine.

Violent Storm Breaks.

Almost immediately a violent thunderstorm broke over Bagdad, flooding airdromes and making roads impassable for armored cars that set off in the darkness to render help to the Douglas.

Once the plane was away from the Anman country, it is extremely unlikely at this time of year that any forced descent would be noticed by the nomadic tribes of the Jebel Druse and Aneiss country as they rarely go beyond their grazing strips.

British armored cars are stationed at Rutbah Wells, probably not far from the scene of a possible accident, but they are unable to move in the mud after the torrential downpour.

Dutch Plane Flies Ocean.

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Holland's invasion of the South American commercial aviation field was officially under way tonight.

A Dutch commercial plane, the Fokker Snip F-18, roared its way across the 2,250 miles of water lying between Porto Praia, Cape Verde Islands, and Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, to land at its airdrome, thirty miles from the South American city, at 12:45 p. m. G. M. T. [6:45 a. m. C. S. T.].

The ship immediately will be placed in service between Cumarebo, Venezuela, and Willemstadt, Curacao, Dutch West Indies. Other Dutch craft will follow its trail across the Atlantic as the new mail and passenger service is expanded.

BANDITS GO A BIT TOO FAR; VICTIM LOSES PATIENCE

Note to bandits: Rob Louis Braspennick of his money, if you will. He will not protest. Steal his samples, and he will just look hurt. But don't bother his lady friend. That changes him to a raging lion.

Mr. Braspennick, who lives at 716 Grace street, is a whisky salesman. While he was driving around making sales yesterday, he was accompanied by Miss Helen Smith, 2138 Fowler street. Braspennick had just driven up to 53 East 43d street when three colored robbers approached.

One produced a gun and forced the couple out of the car. Braspennick was robbed of his money—a few dollars—and samples of whisky valued at $30. Then one of the bandits put his hands on Miss Smith, apparently to take her purse.

Braspennick didn't like that.

Picking out the bandit with the gun, Braspennick struck him, knocking him flat. The other two fled. As soon as the flattened bandit could get to his feet, he joined his companions. A passing police squad gave chase and fired several shots, but the robbers escaped.

Braspennick recovered his whisky samples.

Rich Hostess Is Snubbed by Hungry Prince

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 20.—Paris society is buzzing over what experts consider the prize snub of 1934. Prince Rene de Bourbon Parme is the alleged snubber and Lady Deterding, wife of the Dutch oil magnate, the snubbee.

The setting of the dramatic incident, according to the account which came via the society grapevine route, was the recent Christmas ball given by Lady Deterding at the Hotel Crillon. Lady Deterding gives two balls a year—no more, no less—which indicates her unlimited confidence in her social batting average.

Prince First to Arrive.

This year Lady Deterding was in form even above normal, and the cosmopolitan throng which gathered in the Crillon was lustrous with decorations, titles, and jewels—the former 200 per cent authentic. There was even Lady Clerk, wife of the British ambassador.

First and foremost among the guests was Prince Rene—foremost thanks to the highly prized Bourbon label and first because he arrived before any one else.

Every one thought he looked particularly distinguished that evening, but the truth was his highness was merely hungry. He is accustomed to eat early in the French manner, and Lady Deterding and her guests were still dawdling over cocktails until well after 9 o'clock.

Conceals His Annoyance.

The prince concealed his annoyance like a perfect gentleman, and exactly at 9:30 p. m. Lady Deterding mustered her guests around a long table.

"I have a pleasant surprise for you, prince," Lady Deterding said, waving her guest to a chair. "I am putting you next to the wife of the British ambassador."

Then occurred one of those things you read about in novels, but which do not happen in real life.

"Excuse me, madame," coldly replied the prince; "it is 9:30, and in France nobody eats at such an hour."

With that he gave a stiff little bow and stalked out of the dining room, leaving a gasping hostess and the startled Lady Clark sitting next to the empty place.

WAGNER URGES NRA TO DROP PRICE FIXING

Outlines a 13 Point Recovery Plan.

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—A thirteen point recovery program, including conditional abandonment of several phases of the New Deal experiment, was urged tonight by Senator Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.], one of President Roosevelt's legislative advisers.

"Certain portions of the New Deal must become embodied in permanent law and crystalized in public sentiment," Wagner told a meeting at the Catholic club, then at another point he said:

"Other types of our program are more susceptible to modification. A certain amount of experimentation is an essential element of domestic government. We have not sought the pretended finality of a dictatorial state with all the mock certainty of its glorified blue prints.

Sees Freedom Methods Retested.

"Whatever may be the case in other lands, I do not believe that the methods of freedom are outworn or even discredited in the United States. On the contrary, they have been retested and reconfirmed during the past twenty months."

Wagner advocated the following program:

1. A qualified scrapping of price fixing under the NRA.
2. Ending of NRA's production limitation phase.
3. Reduction of "widespread [federal] expenditures to stimulate industry when industry is completely revived and prepared to stand entirely on its own feet."

Extend Federal Control.

4. Extend federal control over some public utilities.
5. Continue to regulate minimum wages.
6. "Excessively long" hours shall remain proscribed.
7. Sweat shops to be kept closed.
8. Child labor to remain banned.
9. Continued protection afforded the small bank depositors and investors.
10. Employés shall be "safeguarded" in their right to organize and bargain collectively.
11. Business shall have the right to guard itself against destructive competition of the trickster and gangster.
12. Combining the share work idea with old age pensions.
13. Compulsory unemployment insurance.

Asks Limit on Price Fixing.

Wagner, who helped frame the recovery act, said he had held from its inception that "price fixing, when it goes beyond the bounds of establishing minimum wages and prohibiting the cutthroat practice of selling below cost, has no place in a program designed to shield the individual business man against the onslaught of monopoly."

It seemed equally clear, he added, that "systematic and extended limitation of production should not be permitted."

"There is a great danger," he added, "in the fallacious and despairing attitude that we suffer economic disaster because our industries produce too much. In 1929, if we had set out to provide every poverty stricken family in America with a barely comfortable living, this task alone would have kept every factory in the country running at top speed."

RECOVERY PLAN FILED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The eleven point recovery program adopted by business and industrial leaders at White Sulphur Springs was received without comment at the White House today, and the messenger, C. B. Ames, chairman of the joint conference, went away without seeing President Roosevelt.

While the President was represented as welcoming any efforts to coöperate with the administration, the New Dealers directly concerned with the relief and public works program sneered at the recommendations of business and industry. Many senators joined in the chorus of denunciation, as well as governors and mayors, who resented the suggestion that relief is primarily a local responsibility.

Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins was the most outspoken in condemning the program outlined by the White Sulphur Springs conference, particularly the suggestion that direct

Plane Crashes in Snowstorm; 2 Pilots Hurt

Two veteran aviators were injured last evening when the United Air Lines plane in which they were riding crashed into a tree at Prospect avenue and Walnut street, Western Springs, during a blinding snowstorm.

They are David L. Behncke, 38 years old, 6501 South Fairfield avenue, president of the Air Line Pilots' association, one of the most experienced pilots in commercial flying, and Kenneth Quayle, 36 years old, 8953 South Ada street.

Two other employés of the air line, on board the ship, were not injured. They are Miss Barbara Bernar of the Hotel Hyde Park, stewardess, and John Wolf of Cheyenne, Wyo., a traveling representative of the company.

Motor Trouble Develops.

The plane, a Boeing with Pratt & Whitney engines, had left the Chicago airport at 7:53 p. m. carrying a cargo of express, with Omaha as its next scheduled stop. Motor trouble developed before the plane reached Aurora, according to Behncke, who was at the controls, and Quayle, the co-pilot. It was then decided to return to the landing field in Chicago.

Behncke said that when he discovered he could not reach the airport he flew low to seek a landing place. When the ship crashed into the tree one of the wings and the propeller were smashed. The tail fell to the ground and the ship remained with its front portion resting high in the tree and the rear of the fuselage on the street. The cabin was only slightly damaged.

A crowd quickly gathered. Ambulances were summoned and the injured men were taken to the Hinsdale sanitarium. Behncke received a fracture of the right leg and Quayle incurred cuts, bruises and possible internal injuries.

More Snow Expected Today.

The snow, which began in the afternoon, was still falling steadily at the time of the accident, about 8:15 p. m., and gave the pilot little chance to see the ground. The fall ceased a little later.

More snow, according to forecast, will fall today. Already, up to 7 p. m., 23 inches had fallen this month, making this the snowiest December since the weather bureau was established here 62 years ago. The previous record was 20.2 inches in the whole month in 1928.

Forecaster C. A. Donnel said that the normal December snowfall is 6.6 inches. This mark was far exceeded by the 10.9 inches in the storm of Dec. 10.

The temperature today is expected to be similar to that of yesterday, when the mercury hovered between 24 and 28 degrees during the daylight hours. Tomorrow, according to forecast, will be colder, with a likelihood of snow flurries.

CITY ELEVATOR OPERATORS VOTE TO CALL STRIKE

The Elevator Operators and Starters' union voted yesterday, 1,402 to 218, to give its officers authority to call a strike unless demands for a 15 per cent increase in pay are met. The election was held in the union quarters in the Capitol building.

On Dec. 1 the contracts of the union with the Building Managers' association expired. Thomas O'Grady, treasurer of the union, said that the managers, controling nearly all the large loop buildings, refused to grant the elevator men any increase from their present $123 a month scale. In 1929 the pay scale was $149 a month.

O'Grady said that the men still are seeking a cut in hours as well as more pay. Efforts to have the NRA order a five day week were not successful. It was reported that the union officials would continue negotiations with the building managers and would not call the strike unless it became apparent a settlement could not be reached. The union has 3,000 members.

DEBATE 3 HOURS IN ATTEMPT AT QUICK VERDICT

Reported 9 to 3 in Favor of Acquittal.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The jurors in the Martin J. Insull embezzlement trial were locked up for the night shortly before 4 o'clock this morning. Judge Cornelius J. Harrington announced that he would call the jury into court at 10:30 o'clock this morning to inquire whether a verdict had been arrived at by that time. The judge then went home and the jurors went to bed in their quarters in the county jail.

Replying to an inquiry by Judge Harrington, John E. Burks, 1401 South 19th avenue, Maywood, foreman of the jury, reported at 3:45 o'clock that no verdict had been reached and that there was no apparent chance of an early agreement. The jurors had been deliberating since 12:50 o'clock.

It had been reported that on its first ballot the jury stood 9 to 3 for acquittal.

The case was rushed to the verdict stage suddenly, as the lawyers agreed to curtail their arguments and work at night in order to be free for the pre-Christmas festivities and shopping.

Insull Shows Disappointment.

Mr. Insull and his lawyers and friends, who had so confidently expected an early verdict of acquittal were deeply disappointed. The prosecutors were equally elated and began to look for a verdict of guilty. Disagreement loomed as one possible outcome.

If a verdict of guilty is brought in defense attorneys have led their client to hope for a reversal by the State Supreme court, which has overturned several embezzlement cases recently.

The delay in the jury room was looked on by many as the result of the closing address of John O'Hora, assistant state's attorney, who made what the defense admitted was a "dangerous" speech from their standpoint. He made much of Insull's efforts to evade trial here by fighting extradition in Canada and told the jurors that the public was looking to them to punish men in high places who tried to steal money under the shelter of corporation law.

Jurors Go to Work Quickly.

As soon as the jurors received the case they settled down to work. They asked for coffee and sandwiches, but were informed that the restaurants in the neighborhood were all closed. Thereafter nothing was heard from them during the first hour.

Judge Harrington waited in his chambers while the lawyers and the small group of spectators milled about in the courtroom. Samuel Insull, looking cheerful and ruddy and somewhat amused by many things he heard in the course of the closing arguments, was a tower of strength for his brother during this ordeal of waiting. Harold L. Stuart was another of the faithful friends who stayed through the night hours.

Argue Over Instructions.

Submission of the case to the jury was delayed by arguments in chambers over the form of the instructions. Assistant State's Attorney O'Hora finished his closing plea at midnight and it was forty minutes later before the judge and the lawyers emerged from chambers to summon the jury.

It took Judge Harrington only ten minutes to read the instructions. That part which referred to the proof which the jury must find before reaching a verdict of guilty had the most interest for the lawyers. The court stated that it must be shown that the defendant was an officer of the Middle West Utilities company and charged with the care of the money, that he had possession of the money and knowingly converted it to his own use.

It must also be shown, the court said, that the money was taken by the defendant without the consent of the Middle West company. Concealment and secrecy were also elements of embezzlement, he stated, and failure to prove these negatived intent to defraud.

O'Hora's Closing Argument.

Mr. O'Hora, a slim, gray-haired man with a quiet, intense manner in his closing address compared the case against the former millionaire head of the great Middle West Utilities company with that of a clerk who steals from the till.

"When you write the verdict in this case," he said, "you are going to send out word whether in this county the philosophy of a defendant like Martin Insull prevails or not. That philosophy is that if a clerk takes 5 or 10 dollars from a till it is larceny, but when the president of the corporation steals a quarter of a million dollars it is done for the benefit of the stockholders."

"If there is bitterness in the hearts of the people of this community, who can blame them?" he said in another part of his argument.

"When a man has worked all his life and saved for his old age or his children and is tricked into putting money into a corporation to advance men drunk with power and egoism, and sees his savings wiped out, can you blame him if he is bitter today?

"Did Martin Insull stay in Canada because he was afraid he would not get a square deal, as his attorney says, or because he was afraid he would? His counsel says you can't trust an American judge and jury."

"No Room for Sympathy."

Defense Attorney Grenville Beardsley objected to this and the court ordered the jury to disregard it.

"Dillinger didn't want to go back to Indiana because the people there were bitter," was O'Hora's next remark. "If you have any sympathy you know where it belongs and it does not belong to this defendant.

"They say this was a political indictment. John A. Swanson went out of office as state's attorney in 1932. The new administration pressed this charge and brought this man back from Canada. If the people believe that was a political indictment they want more politics because they want more men like Insull prosecuted."

Northup's Closing Defense Plea.

Attorney John E. Northup, closing for the defense, said there had been a great change in public sentiment in this community in the last 2 years.

"The American people are not good haters," he said. "This has been demonstrated in this community. Now a man may come back to court here and receive fair treatment. If he had come back two years ago there are many who would have been pleased to see him placed in a cage and dragged through the streets. He was justified in remaining away. There is not a shred of evidence to show that he was a fugitive from justice."

Mr. Northup toward the end made much of the reliable old doctrin of reasonable doubt in the law.

"You are soon to be free to go from here to mingle in Christmas cheer," he told the jurors. "Martin Insull is not far from 70 years of age. It is one of the tragedies of the depression that it ruined men in the later years of their life. A man of the finest spirit to whom distinguished men in this community have paid tribute, he stands with the snows of the years on his head. He covets one thing above all else, a vindication. The evidence in this case will give it to him. I ask a verdict of not guilty for him and hope that you will not stay long in reaching this."

Defense Attorney Ely M. Aaron, who preceded Mr. Northup with a summation of the defense's case, told the jurors that they could only find an acquittal verdict under the evidence; that Insull had acted entirely in the open and in a legal manner in the transactions in question.

Denies Evidence of Theft.

"The sole question in this case," he said, "is whether Martin Insull stole $344,720. The transaction was clear and open, all recorded on the books. There is no evidence to show that he is a thief or that he had any intent to steal. Martin Insull is an honest man.

"At the time of the alleged embezzlement of this money for stocks of the Insull companies which he owned, the Middle West Utilities company had an investment of $2,202,000 in these same stocks.

"When Martin Insull was faced with the necessity of getting these stocks out of his account he was faced with a dilemma. If it had become known on La Salle street that he was being sold out it would have influenced the stocks of all the Insull companies and probably have brought on a panic. He believed in these securities, which represented his and his brother's 40 years' fight to build these enterprises.

"This was an orderly business transaction. He organized a syndicate and turned it over to his treasurer to manage. He had a chance to be a crook a few days later when the stock went up. He wanted the companies to get the profits. He was authorized in his act by the charter of the company and the resolution of the directors.

"So long as that sale was at market prices it was a legal and valid transaction. When the end came, on May 16, 1932, he turned over all his property to his creditors. He was cleaned out, broke. He was 63 years old and looking for a job. All his acts were those of an honest man."

Brands Insull Embezzler.

Assistant State's Attorney Earle Hurley, who had begun the summation for the prosecution an hour before, branded Martin Insull as an outright embezzler under the proof which he insisted the state had presented for the consideration of the jury.

The depression cannot be blamed for the crash of the Insull companies, Hurley told the jury. He pointed out that Corporation Securities, one of the Insull companies, was organized during 1929 while the depression was "well on its way."

From this point on the prosecutor plunged into a discussion of the stock operations involved in the indictment. He told the jury of the Washington Flexner brokerage account, which, he charged, was really a dummy account for Martin Insull. It is because Insull ordered diversion of company money to bolster up this broker's account that he is charged specifically with the $344,720 embezzlement.

Questions Insull's Motive.

"Flexner informed this defendant that the brokers said the Insull stocks would have to be taken out of this account, or it would be sold out," Hurley said. "What was the first thing Insull said when he called Oliver McCormick, the treasurer of Middle West? His first words to McCormick were, 'I have to take care of that brokerage account.' When a man is taking care of his own speculative brokerage account he is not buying securities as he would have you believe.

"What was the next activity with which this case is interested? It was on Monday morning, Oct. 5, 1931, when the defendant decided to form a little syndicate to take care of his brokerage account.

"Can't you men see through that? He was taking care of himself. He poured money out of the Middle West treasury to the extent of $344,720 to take care of his personal account."

The defense rested at 2:40 o'clock in the afternoon following the completion of the cross-examination of the defendant by the state and the evidence of Luis E. Tilden, investment expert, as well as a string of character witnesses.

The cross-examination of Mr. Insull was a sort of debate with Prosecutor O'Hora as to whether use of the funds of the Middle West Utilities company and subsidiaries for the purchase of the stock from Insull's brokerage account, was a wrongful diversion of money and a breach of trust with stockholders or whether it was a bona fide investment, made to protect the stockholders of all the Insull companies.

The defendant insisted on the latter view.

Mr. Northup also elicited from the witness that the Middle West company had bought the same kind of Insull securities that were used in the brokerage transaction after Oct. 3, the date of that transfer.

The witness Tilden brought out charts which showed the jurors in graphic form the rise and fall of the market in Insull securities during the period in question. This showed that the particular stocks which Insull purchased for the company on Oct. 5, 1931, were worth $280,000 by market value on that day. In five days they had risen in value to more than $500,000 and thereafter declined to the vanishing point.

MacVEAGH CAN'T SUPPORT ARTIST, SAYS ATTORNEY

'Bankruptcy Next,' Reply to $2,500 Suit.

Because of financial difficulties, Eames MacVeagh, 60 years old, 900 North Michigan avenue, cannot adhere to the terms of a contract by which he agreed to contribute monthly to the support of Louise Hagen, New York artist, his attorney, State Senator James J. Barbour, declared yesterday. Mr. MacVeagh, who is a vestryman of St. James' Episcopal church, is a son of the late Franklin MacVeagh, pioneer Chicago wholesale grocer, who served as secretary of the treasury under President Taft.

Miss Hagen filed suit in the Municipal court on Dec. 14, it was learned yesterday, claiming that MacVeagh owes her $2,500. Attached to the bill were copies of contracts alleged to have been signed by MacVeagh which assured Miss Hagen of support for the remainder of her life.

Ready to Admit Judgment.

"I offered some months ago to confess judgment on behalf of my client for whatever is due under the contract," Senator Barbour said. "There is nothing else to be done. My client has nothing. It is simply a case of being unable to pay. The only thing left for my client is bankruptcy when this claim will have to share with others amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars."

The case is set for hearing Jan. 3 in the Municipal court. No formal answer to Miss Hagen's bill, filed by Attorney Herman P. Haase, has been made.

According to the first contract—as set forth in the suit—Mr. MacVeagh for many years assisted Miss Hagen "in pursuing the calling of an artist" and during that time provided her expenses by monthly allowances. The document was dated Jan. 18, 1930.

Under its terms Miss Hagen, in return for an assured income of $300 monthly for two years and $250 a month thereafter, agreed to release MacVeagh from a $5,000 promissory note dated May 28, 1915, and to leave New York within 30 days to remain abroad for a year.

Promise No Molestation.

The contract further provided, according to the suit, that Miss Hagen would release all claims "both legal and equitable" and that "neither shall molest or annoy the other or expose either to publicity or criticism."

As assurance that the contract would be kept, the suit declared, 100 shares of stock of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company was pledged. Later, according to the suit, Miss Hagen surrendered the stock to Senator Barbour in return for $2,500. MacVeagh, according to the suit, stopped the monthly $250 payments last March.

Mr. MacVeagh was married in October, 1929, to Miss Zelie Barthelemy, daughter of Antonin Barthelemy, for ten years the French consul general in Chicago.

WAITRESSES FOR JAIL CAFE ASKED BY SHERIF TOMAN

Comely waitresses would replace jail trusties in the restaurant over the county jail warden's office under a plan suggested yesterday by Sherif Toman.

The sherif appeared before the Circuit court committee on help to point out the disadvantages of the present system. The restaurant is for the use of judges, jurors, and visitors to the jail.

"These trusties," he said, "can overhear conversations of judges and jurors and furnish gossip for the jail grapevine system. This might spread dissension or even subvert justice."

Toman also asked to be given control over the jail's mechanical force, which was taken from the sherif after a political fight several years ago, he said. The committee, composed of Judges John Prystalski, Walter J. La Buy, and William V. Brothers, took the requests under advisement.

BEDS ARE TWINS, THREE'S A CROWD; IT'S UP TO JUDGE

Judge Francis B. Allegretti of the Superior court yesterday was asked to pass judgment on the rights and duties of a guest in the home of an estranged couple.

The estranged folk are Charles L. Hall, 6049 North Maplewood avenue, publisher of horse race periodicals, and Mrs. Cathryne Hall, who has pending a suit for separate maintenance. Mr. Hall has requested that his wife be restrained from molesting him.

Attorney George Hicks, representing the husband, told the judge that Mrs. Hall had changed all the locks on the residence, a new one, and that this has prevented completion of the building. Further, Mr. Hicks asserted in behalf of his client, Mrs. Hall humiliated Mr. Hall before a guest.

The guest remained anonymous, but Attorney Irving Breakstone, representing the wife, asserted that he was none other than a bodyguard of Mr. Hall. The publisher, according to Mr. Breakstone, wanted his guard to sleep on a cot placed between his twin bed and Mrs. Hall's.

Judge Allegretti did not legally decide the lengths to which a guest may go, but indicated willingness to enjoin Mrs. Hall from interfering with the home building.

Geyser Spouts from Vents in Honduran Quake Area

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Huge vents in the earth, most of them spouting boiling water 100 feet into the air, were reported today by the official commissioners who inspected the earthquake devastated Copan section. Great volcanic activity was reported, with a constant motorlike subterranean noise. Choking exhalations of smoke and sulphur emanated from the vents.

JURY DEADLOCKS ON COZZI POISON CASE; LOCKED UP

Unable to arrive at a verdict after three and a half hours of deliberation, the jury debating the fate of Lawrence Cozzi, 25 years old, charged with the "sandwich poisoning" murder at the county jail, was locked up at 10:30 o'clock last night on orders of Judge Walter P. Steffen of the Criminal court.

The jurors went to their beds in the jury quarters, after sending word to the judge that they were deadlocked. They will resume deliberations this morning.

The prisoner at the county jail with whose death Cozzi is charged was Rocco Pisano. He died after eating poisoned sandwiches left for Harold Clifford, a cellmate.

Cozzi, who was called to the stand in his own defense, denied that he had left his home on Sept. 30, the day the sandwiches were brought to the jail, or that he knew Joseph Piranio or Charles Konowski, also prisoners in the county jail.

The state had charged Cozzi with a plot to kill Clifford because the latter was to turn state's evidence against Piranio and Konowski in their trial for shooting a Bellwood constable.

Slays Theater Patron for Blocking View of Stage

Near panic spread through an audience of some six hundred in Glickman's Palace theater, 1143 Blue Island avenue, last night when Marcellus Turner, a colored amateur comedian who was sitting in the audience, was shot and killed by a colored woman, Mrs. Ruby Britten, 1227 Hastings street. She told police that she and Turner quarreled because he blocked her view of the stage. Turner, she said, struck her and she drew a pistol from her handbag.

PARTY LEADERS URGE MAYOR TO SEEK NEW TERM

His Decision Is Expected in Ten Days.

Mayor Kelly was presented last night as the candidate of the managing committee of the Democratic party in Chicago to succeed himself as chief executive of the city. Coupled with this was an urgent demand from the party leaders that the mayor make public announcement of his candidacy.

Authority was given to Chairman P. A. Nash to appoint a committee to wait upon the mayor with the insistence of his party that he become a candidate. This committee is to be appointed today, but no time has been set for its meeting with the mayor. While the mayor said yesterday that he had come to no decision yet, it is expected that he will make known his position within the next ten days.

Tell of City's Sentiment.

The action of the committee was taken at a meeting held in the Morrison hotel and attended by the ward committeemen and Democratic officeholders. After the session, the committeemen were given mayoral petitions on which the mayor's name appears. On these will be recorded the signatures required to enter the mayor in the Feb. 26 primary.

Selection of the mayor as the party's choice followed requests of numerous civic and business organizations that he become a candidate, and was in accord with expressions from the committeemen of the sentiment that exists throughout the city.

"In all the history of Chicago," read a statement given out after the session, "there has been no meeting of this committee at which such fine feeling, spirit and enthusiasm were displayed. Every member of the committee made reports on the sentiment of the people of his neighborhood, regardless of party, and the committee was unanimously of the opinion that the people have no one in mind for the office of mayor except Edward J. Kelly.

Record Achievements Cited.

"As representatives of the Democracy of Chicago we are proud to submit a man with such an enviable record of constructive achievement and high character as that of Mayor Kelly. We bespeak for him from the citizens of Chicago, regardless of party, a careful study of his record and a full consideration of the merits of his candidacy. We are confident that the voters will come to but one conclusion and that is his continuance at the helm of Chicago to guide her to her natural destiny as one of the greatest cities in the world."

In a resolution, which was adopted by unanimous vote at the meeting, the mayor was pledged undivided support for his candidacy as evidence of the party's approval of his record and policies. The resolution also contained a summary of the mayor's achievements during his twenty months' incumbency.

"When the mayor assumed office," read the resolution, "the vital problems affecting the progress of the city appeared insolvable. The credit of the city and school board was all but gone, and their liabilities were staggering. Municipal governments were functioning without paying the employés, including teachers, policemen, firemen and health officers.

"The mayor united the forces of civic betterment into a mighty crusade against waste in government and burdensome taxation. In astonishingly short order the credit of our municipality was restored, the employés were paid and their morale reëstablished and strengthened.

"The cost of conducting the affairs of the city and the school board were reduced to the lowest possible figure without impairing in the slightest any vital or necessary function of government. This resulted in a material reduction of taxes.

"This is illustrated by the fact that Mayor Kelly's plan for obtaining funds for the payment of the school teachers not only won the approval of the federal government but was so sound that bankers of Chicago bought from the government at a premium the collateral given by the schools to the government.

No More Begging for Credit.

"The fact is that all the securities of the city and the school board are now selling above par. No longer do these municipalities have to beg for credit. Investors are competing in the purchase of their securities."

The resolution also told of the mayor's drives against crime and for trafic safety, his success in restoring the city to a good reputation throughout the world, the charities that he has fostered, and his leadership in movements for the improvement of general business conditions in the city.

Among those who addressed the committee and urged the endorsement of the mayor as a candidate were State's Attorney Courtney, County Treasurer Sweitzer, Sherif Toman, Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], County Commissioner Elizabeth M. Conkey, Frank V. Zintak, clerk of the Superior court; Joseph L. Gill, clerk of the Municipal court; Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher; Judge John J. Sullivan of the Appellate court; and Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board.

Mayor Kelly was urged to be a candidate to succeed himself by a delegation of business and professional men of the southwest side who called on him yesterday in his office. The delegation, including both Republicans and Democrats, was led by Jasper Atkins, president of the Atkins & Freund department store at 48th street and Ashland avenue.

ALFONSO'S DEAF MUTE SON WILL WED ITALIAN GIRL

Prince Jaime Wins Hand of Noblewoman.

ROME, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Prince Jaime, second son of former King Alfonso of Spain, who relinquished his claim to the fallen Spanish throne because of physical infirmities, has won the hand of an Italian noblewoman, it was disclosed today.

PRINCE JAIME.

His fiancée is 20 year old Emanuela de Dampierre, whose ancestry is partly American.

The betrothal was the climax of three months of whirlwind courtship. Although a deaf mute, the 26 year old scion of royalty pressed his suit fervently until he won both the affections of the charming Donna Emanuela and her family's consent to the match.

Sister's Troth Recalled.

The romance is the second in recent weeks, linking a member of the Spanish royal house with a person of American blood.

Jaime's sister, the Infanta Beatriz, became engaged two months ago to Prince Alessandro Torlonia, son of the former Elsie Moore of New York.

The engagement of Prince Jaime and Donna Emanuela is regarded by Rome society as a genuine love match. Social leaders told of the Spanish prince's persistent wooing from the time he first met Donna Emanuela when his family came here three months ago to establish its winter residence.

Attend Dances Together.

The young couple appeared frequently together on the golf links and at dances. One Rome society matron, who described the prince as exceptionally handsome, said the Roman elite considered him an attraction in their drawing rooms. His lip reading ability and modest manners, she said, placed his acquaintances immediately at ease.

He is, as another described him, "a good golfer, a good horseman, a nice dancer, and intelligent company despite his infirmities."

No Date for Wedding.

The young noblewoman's grandmother is Princess Ruspoli Poggia Suasa of New York. Princess Eugenia Ruspoli, the former Eugenia Berry of New York, is her great-aunt.

Formal announcement of the bethrothal was expected tomorrow. No date has been set for the wedding, but it was known that no plans had been made for a double ceremony at the time of the marriage of Princess Beatriz.

Donna Emanuela's mother tonight confirmed reports of the engagement. The mother is living in Rome in the ancient Casa Ruspoli belonging to their branch of the Ruspoli family. She has been separated from her husband for some time, and the viscount is not in Rome.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Attendants at an Omaha hospital today announced that $600 worth of radium accidentally swallowed Monday by Fidelphio Gibilisco, a cancer patient, has been recovered and returned to the hospital's radium supply. The radium was contained in a small needle tube.

FRAUD CONVICTIONS OF 3 CHICAGO POLLS OFFICIALS REVERSED

Fraud convictions of three Chicago election officials, growing out of the canvass of votes in the November, 1932, election, were reversed and the cases remanded for retrial by the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield yesterday.

The defendants, all officials in the First precinct of the Thirteenth ward, were sentenced a year ago to six months in jail by Acting County Judge Charles T. Allen of Woodstock, who was sitting in the County court here. They are Frank Kotwas, 4930 South Kolin avenue, Democratic judge; John Basner, 4929 South Kolin avenue, Republican judge, and Frank Nies, 5030 South Kolin avenue, Republican clerk.

Manslaughter sentences of one to fourteen years in the penitentiary for Thomas Bolger, 57 years old, 2108 Sheffield avenue; his son, Thomas Jr., and Otis Gibbs, 44, of 2015 Sheffield avenue, were upheld by the Supreme court. They were convicted of beating to death Owen Henry, 35 years old, 3033 Osgood street.

The court also upheld a sentence of one to ten years in the penitentiary for Anthony Brunkala, convicted in Cook county of receiving stolen property.

UPHOLD GASOLINE TAX DIVERSION TO SCHOOL RELIEF

Constitutionality of the diversion of one-third of the state gasoline tax revenue for school purposes was upheld by the Illinois Supreme court yesterday.

At a special session of the legislature last May a law was enacted to permit the revenue diversion for school relief during the period between last July 1 and next March 1. Jesse Werner, owner of a filling station in Springfield, through the Chicago law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, challenged the legality of the new act.

Last July Circuit Judge L. E. Stone in Springfield denied Werner's petition for an injunction to restrain state officials from turning the funds over to the schools. Judge Stone held that the law's constitutionality had been established in the relief bond issue cases, but Werner carried the matter to the higher court.

TUNE PLANES FOR TRANS-PACIFIC MAIL FLIGHTS

Service Over Both Oceans Depends on High Speed.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Coral Gables, Fla., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Final naming of pilots, navigators, and mechanics who are to open the first trans-Pacific and trans-Atlantic passenger and mail service in flying boats is proceeding here at the Caribbean base of Pan-American Airways system on Biscayne bay. Operations officials who are in possession of authentic information say that the first flights are to be made from California to Canton, China, early in February.

Technical problems of communication, navigation, proper flying equipment which at the same time is seaworthy have been solved, according to Edward P. Critcherly, chief of operations for the company. The regular service over both oceans—predicted by farsighted aviation experts for years—is dependent now only upon delivery of a fleet of nine more high speed, high performance, long range ships of the type of the Brazilian clipper, Sikorsky S-42, which set ten world records for speed and load carrying capacity after it was delivered last summer.

Insist on Flight Training.

"Just now we are sending our radio operators and navigators, and our mechanics through flight training," said Critcherly. "We expect to have every one of the four members of our crews on the trans-oceanic hops take the controls in regular watches.

"Our chief pilots, or captains, and the navigators are getting final instructions in navigation on long over water hops. We do not have the radio beam even now when our longest ocean flight is 600 miles between Kingston, Jamaica, and Barranquilla, Colombia."

Critcherly explained that the beam is renewed by radio stations every 100 miles on the domestic lines. Over water there are no facilities for economical operations of beams and so the navigators on the company's flying boats built a radio homing device called a goniometer. With it they can pick up radio stations on shore or on boats and by triangulating the directions from any two stations determine their own position. The goniometer has a range varying from 500 to 800 miles.

3,200 Mile Nonstop Flight.

All the new flying boats, which carry from 20 to 30 passengers and enough fuel for a 3,200 mile nonstop flight, are being equipped with this navigational device, an electric instrument to make possible synchronization of engines to within one revolution per minute, advanced types of sextants and octants, new drift indicators to measure surface speed over water, and long range short wave two way conversational radio.

"These new boats are capable of flying 1,000 miles further than the distance between Bermuda and Azores and 600 miles further than the distance from California to Hawaii," said Critcherly, who was a member of England's secret independent air force during the world war.

"We've decided that flights of 2,500 miles present no different problems than those faced in 600 mile hops. Given a ship with sufficient range to be able to fly above or around hurricanes, or through thick weather—and the latter is no difficulty now—we can start flying tomorrow.

"We won't do that because we feel that absolute safety of operation calls for some experience. Experimental flights will begin soon, probably out of Los Angeles or San Diego to Hawaii and Canton. After we've flown the route a couple of months and have learned something about the weather we can expect to meet, we may begin scheduled operation."

Add to Cost of Operation.

Pan-American officials do not feel that seadromes or intermediate ships like the Westphalen used by the Luft-Hansa on the German air lines, its south Atlantic mail run, are practical, they say that intermediate add to danger, delay, and cost of operation.

The second of the new type boats, a Sikorsky now designed clipper No. 5, is to be delivered soon. Its first operation will be an over water flight, out of sight of land, from Bridgeport to Miami. Afterward it will be flown for several weeks on long distance ocean hops out of the Miami base before being taken to California for the opening of the test service.

Hearings to Start Jan. 3 on 1933 Tax Complaints

The first hearing on complaints filed against the 1933 real estate tax bills will be held Jan. 3, it was announced yesterday by Fred W. Brummel and Emmett Whealan, members of the board of tax appeals. Taxpayers have until Jan. 31 to file complaints to their 1933 bills.

ALL FIRST CLASS BRITISH EMPIRE MAIL TO GO BY AIR

Plan Standard Rate of 3 Cents.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A vast plan to transport all first class mail by airplane between Great Britain and the empire countries at the standard first class rate of 3 cents for each half ounce was announced today in the house of commons by Sir Philip Sassoon, undersecretary for air.

Time schedules are going to be speeded up, he said, so that mail will reach India in just over two days, East Africa in two days and a half, Cape Town in four days, Singapore in four days, and Australia in seven days. There will be four or five services weekly to India, three to Singapore and East Africa, and two to Australia and South Africa.

Start Service in 2 Years.

The plan will be put in operation two years hence. New and faster airplanes will be built, details worked out with dominion governments, and airports improved so as to permit night as well as day landings and takeoffs.

Sir Philip made no reference to trans-Atlantic service, though there are many rumors that such a route is planned and three British firms are reported building special airplanes for ocean trips.

Tells Advance in Speed.

Postoffice authorities pointed out just what the improved service means. Six years ago it was impossible to send a letter to India under 14 days; to South Africa under 17. The minimum time to Australia was from 26 to 31 days, depending on the destination. The present air service gets to India in six days, to South Africa in 10, and to Australia in 12 or 14.

When the new project is started it will be possible to mail a letter in London the first of the month and get an answer from Australia by the 15th or 16th.

RICHARD DU PONTS MAROONED 8 HOURS IN PLANE IN SOUTH

Miami, Fla., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard du Pont, socially prominent Wilmington, Del., aviation enthusiasts, spent more than eight hours marooned in their plane in the Everglades before an army tractor rescued them.

Mrs. du Pont said they landed yesterday afternoon intending to hunt, but had "picked an unfortunate spot for it" and could not take off again.

Searching planes located them at a point about forty-five miles from Miami and word of their plight was relayed to Chapman field, an army base. The tractor pushed its way to the plane.

Mrs. du Pont said she and her husband experienced no discomfiture because of the long wait.

'Ulm Plane' Parts Turn Out to Be Those of Naval Craft

'GERM' CONVICTS STEP INTO NEW WORLD, FREEDOM

One Tells of Experiment with Serum.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A pair of prisoners, gray-haired yet ignorant of the ways of a new world, today stepped gingerly into freedom won by successfully demonstrating an anti-tuberculosis serum at the peril of their lives.

Mike Schmidt, 53, younger of the two life termers, came back to Denver by motor car from the Canon City prison, awed by the bustle of a city of 300,000 he had left thirteen years before. Carl Erickson, 68 year old convicted wife slayer, preferred a train to carry him toward a mining claim he believes will yield pay dirt.

Tells Experiment Story.

Schmidt told his story of the experiment.

"Well, they came to us—the doctors and the prison men—just eight months ago," said Schmidt. "They went over this chance. They told us how we might die and how we might live and get out free if this medicine worked against tuberculosis.

"First, they gave us the medicine, [the serum] in twelve shots in one day and the same day they put the tuberculosis germs [bacilli] into us. Both arms were used.

"But I wasn't scared. They told us how we might help others.

"When they took us to the hospital for this test business they treated us fine. Yes, I was a little sick, but not much. My arms were sore, yes.

Gains Thirty Pounds.

"But that didn't last long. After some months, I don't know how many, I even gained weight. See, I gained thirty pounds."

"I was glad to do it," was Erickson's chief remark.

When Schmidt got to Denver he started to look for relatives, but he was silent on his family plans. His imprisonment resulted from an assault charge in which a daughter was the complainant.

AIR LINE COMPLETES 75 MILLIONTH MILE OF REGULAR SERVICE

Airplanes operated by United Air Lines yesterday completed their 75,000,000th mile in regularly scheduled operations, it was announced by W. A. Patterson, president.

Of this total, he said, 14,000,000 miles were added this year. "United Air Lines," he said, "thus becomes the first aviation company to compile such a distance record for routine flights."

The company's planes have, during their eight years of operation, carried nearly 500,000 passengers, 13,000 tons—more than a billion pieces—of mail, and 1,000 tons of express, Patterson said.

Santa Loses Part of His Aplomb Along with Pants

Saratoga, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A good time was had by all the Rebekah lodge Christmas party—that is all but Santa Claus. Santa—Judge Martin B. Cain—jingled into the hall with a flourish that snapped the string of his red breeches. His long white beard precluded his seeing the catastrophe. The audience cheered and Santa bowed. The pants bowed too, to his ankles in fact, when Mrs. Santa dashed to the rescue.

ICKES TO REFUSE PWA FUNDS FOR LAKE AIR FIELD

Rickenbacker Hits Stand After Miami Flight.

A party of air enthusiasts piloted from Miami by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker arrived in Chicago during the snowstorm yesterday afternoon and when they gathered at the Congress hotel for a celebration they discovered that plans for the city's lake front airport had received another snub.

The snub came from Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. A Washington dispatch said that Ickes, also head of the Federal Public Works administration, had indicated that the application for a PWA loan of $8,600,000 for the lake front landing field would not be approved. He said he understood that a special commission appointed to study the project was unfavorable toward it.

Lose Time Gained.

Capt. Rickenbacker frowned as he read the dispatch. "Well," he said, "we covered the last 300 miles of our flight to the Chicago airport [63d street and Cicero avenue] in an hour and a half despite a blinding snowstorm. Then it took us an hour and a half to go from the airport to the loop.

"A simple incident like this should be sufficient to show the great need for the central airport off the lake shore. It is most unfortunate that officials think otherwise. The citizens of Chicago, if they are not given the PWA funds, undoubtedly will build the airport themselves some day, but it is needed now."

Merrill C. Meigs, a member of the survey commission, was present at the hotel dinner and stated that the group had not voted one way or other on the project. He declared that the lake front airport would be of immense commercial value to Chicago and that he had always been for it.

Ickes Men on Commission.

The commission, appointed several months go, contained two members named by Mayor Kelly, Meigs and John Wentworth, and three selected by Ickes, Kellogg Fairbank, Henry P. Chandler and F. J. C. Dresser, Chandler and Fairbank would not comment on the situation last night and Wentworth and Dresser could not be reached.

Among those at the Rickenbacker dinner were Mayor Kelly, State's Attorney Courtney, and James B. McCahey, president of the board of education.

Meet Headwinds, Snow.

The elapsed time was 7 hours and 40 minutes, the party stopping 30 minutes for lunch at Atlanta, Ga. The regular passenger schedule will be 8 hours and 40 minutes. The plane left Miami in clear weather with no rain or fog. Blustery headwinds were encountered north of Atlanta and snow began 300 miles from Chicago. During the flight the ship was flown by Capt. Rickenbacker, Pilot Bob Chew and Co-Pilot E. C. Davis. All took turns at the controls of the big, low winged monoplane.

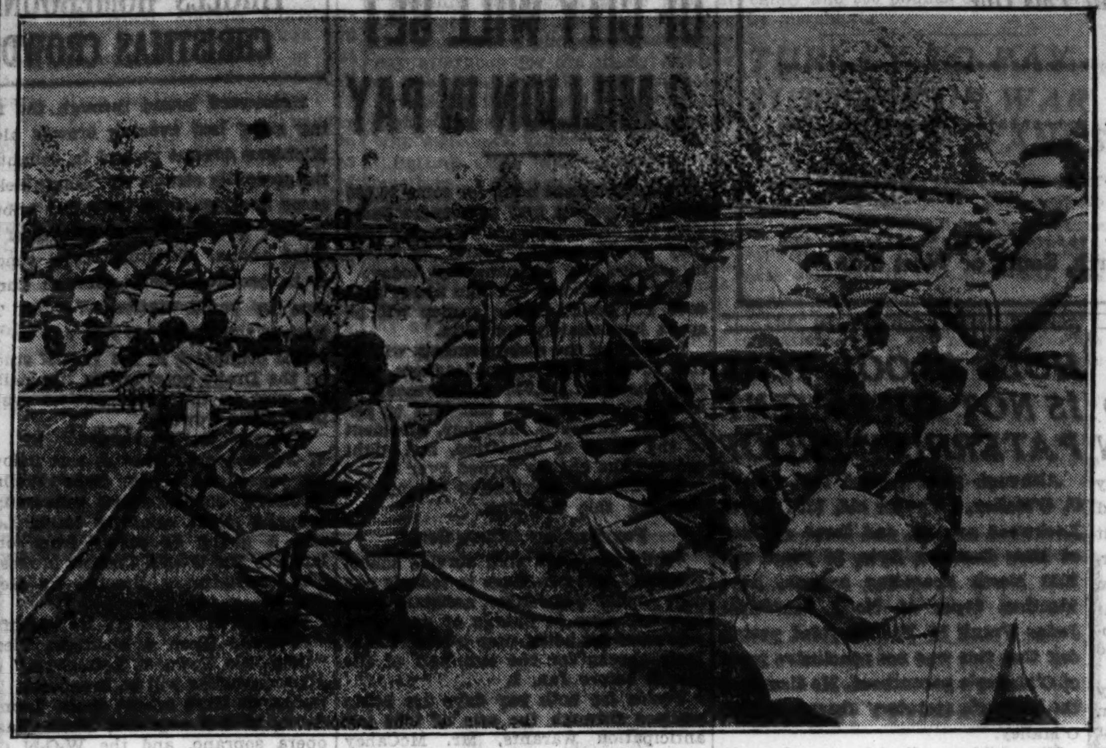
The passenger list included Mayor E. G. Sewell of Miami and several newspaper executives and reporters. Mayor Sewell had a number of remarks to make about the advantages of Florida weather when he arrived in the city.

They were met at the airport by Miss Elsie Weems, Florida beauty recently chosen as Miss Miami. She arrived in Chicago during the day by train and will take part in the ceremonies at the opening of an official Miami travel bureau here today.

FOUND DEAD FROM GAS.

Jerry Hynek, 59 years old, 2245 Wesley avenue, Berwyn, was found dead of monoxide gas poisoning in a garage behind his home yesterday.

Center of Row Between Italy and Abyssinia



Abyssinian troops such as these engaged a detachment of Italian troops, who according to the Africans, occupied a section of Ethiopian territory adjacent to Italian Somaliland and there opened fire upon the Ethiopians. Premier Mussolini declares the Abyssinians provoked Italian troops who were acting within their rights. Thirty-five Italians and 110 Ethiopians were reported killed or wounded.

DR. WYNEKOOP'S APPEAL DENIED IN SUPREME COURT

The 25 year sentence of Dr. Alice Wynekoop for the murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, was upheld yesterday by the Illinois Supreme court. The court refused her request for a reversal of the verdict or a new trial.

Dr. Wynekoop is now an inmate of the woman's reformatory at Dwight, where she was imprisoned after her conviction in the Cook county Criminal court last winter.

Court Suggests Possible Motive.

"A review of all the evidence causes us to refrain from disturbing the verdict of the jury," said the Supreme court decision. "Aside from the unhappy financial and domestic conditions which might have motivated the crime, and the failure to establish an alibi, the defense that the premises had been broken into is not supported by any evidence."

The high court directed attention to the inspection by police of the Wynekoop mansion at 3406 Monroe street after the discovery of the body of Rheta, shot once through the back, on an operating table in the basement the night of Nov. 21, 1933. All windows and doors were locked with no indication of forcible entry, the opinion said.

Verdict Held Not Unreasonable.

"We have repeatedly held," said the court, "that we will not disturb a verdict of guilty or reverse a judgment of conviction unless the verdict is palpably contrary to the weight of evidence or unreasonable. In this case the verdict is not so."

Miss Helen Hazard, superintendent of the Dwight reformatory, said yesterday that she had not been officially notified of the court decision, and so had not informed Dr. Wynekoop. The doctor, she said, was in frail health and spent most of her time sewing in her room, with occasional visits to the solarium.

LAUNCH BIGGEST AIRLINER FOR ITS FIRST TRIP

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The giant flying clipper No. 7, built for trans-Pacific service, successfully was launched here today in preparation for its first flight.

The air liner was the first of three similar planes being built by the Glenn L. Martin company for the Pan-American for service across the Pacific.

The flying clipper No. 7, the largest flying boat ever built in America, took to the water as two tractors moved it down the ramp into Dark Head creek.

The air liner has accommodations for 48 passengers and a crew of six. It has a gally, a clubroom, and a sleeping room. The gross weight is 51,000 pounds. Its top speed is estimated at 180 miles an hour.

MRS. SCHAFFNER'S SLIPPER IS FOUND IN COVE SEAWEED

Strengthens Theory of Suicide in Bay.

Carmel, Cal., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Searchers tonight found meshed in the floating kelp of Cooke's cove, Carmel bay, a slipper identified as belonging to Mrs. Eliot Boke Schaffner, 36, missing Chicago society matron and wife of Joseph Schaffner, a director of the clothing firm of Hart, Schaffner & Marx.

Chief August Englund of the Carmel police asserted that the discovery strengthened his department's belief that the society woman had thrown herself into the bay. Nevertheless, he said, the foot-by-foot search being conducted by United States soldiers, airplanes, civic authorities, and art colonists would continue. At the request of the missing woman's husband, E. O. Heinrich of Berkeley, Cal., arrived to take personal charge of the search.

Find Print of Bare Foot.

Another theory supporting the contention that Mrs. Schaffner had gone to her death in the bay was the discovery of the print of a bare foot on the sandy ocean side.

The intensive search was still pressed tonight to remove any possible doubt that she might be dying of exhaustion or illness in the rugged country near her home. Police throughout California were also notified to look for her on the possibility that she might have been an amnesia victim.

Reveal Divorce Record.

Meanwhile, it was learned from records in the county clerk's office that the missing woman, nee Eliot Boke, had married Walter J. Coburn, noted Carmel author, on Dec. 8, 1925, and divorced him on sensational charges after they had lived together only three weeks.

The records revealed that Mrs. Coburn had said they separated after her enemies told her husband she was unfaithful, used drugs and drank heavily. Coburn repeated these things to Carmel residents, saying he was inveigled into marrying her and was intoxicated when the ceremony was performed, Mrs. Coburn had said in her petition. A divorce decree was entered June 28, 1926.

Flies Amphibian Plane at 189 Miles an Hour

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander E. F. Stone of the coast guard, today flew an amphibian plane over a course at Grand View on Chesapeake bay at 189 miles an hour to set a new world's record for that type of plane, it was learned at coast guard headquarters here tonight. The former record was 177 miles an hour.

U. S. Agents Seize School Boy in Extortion Plot

John Bekwof, 15 years old, 1200 Jefferson street, Gary, was arrested last night by federal agents on a charge of extortion. He admitted that he had written two notes to Anthony Koslowsky, owner of a saloon at 1550 Jefferson street, Gary, demanding $75. The arrest was made when Beckwof, an eighth grade pupil, went to the saloon. His notes had threatened death for Koslowsky's son.

GOOD FELLOWS GET HELP FROM ONE THEY AIDED

Meager Savings Used to Bring Cheer.

A timid little man came into the Good Fellow department in THE TRIBUNE's Public Service office at 1 South Dearborn street yesterday. The girl behind the counter recognized him and smiled.

"We're all getting ready for Christmas again," she said. "The Good Fellows will take care of you again as they did last year and the year before. How is the little boy?"

"He's a lot bigger this year," the little man told her, "but he's never going to stop believing in Santa Claus. Not after all those nice things the Good Fellows have given him."

Not on List This Year.

"Just a minute. I'll find your name and put you down for another basket this year," the girl said, and she reached for her list.

"Please." He reached across the counter and stayed her hand. "It won't be necessary. You won't find my name on the list." He drew himself up to his full five feet seven.

"This year I'm going to be a Good Fellow myself," he declared. The girl didn't say anything. She knew it was one of the proudest moments of his life.

Times Better This Year.

"Last Christmas and for two years before that I didn't have a job," the little man said, "and all through that time we were in want. Christmas was our bright spot of the year, because of the Good Fellows.

"This year things have been a little better. I got a job in a factory. Not the best job in the world, but it pays enough to keep us together. And I saved a little. The wife and I talked it over last night and decided we could, in fact we must, use some of those savings to help another family this year. Do you know of anybody I can help?"

"Do I!" the girl exclaimed. "I certainly do. I remember where you live and there's a family just around the corner on our list this year."

She gave him the name and address.

Wants to Be Anonymous.

"O, I know them," he said. "That poor fellow has been out of work longer than I was. But I don't want him to know I'm doing this."

He gave the girl several dollar bills from a torn old wallet.

"You take care of it," he requested, and smiled. "After all I'm a little bit short to be Santa Claus in person."

The girl watched him, her eyes shining, as he walked out.

This is only one of the instances in the story of the Good Fellows and their happy adventure at Christmas time. It's so easy to join with them and it costs so little. Names of deserving families to whom baskets can be delivered can be obtained by calling the Good Fellow Department any week day between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. The telephone number is Superior 0100.

The families have been investigated and their needs determined by the Christmas Clearing House of the Council of Social Agencies. If a Good Fellow desires he can give the location and size of the family he wishes to aid. A Good Fellow coupon is published in an adjoining column.

Bandit Trio Threatens 14, Robs Rail Office of $1,900

Three armed men forced E. R. Kelly, superintendent for the Illinois Northern Railway company, and 13 other employés, including three women, to lie on the floor at the yard offices yesterday at 2610 South Western avenue, and escaped with a $1,900 pay roll delivered at the office an hour before. The bandit leader, wearing a mask, threatened death to Michael Doomes, 2315 West 24th street, the cashier, unless he opened the office safe and handed over the money.

BEGIN CLOTHING DISTRIBUTION TO 50,000 CHILDREN

Distribution of garments to needy boys and girls from the funds obtained by Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit started yesterday. Mayor Kelly, chairman of the drive which culminated in the "Night of Stars" Wednesday at the Chicago Stadium, declared that approximately $200,000 had been raised to clothe 50,000 youngsters.

The clothing will be distributed by ward organizations under the direction of social service workers. Last year 33,000 children received clothing from the benefit program.

Handling of the funds at the headquarters, 33 North La Salle street, has been under the supervision of the George W. Rossetter accounting concern. It was announced that a statement on the money collected, how it was spent on clothing and other details will be published by the accounting organization.

ROBBED OF WHISKY LADEN AUTO.

Alfred Garfield, 3605 West 13th street, a chauffeur for a wholesale liquor company, was robbed of his automobile and twelve cases of whisky by an armed man last night at Dearborn and Kinzie streets. The liquor was valued at $400.

HOLD BLOOD TEST IS NOT SUFFICIENT PATERNITY PROOF

Although tests showed that Joseph C. O'Malley, 26 years old, 1158 North Lockwood avenue, and three children of Miss Casimira Dyle, 26 years old, 1039 North Spaulding avenue, have identical types of blood, Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden ruled yesterday that this was not conclusive proof of O'Malley's parenthood. He dismissed the mother's statutory charge against O'Malley.

The children, all girls, were born in 1928, 1931 and 1933. At an earlier hearing Dr. J. J. Moore and Dr. J. B. DeLee were asked to make blood tests. Yesterday they reported that O'Malley and the three girls had the same blood count. They added, however, that one in every four persons has this type of blood, and said the tests proved merely that O'Malley could have been the father.

O'Malley produced testimony to show that Miss Dyle had obtained a warant for his arrest on a similar charge before her second child was born, but had reported inability to obtain service.

20,000 TOILERS OF CITY WILL GET 2 MILLION IN PAY

Glad Christmas news for some 20,000 public employés and pensioners came with the announcement yesterday that they would receive nearly $2,000,000 in salaries and compensation today.

The checks will average about $100 each and much of the money will be spent immediately for gifts.

Largest of the disbursements will be that to the 14,000 school teachers, who will share $1,525,530 in payment of their salaries for the last half of December. James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, last night ordered the checks turned over to the principals for distribution among the teachers this morning.

Pay Day for Others Soon.

While the 4,000 civil service school employés will not share in today's pay day, Arthur Schweitzer, assistant business manager in charge of pay rolls, expressed his belief they would receive their checks for the last half of the month before Jan. 1.

Funds for both pay days are being realized through the sale of 1934 tax anticipation warants, Mr. McCahey said.

The 4,200 county employés also will receive today their salary checks for the first two weeks in December. They will total $375,000 and will average nearly $90 each, according to County Treasurer Robert M. Sweitzer.

The treasurer also announced that the 1,200 blind pensioners will receive checks totaling $119,000, which will be placed in the mail today. The checks, averaging nearly $100 each, will pay the blind dependents for the last quarter of 1934.

Civil Service Pay Day.

About 15,000 civil service employés of the city are now receiving approximately $3,000,000 in salaries, which will pay them up to Jan. 1. The pay day began Tuesday.

Even the county taxing bodies shared in the Christmas disbursements. The county treasurer yesterday distributed $2,247,500 in tax collections to the various governing bodies. Of this sum the city got the largest share, $1,400,000. Most of it, $1,590,000, was realized through the first collections on the 1933 tax bills, the remainder coming as payments on previous tax bills.

W-G-N CAROL PROGRAM THRILLS HOMEBOUND CHRISTMAS CROWDS

Homeward bound through the falling snow last evening crowds along Michigan avenue paused in delight as the sprightly strains of "Jingle Bells" came floating down from the Tribune Tower. It was the first number of the third annual Christmas carol concert to be broadcast daily through Christmas by radio station W-G-N. The time of the concert is 5 to 6 p. m. The music originates in the W-G-N studios on the Drake hotel and is transmitted by wire to the loud speaker system in Tribune Tower.

"Jingle Bells," played by the W-G-N concert orchestra was followed by organ music by Gabe Wellner, carols by Northwestern university a cappella choir, solos by Mark Love, and a group of carols from other lands by the W-G-N Concert orchestra. The orchestra is directed by Henry Weber.

Tonight "O Come All Ye Faithful," "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," and other favorites will be broadcast. The Roosevelt High school choir, Leonard Salvo, W-G-N organist; Edith Mason, opera soprano, and the W-G-N Concert orchestra will be on the program.

CITY'S CHILDREN LAUNCH HOLIDAY MERRYMAKING

School Parties Are Held; Needy Entertained.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

Chicago's younger folk began a merry celebration of the Christmas holidays yesterday with parties in many of the public schools and in institutions for the handicapped or needy. Holly and evergreen were hung, Christmas trees were gay with tinsel and colored lights, and Santa Claus in fur trimmed suit of red was on hand to pass out gifts to all.

Before their merrymaking, however, the school children arranged Christmas cheer for 4,439 needy families and individuals many baskets, boxes, and Christmas stockings being delivered during the day. Children of 141 elementary schools supplied 2,842 baskets and high school pupils gave 1,597 baskets and gift boxes. The recipients included inmates of the Oak Forest infirmary and patients in the Children's Memorial hospital.

In the high schools, Christmas assembles with plays and carol singing were held yesterday and will be repeated today. At Englewood High school, "The Toy Shop" and "When the Chimes Ring" were presented in assembly by pupils. At Senn High school the glee club, assisted by the a cappella choir, gave a recital of carols of all lands.

Turkey Dinners Provided.

A turkey dinner at the Moseley School for Boys was provided by the Chicago Woman's aid, and a play, "The Night Before Christmas," was given by the boys, who made the scenery and coached the production. The Montefiore School for Boys was entertained by the Chicago Woman's club.

The South Central Kiwanis club entertained 300 children at the Haven school, 1472 South Wabash avenue, with a turkey dinner, fruit, and candy.

A thousand children of the Spalding School for Crippled Children, Ashland avenue and Washington boulevard, were given an entertainment by the Mid-Town Kiwanis club. At the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium the Parent-Teacher association of the Peterson school called with toys for 130 child inmates. Last night the Big Sisters served Christmas dinner and gave a party for hundreds of poor children in the neighborhood of St. Dominic's school, 357 West Locust street. Also last night Mrs. Santa helped C. Benson Dushane, new president, distribute gifts to the small boys of the North Side Boys' club, 210 West Sigel street.

Children Sing Carols in Hotel.

In the Hotel Stevens Christmas carols were sung by 150 children and members of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the annual party given by the Daughters.

The first of a number of holiday parties in the city hall wes held in the civil service commission offices with John P. Harding, president of the commission, as host. There was turkey and everything that goes with it, even to coffee and dessert, for 30 employés, served in Mr. Harding's private office.

More than 1,600 members and friends of the Federated Advertising Clubs of Chicago attended their annual Christmas benefit luncheon in the Stevens hotel for the Off-the-Street club, 1534 West Van Buren street.

Goal of Fund Is $3,000.

Night club, theater, radio, and other entertainers, including Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, Marjorie Maxwell, Lawrence Salerno of W-G-N, were on the program and were introduced by Frank McClure, president of the club. It was expected that $3,000 would be raised through the benefit.

Seventh and eighth grade girls in the Rogers Park district who compose the Glenoa club will give a party Sunday afternoon for 500 needy children at the Sodality hall, 11th and May streets. A feature will be a children's band of 6 year olds, and a Santa Claus will distribute gifts.

Putting aside their business cares, members of the Church Club of Chicago played Santa Clauses last night to 1,000 needy children at a dinner in the Hotel Sherman. From all over town, some in shiny limousines, came youngsters for this annual Christmas benefit, each represented business acting as host to eight children.

Boy Patrols to Hold Party.

The boys who guard the safety of school mates at street crossings will have a party of their own tonight at the Hotel Pershing, sponsored by the School Boys' Patrol association and the Fort Dearborn post No. 268 of the American Legion.

Today 600 children and 200 mothers will be the guests of the social service department of the Domestic Relations courts. Judges and other officials will distribute 600 toys, 1,000 pounds of candy and 500 pounds of fruit donated by merchants.

TURKEY TO PAY $1,300,000 ON WAR CLAIMS OF YANKS

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Payment of $1,300,000 to American citizens, in settlement of their claims against Turkey for property and business damaged in the world war, was agreed upon today.

The agreement, signed by representatives of the two nations, provides that payments shall be made in three annuities without interest.

Claims against Turkey for property damage were presented by 405 American citizens. The claims were examined by a mixed commission on which Fred K. Nielsen and John W. Connelly were the American representatives.

U. S. GIRL TELLS HER ROLE IN NAZI ATTACK ON JEWS

Says Doctor's Remarks Were Twisted.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—An American girl from Virginia, just out of her teens, today told how she was caught in the web of the Nazis' anti-Jewish campaign and how her words are being used to ruin Dr. Fritz Meyer, noted physician, and his entire family.

The official newspaper Angriff, which has been pushing the campaign, claims the doctor, his wife and one of his daughters have escaped from Germany. His friends, however, fear he is in "protective custody."

Storm Troopers descended on his home and office today, terrorizing the persons left there—all because the doctor is supposed to have told the American girl that "It is bad taste to study in Germany."

U. S. Girl's Story.

The young American gave her version tonight.

"I had been sick with influenza for six weeks," she said. "I was still lying in bed when two men entered my room and started to cross-examine me about my visit to Dr. Meyer and the things he said. They had a long list of things he was supposed to have said. They were awful. They had involved him terribly.

"I told them he never said anything as violent as what they had written down. I corrected them and what I said cannot possibly mean trouble to the doctor."

She said she felt sure she had signed no statement, but admitted she was still very weak from fever when the men, whom she could not identify, quizzed her.

Recommended by Dodd.

Dr. Meyer had been consulted on the recommendation of United States Ambassador William E. Dodd, the girl said. She added that she told her mother and two German friends that Dr. Meyer was not very impressed with her idea of studying in Germany.

Der Angriff today carried two columns of denunciation of the doctor. Continuing its efforts to involve Americans in the anti-Jewish campaign, the paper published an anonymous letter of an alleged American praising the attack on the Jews and concluding with the Nazi salution, "German greetings, Heil Hitler."

LAND TO BE SOLD FOR TAXES.

Muscatine, Ia., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Muscatine county's largest list of delinquent tax properties, 926 parcels, including many farms, will be offered for sale here Jan. 7.

THREE MEN WHO WERE PILLORIED FILE SUIT AGAINST OFFICIALS

Paintsville, Ky., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The three men who were chained to posts here Dec. 5 because they refused to work out fines for drunkenness, today sued the officers who ordered them pilloried for a total of $75,000 damages.

Each of the three men, who were still in jail tonight because they have not yet agreed to work out their fines, through attorneys filed a separate suit asking $25,000 damages.

SEIZE 4 YOUTHS; RECOVER STOLEN TRUCKS AND LOOT

The prisoners are John Schmidt, 18 years old, 1701 Sedgwick street; Joseph Pult, 18 years old, of 1705 Sedgwick street; Michael Manners, 21 years old, 454 Deming place, and Anthony Savor, 21 years old, of 2944 South Michigan avenue.

Both trucks and merchandise, including one fur coat, with a total value of $350, were recovered. The second truck contained a part of the stolen goods and the rest was in the basement of Pult's home.

TAILOR DISPUTES CLAIM; ROBBED OF $2,500 IN GOODS

Two men entered the tailor shop of Max Raffeld at 310 East Pershing road last night.

"I came for my pants," said one.

"Your pants," said Raffeld, "are not here. You never had any pants here."

"Because you keep arguing with me," announced the caller, drawing a pistol, "I intend to take plenty of pants."

Thrusting the tailor in a rear room, the robber took $45 from the cash register and his companion carried out garments and bolts of cloth valued at $2,500.

SAAR GETS NEW CHIEF OF POLICE; BRITON OUSTED

Shooting Scrape Causes Knox to Act.

SAARBRUECKEN, The Saar, Dec. 20.—(AP)—A street shooting scrape Sunday involving one of his police officers today forced Capt. Arthur G. Hemsley, giant Englishman, out of the command of the Saar civil police.

Col. Geoffrey G. Knox, president of the league of nations commission governing the Saar basin, accepted the resignation Hemsley presented shortly after the incident, and appointed Maj. Arthur Hennessey, who has been attached to Knox's office for several months, to replace him.

Will Testify for Justice.

Hemsley said he would remain in the Saar, however, to testify for Capt. James Justice, the British police officer who was badly beaten by a mob Sunday after his automobile careened over a sidewalk and struck a woman. In the mêlée Justice fired his gun, injuring a member of the mob. The trial probably will not be held until after Christmas.

The exact nature of the charges against Justice was not revealed, but Hemsley indicated they probably would be misuse of firearms and reckless driving.

Friends of the ousted police head, meanwhile, were busy seeking to clear him of the Nazi-voiced charges that he danced on a table at the night club party that preceded the automobile accident.

Italian Soldiers Arrive.

A detachment of 40 Italian soldiers, the vanguard of 1,500 troops Benito Mussolini will send as his share of the league's plebiscite army, reached the Saar today, bringing with them supplies of spaghetti, blankets and motor trucks. Like the earlier arriving British Tommies, the Italians kept off the main streets of Saarbruecken.

The plebiscite commission, hoping to have the basin nice and quiet for Santa Claus' visit, tonight invited all newspaper editors to accept the five-day truce agreed upon yesterday by the various political factions.

The governing commission tonight asked the German foreign office to obtain the release of Ernest Braun, 25 year old leader of the Saar Socialist youth, who was arrested yesterday along the Saar frontier for peddling socialist propaganda.

HIGH NAZI COURT ORDERS WILHELM TO PAY $100,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—The German Supreme court at Leipzig today ordered former Kaiser Wilhelm to pay $100,000 to the Goldschmidt Rothschild company, a Berlin bank, in settlement of the institution's claims. The former kaiser repeatedly recognized the claims as justified, but refused to pay because he considered himself "cheated by the bank." The court also rejected his charge that the bank failed in its obligation toward its client.

The suit dates back to 1928 when the former ruler's treasurer purchased 17 per cent of the capital stock of a German machine company at a price far above the bourse quotation under the condition that the shares remained in care of the bank for at least six years. When the former emperor was informed of the deal he sued the bank for failing to inform him personally of the deal.

FRENCH PREMIER FIGHTS TO AVERT AUTO FIRM CRASH

U. S. Concern Brings Bankruptcy Action.

PARIS, Dec. 20. — (AP) — Premier Pierre-Entienne Flandin bent his energies today toward obtaining financial assistance to prevent the collapse of Andre Citroen's vast automotive enterprises.

Government officials expressed fears failure of the Citroen interests would shake the country's entire economic structure.

It was indicated by an official of the tribunal of commerce that a receivership would be arranged in an effort to avert bankruptcy. Twenty thousand workers would be thrown out of employment by suspension of the plant's operations and an estimated 30,000 more connected with tributary enterprises would be affected.

Seeks Private Capital.

Premier Flandin indicated that private capital would be sought to rescue the company as the government is opposed to putting taxpayers' money into private industry.

Citroen, who introduced American automobile manufacturing processes in France, was in conference with cabinet officers during part of the day. He filed a petition for a receivership while one of his creditors asked a court to place the firm in bankruptcy.

(It was reported late in October that the Michelin Tire company, one of the largest creditors, had agreed to underwrite the Citroen company's debts for three months under certain conditions. Apparently this deal has fallen through.)

Receivership proceedings were directed only at the parent company, but thirteen subsidiaries and six affiliated corporations are largely dependent upon it.

U. S. Firm Files Action.

French agents of a United States concern, the American Wood Rim company, instituted the bankruptcy proceedings.

Several plans to rescue the company have failed in recent months because Citroen, who made the 2,000,000,000 franc (approximately $130,000,000) company a "one man" concern, declined to confine himself to manufacturing and allow banks and creditors to handle the finances.

TOKIO, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Vernacular press reports from Jeijo, Corea, said today 91 Coreans had been arrested on charges of conspiring to overthrow Japanese rule in Corea.

CRANDALL MAY TESTIFY FOR U. S. IN MAIL FRAUD

Rumor persisted yesterday in the United States courthouse that Attorney Ralph G. Crandall, former vice president of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company, is seeking a severance to testify for the government in the mail fraud case against other officials of the company.

Crandall, Frank P. Parish, former president of the company; S. J. Madden of Kansas City, and James McManmon of Chicago are charged with using the mails to defraud in the sale of stock of the company. The motion for a severance in behalf of Crandall was continued yesterday until Jan. 2.

Assistant United States Attorneys Horace A. Hagen and Warren G. Canaday left yesterday for Washington to confer with the attorney general on the case. They refused to comment on the report that Crandall is seeking leniency in return for prosecution testimony.

CANADIANS PLAN TO SPEED FLOW OF LAKES WATER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 20.—A committee of Canadian government experts in daily sessions here is considering ways and means of bringing greater volumes of water down from Lake Superior to the St. Lawrence to meet the problem of low water levels in the river channel and canals.

The scheme is being contemplated along with plans for damming and weiring the river below Montreal to within a short distance of Quebec with a view to rectifying water levels. The idea in connection with the hurrying of water down from Lake Superior involves the building of similar weirs or dams in the connecting links between Lakes Huron and Erie.

The United States government is known to be keenly interested in the deliberations of the Canadians, but whether formal protest or representation has been filed is not known here.

PARLEY TO END DOUBLE TAXING ROOSEVELT AIM

Morgenthau to Duplicate House Study.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Specia.]—In an effort to eliminate double taxation, President Roosevelt probably will call a national conference of federal, state, and local taxing authorities next summer, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau announced here today.

First step in this direction was taken by the President when he ordered Secretary Morgenthau to make a study of tax duplications. By an ironical twist of fate, the treasury's study itself will be a duplication of a similar study recently made by the ways and means committee of the house of representatives.

Finds 326 Cases in Point.

This house committee found 326 instances of duplicating taxation by the federal and state governments, both sovereignties reaching into the taxpayers' pocketbook on the same excuse. The gasoline tax had the worst record with 48 states and the federal government levying taxes on the motorist. Other flagrant instances of double taxation were:

Admissions taxes, levied by 23 states and the federal government; corporation income taxes, levied by 20 states and the federal government; private income taxes, levied by 19 states and the federal government; electricity taxes, levied by 21 states and the federal government; liquor taxes, levied by all wet states and the federal government, and tobacco taxes levied by 13 states and the federal government.

Near "Breaking Point."

"The tax burden, especially on certain specific objects, is reaching the breaking point" the committee reported, a conclusion which may have spurred President Roosevelt's action today.

"The study will look forward to zones of taxation and eliminating overlapping," Secretary Morgenthau explained. "It will be a long range study with the possibility that the President may call a conference next summer of the various agencies involved in taxation. It might involve the question of the federal collection of all income taxes."

Secretary Morgenthau announced that where overlapping taxation is found, the investigation will seek to determine which agency, federal or state, does the collecting most efficiently and economically.

Efforts in Face of Warning.

The treasury head made this amazing bid for federal control of all revenue in the country in the face of a warning by the house ways and means committee in its double tax report that, "no plan has yet been devised under which the federal government can secure consistency or uniformity in state taxes by direct legislation on the part of congress.

"In other words," the committee pointed out, "there is no legal bar to duplication in taxation or to double taxation by the federal government and the states of the same objects."

The committee sounded this warning despite its own conclusion that taxes "are reaching the breaking point" and that "in view of the number of taxes imposed, the tax revenues are disappointing." "Coöperating and persuasion is the only course open," the committee said.

Continues Credit Inquiry.

Besides launching the tax study today, Secretary Morgenthau announced that the treasury will continue its investigation of credit conditions. Having just completed and released a study of credit conditions in the Chicago Federal Reserve area, Morgenthau will start a similar study in the Cleveland Federal Reserve area on the first of the year.

Prof. Jacob Viner of the University of Chicago will handle this study too.

NRA ENJOINS OPTICAL COMPANIES ON CODE VIOLATION CHARGES

A permanent injunction restraining the Dr. Ritholz Optical company and associated individuals and concerns from alleged violation of fair practice regulations under three NRA codes governing the optical business was granted yesterday by Federal Judge John P. Barnes.

The injunction will operate to require defendants to pay the NRA wage scales of 32 to 40 cents an hour on a maximum nine hour day and 40 hour week, and to refrain from alleged unfair advertising practices, such as advertising special bargains in eye glasses. The government petition was filed by Assistant United States Attorneys Thomas B. Hart and A. W. Debirney. Attorney John Nash represented the defendants.

Named in the injunction were Benjamin D. Ritholz, Morris I., Samuel J., and Benjamin Migdall, trading as the Dr. Ritholz Optical company, the International Optical Stores corporation, and Dr. Ritholz & Sons, Inc. The group maintains a central office at 1148 West Chicago avenue and 17 retail stores in Chicago, 23 elsewhere in the United States, and six in Canada.

relief should take the place of the so-called made work program.

Hopkins Among Critics.

"I don't think these men could have got together and suggested anything that would be worse for America," Hopkins said. "I always have been for work relief and nothing these men have said has changed my mind."

Resorting to sarcasm, Hopkins said he presumed the business leaders had made a thorough study of the relief problem and knew all about it, or else they would not have made their recommendation.

"Still, this is a free country," he added. He spoke facetiously of the whole conference, saying "a group of men got together and spent three days in the sacred precincts of White Sulphur Springs and decided once and for all that people should get baskets of groceries."

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, when asked what he thought of the suggestion that public works designed primarily for relief are needless and wasteful, replied, "It doesn't appeal to me."

A committee of the United States conference of mayors, headed by Mayor La Guardia of New York, called on Hopkins and emerged saying their group would "bitterly oppose any attempt to hold up a work relief program in the coming session of congress."

Radicals Express Displeasure.

Senate radicals who term the report of the business leaders "too conservative" and "reactionary" were King of Utah, Pope of Idaho, Costigan of Colorado, and Norris of Nebraska. Governors generally were reported as opposing the suggestion that states be made to carry a greater share of relief costs. In this respect they received encouragement from Hopkins, who said he didn't know of a single state that was able to finance its relief needs.

Mr. Ames, the joint conference chairman, who brought the recovery program to the White House, explained as he left that the President was so busy that "I simply left the recommendations with Marvin McIntyre, his secretary." Ames emphasized, however, that there was no disposition to prevent him from getting an appointment. He said he was offered one for tomorrow, but could not wait. Later the White House announced that the President would give careful consideration to the conference resolutions and then refer them to the departments concerned.

Work Relief Costs Higher.

Relief Administrator Hopkins, although conceding that the direct dole is less expensive than work relief, objects to it on the ground that it would impair the morale of the idle. Figures obtained from the FERA today show that it costs an average of $20 a family a month for the dole and 40 per cent more, or $28, for work relief. This is exclusive of the cost of materials. Hopkins said there were now more than 2,000,000 families receiving their sustenance from work relief ,and on this basis a substitution of the dole would result in a saving of $16,000,000 a month, exclusive of materials.

Claims 25% Rise in Value on Winnebago Co. Farms

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The better sort of farm property in Winnebago county is commanding 25 per cent higher prices than it did three years ago, according to E. H. Porter, federal land bank representative here. He declared there is an actual shortage of farms for rent.

JUDGE BROTHERS WILL HEAR BUS MURDER TRIALS

In a courtroom guarded by extra bailifs attorneys for all except one of the 29 defendants in the murder and conspiracy charges growing out of violence in the recent bus strike yesterday filed petitions for change of venue, excluding all but three judges in the Criminal court.

Judge John C. Lewe, before whom the cases were called, sent them back for reassignment to Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan, who reassigned them to Judge William V. Brothers. The next hearing was set for Dec. 28, when Judge Brothers will hear motions and fix dates for the actual trials. Principal defendants are William Taber and Joseph Kehoe, officials of the street car men's union, who have won a separate trial from the 27 other defendants.

The judges favored by the change of venue actions were Brothers, Cornelius J. Harrington, and Donald S. McKinlay. The only defendant who did not move for a change of venue was William Lafevere, client of Attorney James M. Burke. The murder charges arose from the slaying of James Kelly, a bus dispatcher, by hired gunmen, and the death of Mrs. Mary Kennard, who was struck on the head by a ball bearing flung into a bus.

FIND PATIENT ROAMING STREET.

An American Gin ... for American Drinks!—these three advise

At the Biltmore...the Ritz...the Plaza—this GIN is approved for mixing drinks

Specially distilled to blend with other liquors and fruit juices . . . Fleischmann's Dry Gin always gives a smooth flavor in mixed drinks

EXPERTS AGREE—you can't beat a cocktail made with a smooth, mild American gin.

Experienced bartenders—like the three above—prefer to use a smooth American gin such as Fleischmann's—because it is specially distilled to blend perfectly with other liquors and fruit juices. It brings out the hidden, subtle flavors of the other ingredients.

Fleischmann's is a milder, smoother gin. It is distilled from American grains—from a distinctly American formula—by an American company that makes gin—and nothing else—to satisfy American tastes and drinking customs.

Buy a bottle. Mix up a Martini—a Gin Old-Fashioned—or a Tom Collins in your own home. Notice its smooth, delicious flavor—its soft, fragrant bouquet.

You'll see why Fleischmann's—in the short time since Repeal—has become "America's Favorite Gin."

Buy only brands that you know and from merchants in whom you have confidence."

SOLDIERS QUIET TOWN WHERE 3 LYNCHERS DIED

Shelbyville, Tenn., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—With 800 National Guardsmen on the scene, the riot-torn town of Shelbyville settled back today to ruminate on yesterday's racial disorders in which three men were killed, nearly a score wounded and the $150,000 courthouse burned.

Meanwhile, E. K. Harris, the 22 year old colored youth whose alleged raping of a white schoolgirl precipitated the outbreaks by a lynch mob bent on seizing him during his trial, remained safely guarded in the stormproof jail at Nashville.

The list of dead was raised today to three when Gilford Freeman, 45, died of abdominal wounds. A second man earlier pronounced dying at the local hospital was reported resting easily.

One Victim Disappears.

The earlier dead were Raleigh Edwards, 30, who was fatally wounded in the second of three mob attacks on the courthouse, and an unidentified man. The latter was removed from the hospital, where he was pronounced dead, before identification could be made. Unable to find the body, authorities expressed the opinion the victim was an out of the county resident and had been taken home.

In the wake of tension that ran so high there was talk of martial law the scene was entirely changed today. Citizens talked good naturedly about the militiamen whom they had stoned and cursed yesterday after the troopers used bullets and cold steel to repulse the battling mob.

The guardsmen also took things easy, for the most part lolling about their headquarters in the police station and limiting their military activities almost entirely to marching to their meals in a hotel.

Get Ready for Christmas.

The mob spirit has apparently subsided and the community went about its business of preparing for the holidays. Thus far there has been no investigation of the trouble launched.

It was evident that residents keenly felt the loss of their courthouse, an imposing structure built about three-quarters of a century ago with a spire that could be seen for many miles. The monetary loss was only a part of that felt, for the building was a landmark that residents of this town of 5,000 population had held in civic pride all their lives.

Inhabitants of the colored quarter, which the rioters had threatened to wipe out, were somewhat wary about venturying forth, but there was apparently no danger that any concerted assault would be made on them. A hotel was set afire during the night, but it was soon extinguished.

COAL FALL KILLS MINER.

BRUNO HAUPTMANN'S EX-LANDLADY BALKS INSPECTION OF HOUSE

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Edward J. Reilly of Brooklyn and C. Lloyd Fisher and Frederick A. Pope of Flemington, N. J., attorneys for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, made an unsuccessful attempt late this afternoon to inspect the inside of the house at 1279 East 222d street, the Bronx, in which Hauptmann lived up to the time of his arrest in connection with the kidnaping and murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

Mrs. Pauline Rauch, 75, who owns the house and lives on the ground floor, refused to admit the three lawyers or to talk to them.

Later Mrs. Rauch told reporters that the state of New Jersey has not paid any rent thus far on the Hauptmann apartment, which has been sealed up by the authorities. She said she expected she would not be able to rent the apartment until the seal is removed and a new tenant found.

Reilly disclosed today that he has obtained an order from Supreme Court Justice Philip A. Brennan directing James M. Fawcett, former counsel for Hauptmann, to show cause why he should not turn over to Reilly all papers, etc., connected with the case.

The order, Mr. Reilly said, was signed last night. He and his process servers, however, have not yet been able to find Mr. Fawcett, who was said not to be in his offices at Fulton and Jay streets, Brooklyn.

NO. 16 AND NO. 17 ARSONISTS GET PRISON TERMS

CRIMINAL COURT.

Hillard Nelson, rape, sentenced to 1 year in the penitentiary; Sam Faxall, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 20 years, by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Wilbur Shorten, larceny of an automobile, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary, by Judge Denis E. Sullivan.

The state won prison terms yesterday for the sixteenth and seventeenth defendants in the series of Criminal court trials growing out of the arson ring investigation begun last spring by State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

Milton Goldberg pleaded guilty to a charge of burning to defraud before Judge Harry B. Miller and was sentenced to one to five years in prison. Goldberg was accused in the $100,000 fire Dec. 6, 1931, in a building at 169 West Lake street in which several firemen were overcome. Deterios Alex, owner of the building, was kidnaped and robbed of $6,800 by the arson gang for failure to pay up after an insurance company had awarded him $78,000 on the building. He is now a fugitive.

Samuel Nordenberg, 45 years old, was sentenced to one to twenty years in prison by Judge Donald S. McKinley after he pleaded guilty to arson in the burning of his trunk works at 406 North Clark street Aug. 16, 1928, for which he was paid $28,500 on a $40,000 policy.

TWO HELD IN 11 ROBBERIES.

Two men who have been identified in 11 robberies were held yesterday at the detective bureau. They are James Burke, 22 years old, 67 West Harrison street, and Emil Cargola, 22 years old, 1100 South Hermitage avenue.

GAS, LIGHT, WATER BILLS EXEMPTED FROM SALES TAX

Supreme Court Upholds State Utilities.

The Illinois Supreme court ruled yesterday at Springfield that utilities, either private or municipal, need not pay the 2 per cent state retail occupational tax [sales tax] on their sales of electricity, gas, or water. The ruling, according to members of the state department of finance, will cost the state $4,800,000 annually in sales tax revenue.

In another case the court ruled that the sales tax applied to coal, and in a third it held that plumbing and heating supply houses need not pay the tax on apparatus sold to contractors for installation under contracts with owners of property.

Utilities Join in Suit.

The case on which the utilities ruling was made was an application for injunction against collection of the tax originally made in July, 1933, by the Commonwealth Edison company, the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke company, and the Central Illinois Public Service company. Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher in Chicago refused them a permanent injunction in July of this year, after having granted a temporary injunction twelve months previously.

In the appeal to the Supreme court most of the private utility companies of the state joined. Also parties to the final action were a large number of municipalities, principally concerned over a possible tax on their municipal water supplies, and in some communities on municipal light and gas service as well.

Consider Legislature's Intention.

Under an arrangement made at the time of Judge Fisher's final ruling, the temporary injunction which he originally issued was allowed to stand, the utility companies setting aside the funds which they would have had to pay in taxes had the Supreme court held the tax against them valid.

The Supreme court, in its opinion, held that the utility plants, private and public, are engaged in rendering a service, not selling a commodity, and that the legislature apparently did not intend to apply the act to them, since a move to extend the bill specifically to utilities was beaten.

The opinion also noted that in holding the first sales tax bill unconstitutional, the courts referred to the businesses involved as being able to pass on the tax to their customers. This, the opinion pointed out, is an impossibility for utility companies without consent of the state commerce commission.

Coal Companies Lose Plea.

In the coal case, the court affirmed the action of the Circuit court of Cook county, which dismissed for want of equity a suit for injunction against collection of the sales tax by 27 coal companies. The companies contended that they are in business primarily for production of coal, and that retail sales were merely incidental to their principal business.

The court held that since the sales tax is one on occupations and not upon property, the contention of double taxation advanced by the plaintifs was not valid.

In the plumbing supply case the ruling was that contractors, not the plumbing supply houses, are required to pay the tax, since they are making the last sale before consumption of supplies.

CUBAN MINISTER TO LONDON NAMED ENVOY TO U. S.

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Dr. Guillermo Patterson Jauregui, present Cuban minister to London, today was named Cuban ambassador to the United States succeeding the late Manuel Marquez Sterling. It was understood Patterson already has been approved by the state department of Washington.

The new ambassador was born Feb. 10, 1868. He entered the Cuban diplomatic service in 1902 shortly after the establishment of the republic.

He once served as secretary of state and has held posts in Spain, Germany and Venezuela as well as special assignments in the United States. He also has represented Cuba at the league of nations.

PHILIPPINES NAB 17 ON SOVIET SHIP AS RED PLOTTERS

MANILA, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Seventeen Filipinos and Chinese who boarded the Russian freighter Serge Ordijionikidze in the harbor here tonight were arrested by Philippine constabulary and held for questioning concerning communist activities.

Sixteen members of the vessel's crew who went ashore without permits were sought by authorities. The ship arrived Tuesday. Capt. M. Strelkoff said it was short of fuel and provisions, en route to Singapore and Vladivostok.

FORT PECK'S BAD BOY.

Readers who may suspect that THE TRIBUNE has been unduly harsh in its discussions of the PWA squanderings might profitably examine the Engineering News-Record for Nov. 29. The number is devoted to a fairly detailed account of some of the principal works undertaken. As the journal is read largely by engineers, many of whom are finding employment in the projects discussed, and as most of the advertising pages are occupied by suppliers of equipment used on the projects, the management of the magazine cannot be suspected of being biased against the Ickes program.

But the facts speak for themselves. There is the Fort Peck dam, for example. This gigantic structure is costing 84 million dollars. The dam itself is to be as high as an eighteen story building and nearly two miles long. It is half a dozen times as big as the Great Pyramid and just as useless.

For purposes of irrigation the dam has only negligible value. No important irrigation project is contemplated in connection with it.

For purposes of flood control the dam is almost as useless if only because the waters from the upper river are of minor importance in producing floods. Army engineers have estimated that the impounding of water behind the dam will lower the flood waters by a foot or less. Over nearly thirty years, including the year of the most destructive flood in the recorded history of the river, the average annual loss which might have been prevented had the Fort Peck dam been in operation is less than $150,000. Not even Mr. Ickes' best friend can pretend that it is reasonable to spend 84 million dollars, with an annual charge for interest and retirement of more than 4 million dollars, to prevent an annual loss of $150,000.

Nor will the dam be of any real value as a site for generating electricity. A 50,000 kilowatt generator is to be installed, but until jack rabbits, prairie dogs and coyotes have use for electric current most of the juice must go to waste.

With irrigation, flood control and electric supply eliminated as excuses for this vast expenditure, the only thing left is navigation. The government engineers have calculated that the water released from Fort Peck in time of drouth will make the Missouri navigable by barges of 6 foot draft from Sioux City down to the mouth of the river, but the added flow of itself will not turn the trick. In addition, the government must spend another 60 million dollars at once on channel improvements between Sioux City and Kansas City. That is, to make the 84 million dollar dam at Fort Peck yield any return at all, another 60 million must be expended at once and additional millions must be laid out, year after year, for maintenance charges.

The government's engineers refused at first to countenance this squandering, but finally they were won over to it, evidently under pressure from above. After a great deal of fancy figuring they came to the conclusion that the outlay would be justified if 10 or 11 million tons of trafic used the river each year. The tonnage through the Panama canal, one of the principal highways of world trade, is hardly twice as great.

The 144 million dollar expenditure was undertaken in response to political pressure and for no other reason. If there is a high school boy in the United States who cannot, offhand, think of ten better uses for the money [not including saving it] he ought to be thrown out of school as ineducable.

Mr. Ickes would have done better to have tossed the money from the top of the Washington monument. Then, at least, no more money would have to be appropriated, year after year, for maintaining this megalomaniac folly.

THE FORGOTTEN PEDESTRIAN.

Pedestrians on our boulevards are reminded after every heavy snowfall that park officials ride in automobiles. The motor way is promptly and efficiently swept by snowplows, which throw the snow out of their path and, incidentally, into every entering street and therefore into the path of every pedestrian who is making his or her way along the boulevard. If we can judge by North Michigan and the Drive no thought is given to this nuisance. The morning after the late storm these thoroughfares were clear for motorists, but at every block pedestrians were compelled to plow their way almost up to their knees at the crossings of entering streets which had been filled by the plows in clearing the boulevard for motors. This condition was given no attention at any time, and never is. We think it should be considered by the parks management before the next heavy snowfall. On much used thoroughfares the sidewalk crossings should be cleared within a reasonable time after the storm. Private owners clear the walks, but the crossings that the park plows have filled with the snow swept aside from the roadway are a responsibility of the park management which has created the nuisance.

THE DARLINGS OF SANTA CLAUS.

The United States battle fleet, with cruiser, destroyer, and submarine divisions attached, has been spending the last fortnight away from the customary berths in southern California. The fleet steamed to San Francisco, stayed there a while, and then started back. The Japanese may be wondering what it is all about, and for the sake of international good will some one should tell them.

Some one will. The fleet went to San Francisco because northern Californians are also go-getters. Southern California has the fleet for the greater part of the year. Admiral Reeves, the commanding officer, estimated not long ago that the presence of the ships, officers, and men meant something like 26 million dollars a year to the business men of the Los Angeles area. The navy is one of southern California's biggest industries.

Northern Californians felt that they ought to cut in on the profits. Hence the cruise to San Francisco. The original arrangements provided for departure on Dec. 8, but under pressure from San Francisco interests the fleet sailed earlier, and thus the officers and men received their pay while at sea. They had money in their pockets when they were granted shore leave in San Francisco, and it was there that the Christmas shopping was done.

There is a moral in this for congressmen from the interior. The landlocked states do not begrudge the expenditures for the navy. The nation must have a navy, and, of course, the business interests of coast cities must derive the major benefit from the existence of the fleet. The interior of the country pays a large part of the naval bill and gets relatively little in return. That is inevitable.

It is not inevitable, however, that there will be no compensatory advantages. Southern California, which already has the navy, has been given Boulder dam as an additional gift. The Pacific northwest, which already has its share of naval stations, has received, in addition, the two Columbia river projects.

Congressmen from the interior states owe their constituents the duty of restoring the balance. The interior should receive in benefits from the federal government something approximating the share to which its tax payments would entitle it. As the coast states have the navy, the landlocked states should receive the lion's share of appropriations for roads, buildings, and so on. Needless to say, the balance will never be righted until the congressmen from the interior insist on it.

TOUGH POLICE WORK.

New York police news recently noted the appearance of a prisoner brought in mussed up to Police Commissioner Valentine's liking. He had been given a beating and had a black eye and a bloody nose. A hoodlum's qualification for rough treatment may be inherent in his character and works, but nevertheless what might be regarded at times as his deserts is generally bad for the policeman, and it may be bad for almost any citizen suspected by the police of being something he oughtn't to be.

The American policeman frequently deals with tough customers who have no respect for the other person's life or limb and very little for constituted authority. It is sometimes natural to think that the tougher it is made for them the better it will be for people who want to go straight and behave themselves and who are put in peril by lawlessness and criminality. It happens, however, that tough police work is seldom good police work, and when a community really gets the upper hand of its disorderly elements it does so through a police force which is not only brave, as the American policeman nearly always is, but which is perfectly disciplined and has so high a respect for the law that the evidence given by the arresting officer carries full weight with magistrate and jury.

A police force impatiently encouraged by its superior officers to commit acts of violence itself, unless required in the performance of duty, is not unlikely to add to the disorders it is supposed to suppress. A policeman encouraged to be tough may get tough with the citizen who should have been protected as much against police violence as against criminal violence.

Editorial of the Day

BEARS WATCHING.

[Baltimore Sun.]

The Tageblatt in Berlin, upon reading that President Roosevelt has appointed a commission to "take the profit out of war" as part of a national mobilization plan, reaches the conclusion that America is considering the possibility of war, "not academically but concretely."

From the point of view of Nazi Germany, this is a natural enough conclusion, and it must be said that the enthusiastic coöperation to this end of munitions makers and army officers strongly suggests that the scheme is hardly designed to suit the pacifists, unless superficially. The nonprofit scheme has in the past always been put forward as an attempt to plan in time of peace for effective mobilization of the national resources in the event of war. From the point of view of the pure pacifist, this would be objectionable on the ground that, instead of making resort to war more difficult, this plan would make it easier, since mobilization plans would have been perfected in advance and criticism stifled at the very beginning.

In other words, the plan to "take the profit out of war" has always been subordinate to the general mobilization idea. It implies a degree of regimentation and restriction which was lacking even in our last bellicose experience, and it would be unfortunate in the extreme if a natural irritation and anger at the extraordinary extent to which some industries benefited from the wartime demand for their products should result in the complete surrender to the militarists and burocrats of such vestigial rights as the individual may possess, at least during the early stages of a war. It would be even more unfortunate if the national emphasis should be shifted away from the idea of international coöperation and peace to plans for internal organization for war.

The President has seen this danger and repeatedly lets it be known that his adoption of the "no profit war" idea is not part of a plan for new preparedness for war. This, however, has not been the idea of other advocates of the scheme, including Mr. Bernard M. Baruch, a member of Mr. Roosevelt's commission, who in 1922 urged the scheme as part of a plan to make possible for this country to "conduct war with great efficiency" though "surrounded for years by enemies." And despite Mr. Roosevelt's view of the purpose behind this scheme, the membership of the commission to study it suggests that its conclusions will require considerable cold study when and if they mature.

ON TOP OF A CHRISTMAS BOX.

Mary, Mary, will you get up
And open your Christmas box
And drink your coffee from this cup
Of pinks and hollyhocks?
Here is a book for an idle hour,
Poetry and prose;
Here is the scent of lavender flower,
With kerchiefs lying close.
Also for the stomach's sake
In harmless dissipation,
A spiced and spirited fruit cake
To sweeten your collation;
Souvenirs from shops of the world,
A Lilliputian bracket,
Orange essence and tea leaves curled
In a real rice paper packet.
I long to send a wreath of gold
With a silver turtledove,
But, lacking these, will you have and hold
My loyalty and love.
This epistle is quite too long
To read by the Christmas tree,
More brilliant than a foolish song
Sung by a fool like me.
So, silencing the fiddle, dear,
Before the day is done,
I pray the prayer of every year:
God bless us every one.

SOME LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

DEAR SANTA: I wish you would bring me a nice new alphabet, an alphabet with about one hundred and fifty letters, so that by shifting them around I can get lots of combinations for new boards and NRA plans. The English alphabet I have been using only had twenty-six letters to start with, and down here in Washington we've just about run the poor old thing ragged. So please, dear Santa, a great, big, new alphabet. Yours truly,

The Little Boy Who Lives in the White House.

DEAR, DARLING SANTA CLAUS: When you come crawling down my chimney Christmas eve don't bother to bring me drums and toy horns. I can make plenty of noise without those things. The presents I want you to bring me, good old Santa, are plows. Oodles and oodles of plows. Oh, goodness! you don't know how many plows I need. I just love to play in the fields, dear Santa, and my favorite outdoor sport is plowing things under. So shake a leg, Santa; bring me plows, plows, plows, and more plows. With lots of love.

The Little Boy Who Runs the Agricultural Dept.

HELLO, SANTA: I thought I would write you a little letter so that you wouldn't bring me a lot of truck I didn't want. What I want, dear Santa, to make this Christmas the happiest I have ever known is bushels and bushels of ciphers—you know, "0's." I have just used up the entire lot of zeros in Washington and I'm getting ready right now to shoot the estimates on a new public works thing I am about to spring and I can't do it until you bring me tons and tons of zeros. Oh, Santa, you wouldn't believe how I need those things. So bring 'em along, Santa, and don't bother about putting 'em in my stocking. Park 'em in the yard all around the house. And likewise, Santa, bring me tons and tons of dollar signs; you know, $$$'s. I have to use bushels of those things every day and I've about run out. Bring a-plenty. Truly yours,

The Little Boy Who Is Secretary of the Interior.

DEAR SANTA CLAUS: I am writing to you about my Christmas presents this year. I just know you will bring me something nice, for oh! Santa Claus, you are mighty good to us Democrats. Well, Santa, I want for my present this year thousands and thousands of some kind of little pills which we can give to anybody and everybody when they step up to pay their next income tax. The kind of pill I want is one that will make an income tax payer smile sweetly and say: "Oh, candied violets! Why, it's a real pleasure to pay an income tax!" Now, Santa, dear, I really must have you bring me these pills because the income tax this year is going to be something quite substantial, I'm telling you! And oh, Santa, I have such a tender heart, I hate to hear 'em moan and howl. So do, Santa, get somebody to invent those "Painless Pills for Income Tax Payers" and bring 'em down to me in car lots. Yours most truly,

The Little Boy in the Secretary of the Treasury's Office.

DEAR MR. CLAUS: I'm different from most boys, Santa, in that I am not writing to you telling you what presents to bring me, as all the other boys do. No, I am writing to you, Santa, to tell you what NOT to bring me. Don't Santa, for heaven's sake! don't bring me any green ink. I seem to have a habit of signing my name in green ink to letters on political matters and then those darned letters bob up at the most inopportune time and cause me much embarrassment. There was my letter to Upton Sinclair—oh, mercy! Then there were others. The letters which I sign in black ink, blue ink, or violet, or blue-black ink do not seem to create any trouble at all, but whenever I sign in green ink, gosh, Santa, something happens! So please! no green ink. None whatever. Yours truly,

The Little Boy Who Runs the Postoffices.

ADD A 1934 LINEBOOK

to your Christmas present! And even if the house slippers are too small or the smoking jacket big enough for an elephant or Aunt Agatha already has twenty-two cigarette cases (and she doesn't smoke, anyhow), then—no difference! They'll take so much joy in the Linebook they won't even think of the other present.

"WILL TAKE THE PROFITS Out of War."—Headline. If they will further arrange to take some of the bullets out of war, and the shrapnel, and quite a bit of poison gas, perhaps the soldier will be more pleased. R. H. L.

CHRONIC DIARRHEA.

THERE are many types of diarrhea which, though chronic in character, are not disabling and may have no effect upon the general health nor on normal weight.

Most of these cases may be attributed to a nervous or psychic tendency. The condition is not a true colitis and occasionally diarrhea alternates with constipation. In a recent review of about 700 cases of chronic diarrhea P. W. Brown found that in a majority of the patients the diarrhea was of nervous origin. This author notes that a relatively small number of cases fell into three groups: 34 patients were susceptible to certain foods, 24 complained of the symptom following a rather serious infection, and in 20 the causative factor lay in some dietary deficiency.

In the group of 34 the same food was not responsible in all cases. Most of the patients complained of occasional attacks of hay fever, hives, or digestive upsets. One-third regularly had loose bowel movements; the remaining two-thirds suffered periodical attacks of diarrhea that lasted from an hour to several days. Among the offending foods were clams, chocolate, veal, pork, various fruits and vegetables, and fats. In five cases milk was responsible. Treatment consisted in the omission of the offending foods and considerable calcium was given by mouth between meals. As far as possible the diet was balanced in spite of the omission of certain types of foods. Each patient was urged to keep a food diary and thus be able himself to eliminate the substances which brought on the attacks.

Diarrhea as a sequel to infection proved stubborn. The symptoms had existed, on the average, for two years. Only six of these patients had lost weight. As a group no single plan of treatment was adopted and each patient was studied as an individual. Vaccine treatment proved efficient in some of the cases. Three were markedly improved following the removal of infected tonsils or teeth. The use of drugs was on the whole unsatisfactory.

In the so-called deficiency diarrheas the patients were largely food faddists. It was ascertained that prior to the onset of symptoms each of these patients had been following a bizarre diet for something or other. In some there were marked anemia, great loss of weight, and swelling of the tissues. Of the 20 patients in this group 16 were women. The average duration of intestinal symptoms was about five years. The stools were watery, grayish, and sometimes frothy. Of the total number of cases 12 recovered, five were improved, and the condition of three remained unchanged. Calcium was beneficial in 11 cases, and in four cases calcium plus parathyroid extract was effective. Anemia was combated by iron preparations. The prescribed diet was high in vitamins and proteins. Either vitamin concentrates or cod liver oil was given each day.

After ruling out colitis, which is a true inflammation of the lining of the large intentine, Brown concludes that most intractable diarrheas have an emotional basis. The balance fall within the three groups noted above. We are probably due for a considerable increase in chronic diarrhea of the food deficiency type, due to the indiscriminate following of food fads.

The diarrheas that accompany a lack of hydrochloric acid in the stomach are well known to most physicians and the symptom is rather easily controled by giving the acid by mouth. For the diarrheas of nervous origin, sedatives, rest, and occasionally psychotherapy are employed.

PAIN IN HEAD.

Mrs. E. M. writes: I am rarely without a pain in the back of my head, which extends to the neck and shoulders. I cannot lie on the back of my head or rest the back of my head against anything. Even a simple thing like writing a letter will bring on the pain. Can you tell me what this is and what to do for it?

REPLY.

Have the eyes checked and if there is no difficulty there the sphenoid and ethmoid sinuses should be X-rayed. If pain is your only symptom the chances are you do not have a brain tumor.

EAR ITCHES.

Mrs. G. H. B. writes: What can be done for itching of the ear canal? This itching starts if the weather is warm and damp.

REPLY.

It may be ringworm infection which occasionally occurs in the external ear canal; an excess secretion of ear wax; or some form of eczema. Clean the ears daily with sterile olive oil, using no water. If the irritation does not clear up treatment should be advised by a physician.

TOO MANY RED CELLS.

K. writes: Will you explain what polycythemia is?

REPLY.

Polycythemia is also known as Vaquez's disease or Osler's disease. It is chronic, slowly progressive, and is characterized by an excessive number of red cells in the blood. Sometimes the disease occurs in more than one member of a family. As a rule, the condition is rare. Red blood cells may be as high as 7 to 11 million per cubic millimeter. X-ray treatment of the bones inhibits the formation of blood. Generally, however, this type of treatment is only temporarily effective. Phenylhydrazine hydrochloride is used because of its effect in destroying red cells. The drug must be used cautiously, as it is toxic. Fowler's solution is also used and is recommended by C. E. Forkner.

SINUS TROUBLE.

M. F. R. writes: Are the following symptoms an indication of sinus trouble: Swelling of nose, difficulty in breathing, dizziness when bending head backward or when lying down?

REPLY.

They may, or they may mean infection of the nasal passages involving the throat and middle ear. Do you have an afternoon temperature? Is there an excessive discharge from the nose? If so, you should have skilled attention.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

SHOULD HAVE PERMIT TO RE-ENTER.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—[Friend of the People.]—Please advise me if a person who has just filed a petition to become a citizen of the United States may make a trip to Europe for three months, or will such person have to wait until he has received his certificate of citizenship? B. D.

A person who has filed a petition for citizenship but who has not yet been admitted to citizenship may leave the United States temporarily, but it is suggested that such person obtain a permit to reënter the United States before leaving for a trip to Europe in order to facilitate his reëntry into this country. FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,

STREET PAVING.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—[Friend of the People.]—When will the 4200 block on North Claremont avenue be paved? This is the only block in the district that has neither street nor alley pavement. It is sometimes impossible to drive a car through this street or to put the car in the garage back of the building. L. T.

The records show that Claremont avenue is not a public street from the north line of Berteau avenue to a point 238 feet south of Cullom avenue; therefore the city of Chicago could in no manner lay a pavement. If the property owners on Cullom avenue south to 238 feet desire the street paved they should present a substantial petition to the board of local improvements to have the same done in accordance with provisions of the local improvement act.

JOHN B. HITTELL,
Chief Engineer of Streets.

PROMISSORY NOTE.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. A holds a promissory note for six years against B. B claims he can't pay, but owns a tavern and some property. What proceedings must A take to collect? 2. If B transfers all his property to his wife in her maiden name, can he be sued? 3. Does a note have to be witnessed and sealed by a notary public, and [4] when must a note be renewed? F. L. B.

1. The ordinary course would be to place the claim in the hands of an attorney.
2. The transfer of his assets would have nothing to do with the right to sue him. In general, a creditor after securing judgment against a debtor, can set aside gifts that were made after the debt accrued, the theory being that the gift is a fraud on such creditor.
3. No.
4. The Illinois limitation period is ten years. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ADMINISTRATOR'S DUTIES.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is not the administrator of an estate required to make a full statement of the account at intervals to heirs, so that they will be informed as to what is being done? 2. By this I mean, should he not list all moneys received, bills paid, etc., and show balance due when requested by heirs? 3. Is it not possible for an administrator of an estate to distribute to the heirs whatever moneys are received, according to their share, after deducting administration expenses, etc., as payments are made by banks which have closed? 4. Is it customary for the administrator to hold all moneys received until the entire estate is cleaned up? 5. If so, this would probably take many, many years, considering the condition of the banks which are involved in this particular matter. A. M. D.

1. No. He should file an inventory early in the proceedings and should file an account shortly after the expiration of the year for filing claims.
2. He accounts to the court rather than to the heirs. The heirs can examine his reports in the court files.
3. It is possible, but the administrator cannot be compelled to distribute before the expiration of the year for filing claims.
4. Yes.
5. This in itself is not customary and might furnish the heirs the basis for an exceptional distribution.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.

It is a common belief among many people that kissing causes cold sores and the "evidence" does come out at such inopportune times! This subject probably has been investigated more thoroughly by modern youth than by medical men and no young person believes in such nonsense. The cause of cold sores is likely to be a disturbance of digestion.

DID THE LEGISLATURE AMEND THE WRONG LAW?

Buda, Ill., Dec. 18.—I notice in today's issue the explanation of Gov. Horner as to the error in passing the recent amendment to the occupational tax or so-called sales tax.

His explanation appears to be in substance that there was an error in the first draft of the bill, but that this was caught in proofreading and the corrected bill introduced. However, that by error the first draft of the bill was sent to the printers, which accounts for the printed bills being in error as amending the original sales tax law which was declared unconstitutional.

If the correct bill was introduced I would like to have explained just how it happens that the printed copy of the House Journal placed upon the members' desks shows the same title as the printed bills which are admitted to be in error. The printed copy of House Journal of Nov. 19, 1934, placed upon my desk and which I now have in my possession shows the following:

By unanimous consent Mr. Sinnett introduced a bill, house bill No. 1, a bill for "an act to amend sections 2 and 3 of 'an act in relation to a tax upon persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property at retail, the disposition thereof and making certain appropriations in connection therewith,' approved March 22, 1933."

The above act is the act held unconstitutional by the Supreme court, and the present act was approved June 28, 1933. The House Journal of Nov. 20, 1934, shows that the Journal of Nov. 19 was corrected to show that Mr. Woodward was excused from attendance to attend the funeral of Justice De Young, but was otherwise approved. I am not in a position to say what the records may now show, but the above are the records of house proceedings as printed and placed upon our desks and approved by action of the house.

I am asking if it could be possible that any further corrections have been made since the legislature adjourned. If it be possible that after the legislature has adjourned so-called corrections may be made then no legislative act is safe from alterations by unscrupulous persons.

FREDERICK W. RENNICK,
Representative, Thirty-seventh Senatorial District.

THE RIGHTS OF BONDHOLDERS.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Referring to your editorial in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE on a street car system revived we would like to call your attention to a point which you seem to have overlooked.

If you feel that the rehabilitation of the street car system would increase revenues why did you not advocate paying off the present bondholders and floating a new issue to provide such improvement? It should be clear to any one that a new group of investors could better stand the strain, as the patience of the old ones is worn pretty thin.

The money lying idle in the banks, which you mention so feelingly, could be used in this way to wipe out a lot of interest charges. Why is it that in all discussions of the traction issue the bondholder is ignored completely?

EVELYN M. STUART.

THE WISE CRACKER'S CORNER.

THE FATE OF HOSTESSES.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—The action of Mayor Kelly in seeking to rid the city of moral pesthouses by closing notorious night clubs and taverns, where paid hostesses prey upon the morals of youth and seek to ply the patrons with drinks, even to intoxication, deserves the hearty support of all the decent citizens of the community. It is in these notorious dens of vice that racketeering, gangsterism and hoodlumism thrive and get their footing.

A study published by the University of Chicago a few years ago showed that a vast percentage of so-called hostesses, taxi dancers, etc., finally end up as inmates in houses of commercialized vice. The decent minded citizens of this community, who constitute probably 90 per cent of the population of the city, want Mayor Kelly and Sherif Toman to know that they are behind them to a man in their fight to a finish on these obnoxious places. JOSEPH MICHAEL MURPHY.

TOO MUCH DIVORCE NEWS.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—It is disgusting to pick up a newspaper and notice in a very conspicuous place a picture of Miss So and So who has just filed suit for divorce after being married thirteen days. A few columns away one sees a picture of Mr. So and So, famous film star of the silent picture days, being sued for divorce—and on and on through the paper. Such items of news seem to merit the most prominent places. Why not let us at least be under the illusion that marriage is a permanent institution?

I am sure there are matters of vital importance which are of real interest that could be inserted in place of such items. J. SOKOLOFF.

ADVICE.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—I notice in today's TRIBUNE that M. A. wonders why "no one has invented a way of melting snow off of the sidewalk." M. A. has the attitude of too many people of today. He, like many others, wonders why some one else does not do something to remedy the various ills that confront humanity. Why does not M. A. do something about it himself? He may answer that he has not the technical education to do so. However, libraries such as the Crerar are open to him. There he may give himself the technical training needed to solve this problem. E. J. C.

DANGEROUS SIDEWALKS.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Observing the people of Chicago year after year perilously trying to make their way in bad weather over the glass sidewalks in the loop makes me wonder why the city ever permitted the construction of glass sidewalks in the first place, and, having permitted it, why steps can't be taken to remove this menace to life and limb. Other things are condemned to be destroyed on account of their danger to the public; why not these walks?

N. L.

YES.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Since when do business men have to be pestered by requests for donations to testimonial dinners given in honor of some politicians?

When I refused such an invitation the other day for a testimonial in honor of County Clerk Michael Flynn the caller didn't even have the courtesy to say good-by but just banged the receiver.

Isn't it about time that the politicians stop using such methods?

L. N. GROSSMAN.

SOMETHING OUGHT TO BE DONE ABOUT THIS

$50,000,000 WON BY ITALIANS IN DUCE'S LOTTERY

180 New Millionaires Are Created.

ROME, Dec. 20.—(AP)—A platoon of new Italian lire millionaires came into being today with the drawing of a $50,000,000 lottery—one of the most ambitious raffles ever pulled off in Europe and perhaps the world.

The new millionaires numbered exactly 180. The ranks of the nearly rich were swelled by 360 persons receiving prizes of 500,000 lire and 2,400 receiving awards of 100,000. [A lira is currently quoted at about 8 cents.]

The prize winners received still another though less tangible prize. By pulling their millions out of the hat this morning they automatically came into title as "exemplary patriots."

Money Given by Government.

The lottery scheme was devised by Benito Mussolini's government to speed the machinery of the gigantic consolidated bonds conversion law of December, 1934. Holders of consolidateds were told at the time that they must cash in their bonds within ten days or present them for conversion from 5 to 3.50 per cent.

The prize money came directly from the Italian government and was offered as an inducement to bondholders to convert their 5 per cent bonds into 3 per cent securities. Each bond served in the drawing as a lottery ticket.

Tension of a gigantic crowd which assembled in a public place marked the beginning of the lottery. Hundreds upon hundreds of the holders of the converted bonds began to stream into town as early as dawn for a go at Lady Luck.

Accompanied by Military Honors.

The ceremony of drawing was accompanied by military and civic honors. Young Fascists of combat and members of the Black Shirt hierarchy lent colorful uniformed presence to the ranks of police and carabinieri.

As the pasteboard bits, each bearing the number of a bond coupon, were drawn from a receptacle the crowd burst into prolonged cheers. In many instances excitement in the sector of a lucky prize winner was prolonged to the point of interrupting the proceedings.

Dog Bites Boy; Boy Bites Dog; Honors Even

Belleville, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Both the dog and the boy bit each other here today. Jack Munie, 12 year old son of former Sherif Jerome Munie, and his pet black and tan dog Tiny disagreed. Tiny bit Jack on one hand. Jack chewed Tiny's leg. Neither was seriously injured.

GETS FINAL DECREE

[Acme Photo.]

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—After two years of divorce suits, decrees granted and voided, reconciliations and property settlement disputes, all is definitly over and settled in the marital affairs of Betty Boyd, red headed film charmer, and Charles Henry Over Jr., broker, who thought he was divorced from her by a Mexican decree one year ago. Miss Boyd obtained a final decree of divorce in Los Angeles courts today, a property settlement being attached to the final decree. Over's Mexican decree was voided in the California courts after a bitter wrangle.

SEIZE LOITERERS AFTER BOMBING OF MILK STORE

Two men who asserted that they were unemployed milk wagon drivers were arrested yesterday by the Albany Park police as they were found loitering near a cut-rate milk store into which a stench bomb had been tossed a few hours earlier. The men are Paul Feery, 7544 South Lincoln street, and Albert Yetter, 2240 North Nagle avenue.

The stench bomb was thrown into a store owned by Ernst Monshia, at 3416 Montrose avenue. Monshia told Capt. Joseph Goldberg of the Albany Park police that Feery and Yetter visited him Wednesday and threatened him with harm if he did not cease selling milk at 7 cents a quart.

The two prisoners, Capt. Goldberg said, admitted visiting the place, but denied making any threats or any connection with the stench bomb. A large chunk of concrete was found in their automobile when they were arrested.

WOMAN POSING AS SOCIAL AID KIDNAPS A BABY

Captured in Three Hours; Faces Mental Test.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 20.(AP)—A four day old baby boy, abducted from a modest south side home by a young woman who wished to pose as a mother to win back her estranged husband was returned to his parents and five sisters tonight after a few hours.

The young woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Dorothy Marsh, 19, was placed in the psychopathic ward of the city hospital for examination.

Police aided by the driver of the taxicab in which Mrs. Marsh fled with the baby, located Mrs. Marsh in her boarding house, a few blocks from the little two-room house where Joseph Robbins, 29, a federal emergency relief administration worker lives with his family.

In Bed with Baby.

Mrs. Marsh was in bed with the baby, William Joseph Robbins, beside her. Other residents in the rooming house said she had told them she was expecting the birth of a child, and that tonight she said the baby was born in the basement of the house.

The girl insisted the infant was her own child, and strenuously resisted attempts of police to take it from her.

They took both Mrs. Marsh and the baby to the hospital. After it was determined the boy was unharmed, he was returned home.

Mrs. Robbins said the Marsh girl came to the house this afternoon posing as a social worker. A previous visit had been made on Tuesday.

Mrs. Marsh "acted a little bit strange," Mrs. Robbins said, but when she asked to hold the infant the mother consented.

As the baby was given to her she turned and ran out the front door to the waiting taxicab and was driven away. A blanket was the baby's only covering.

Gets Up and Seeks Aid.

Frantic, Mrs. Robbins dragged herself to the door and screamed for help. Neighbors who ran to her aid called the police.

In her pretense as a social worker, the mother told officers, Mrs. Marsh related that she was working for a church and wished to help the family with food and clothing and would provide a chicken dinner for Christmas.

When she took the baby Mrs. Marsh left behind her a shopping bag with a girl's coat and three dresses in it. All were well worn, and two of the dresses were virtually in rags.

Mrs. Marsh told officers she separated from her husband last August. She said his name is Porter Marsh and that he is in Marshall County hospital, Plymouth, Ind., with a broken neck suffered in an automobile accident.

10,000 PEOPLE IN ONE HOUR WENT UP THESE ESCALATORS TO SEE SANTA*

It's the first Christmas for our gorgeous new Westinghouse Electric Stairways. But already they have become one of our most popular services . . . keeping everything running smoothly these big, busy shopping days. Streamline in appearance; streamline in performance; no traffic jams; green lights all the way to Santa's headquarters—Fourth Floor.

Of course we installed these stairways for year-round shopping convenience. They stretch from the basement to the ninth floor—fascinating vistas all the way. When they carry 10,000 people in an hour they are doing the work of 25 elevators. There are in addition 50 elevators to help you in your shopping all day and every day under this hospitable roof.

Of course, this was a peak load—we don't expect to do that well right along. But actually in an hour the other day our escalators carried up 10,000 folks.*

COCKTAILS IN THE NEW "SHAKER BOTTLE"

LINKS SLAYER OF GRACE BUDD TO LOSS OF BOY

Fish Accused of Kidnaping Billy Gaffney.

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Albert Howard Fish, confessed slayer of Grace Budd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Budd, was indicted for murder in the first degree today by the Westchester county grand jury. At the same time he was linked definitly with the disappearance of Billy Gaffney in Brooklyn in 1927.

The evidence in the Gaffney case—identification of Fish as the man seen with a small, crying boy on the day the 10 year old boy disappeared—will be presented to a Kings county grand jury. Fish also faces indictment for that crime.

Motorman Accuses Him.

Fish was unconcerned about the identification that connects him with the Gaffney case. He made no comment when a Brooklyn motorman picked him out of a lineup in the Tombs this afternoon.

Joseph Meehan was a motorman on a Hamilton avenue surface car on Feb. 11, 1927. He recalled he had seen an elderly man lead a crying, struggling, frightened small boy aboard his car. He had told the police at that time, but they had no suspects that fitted Meehan's description.

Today Meehan, pointing to Fish, said:

"That's the man. He was wearing a different colored suit then, but that's the man."

Conductor Is Uncertain.

Anthony Barrone, who was a conductor on another Brooklyn trolley car seven years ago, had reported he saw an aging man and a small boy on Feb. 11, but he could not positively identify Fish.

The murder indictment was returned in White Plains. The jury heard thirteen witnesses. Fish will be arraigned here tomorrow on a kidnaping charge and he will be arraigned next week at White Plains. The state says Fish strangled the child.

SUES FOR SUPPORT

HELEN CIRESE HUNNEWELL.
[Kellogg Photo.]

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Cirese Hunnewell, Chicago attorney, has filed suit in Superior court here asking separate maintenance from Harry R. Hunnewell, her husband, whose property she values at three millions. She charges him with cruelty and infidelity. Her suit was filed Dec. 14. Superior Judge Thomas Graham cited Hunnewell to appear Dec. 28.

Hunnewell, member of a Boston family, sought divorce in Reno, Nev., in March, 1930, charging extreme cruelty. She countered, charging Hunnewell with infidelity. Hunnewell left Reno soon afterward and in July, 1933, that case was dismissed.

Growing Boy Visits City; He's 7 Feet 9 Inches Tall

Henry Hite, 19 years old, who arrived here yesterday from his home in Atlanta, Ga., is going to be a big man when he gets his growth. He is already 7 feet 9 inches tall, weighs 286 pounds, and wears size 22 shoes. He said he began growing rapidly when he was 9 years old, and at 14 was 7 feet 2 inches tall and center for his high school basketball team. His real name is Mullins, and he is here for a vaudeville engagement.

HUNT BALL BAT ROBBER.

SWEARS TO KILL FATHER'S SLAYER BUT DIES INSTEAD

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Salvatore Monacino was a boy of 5 when his father was murdered by enemies in the crowded lower east side. As he grew older Salvatore learned to understand the story of how his father was lured out into the night and killed. He swore a blood oath—a vendetta—against the slayers of his father.

It was 25 years ago that the father died. Last night the body of Salvatore Monacino, 30, of Newark, was dumped from an automobile into the gutter in Brooklyn.

Own Struggles Kill Him.

He had been bound with sash cord, his feet drawn up behind his back with the cord around his neck, so that he strangled himself by his own struggles.

To the policemen who found the body, trussed up and still warm, it looked like another "racket murder."

Well dressed and wearing a new chinchilla overcoat, with $8 in his pockets, Monacino obviously was not the victim of robbers.

His finger prints revealed he had a record—arrested in 1933 on a charge of possessing counterfeit bills, sentenced to eighteen months in federal prison.

Relatives Tell the Story.

When detectives went to the relatives and friends of the slain man they were told the story.

Back from the penitentiary a few months ago, Monacino had told acquaintances he had learned, in prison, who killed his father. Before large groups of people, it was said, he had boasted:

"I know the man who shot my father; I'm going to get him."

Detectives went away with the belief that persons responsible for the death of the father had killed the son to protect themselves.

CHICAGO WORLD WAR LIEUTENANT AWARDED D. S. C.

Award of the distinguished service cross to Lawrence G. Andrews, a personnel department employé of Armour & Co., for "extraordinary heroism in action" during the world war was announced yesterday by the war department in Washington.

The action took place in an attack on German forces in Berzy-Le Sec, France, on July 21, 1918. "Lieut. Andrews, Company A, 28th infantry, First division, showed utter disregard for personal danger in leading his platoon," said the citation.

Mr. Andrews enlisted from his home town, Wauseon, O. He now lives with his wife and one child at 5715 Kimbark avenue.

J. P. WARBURG'S WIFE DIVORCES HIM IN NEVADA

Reno, Nev., Dec. 20.—(AP)—James Paul Warburg, vice chairman of the Bank of Manhattan Company of New York and son of the late Paul Moritz Warburg, was divorced at a private hearing here today by Mrs. Katharine Swift [Kay] Warburg.

The decree was granted by District Judge Benjamin F. Curler on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Warburg did not contest the suit.

The couple married June 1, 1918 in New York City. They have three children, April Carlotta, 15; Andrea Swift, 12, and Kathleen Warburg, 10. Future custody of the children was provided for in a separation agreement signed last Oct. 31.

RECIPE: from an old Southern plantation

FLAVOR: from FOUR ROSES WHISKEY

A note on the Egg-nog
The egg-nog originated in the South long before the Civil War, and has been a traditional feature of the Christmas festivities there ever since. The "nog" in the name derives from "noggin," meaning a small mug. The Egg-nog should be served in a glass or silver sherbet cup, such as is shown above.

"IRVIN S. COBB'S OWN RECIPE BOOK" describes the Egg-nog and nearly 100 other recipes besides. $100 worth of top-notch humor by America's favorite humorist. Send 10c in stamps for your copy to Frankfort Distilleries, Dept. 26234, Louisville, Ky.

WANT to make a Christmas Egg-nog as smooth and mellow as Southern moonlight itself? Then take this tip:

Make your Egg-nog with Four Roses—a whiskey so rich and full in flavor that hard-to-please connoisseurs chose it over 30 other famous brands in a blind "taste-tournament."

Old-fashioned* American *whiskey

Four Roses is made the only way truly great whiskey can be made, and the only way Frankfort Distilleries have ever made whiskey—by the slow, costly old-fashioned method. Kentucky and Maryland limestone water adds a richness you can get with no other water anywhere. And every drop is American whiskey—made by veterans of the whiskey-making art, under Uncle Sam's own rigid supervision.

Four Roses is a blend of all straight whiskies! Try its wonderful, old-fashioned flavor in an egg-nog, in highballs or "straight." Ask for it in hotels and restaurants—and when you ask for it, insist on getting it! Four Roses is reasonably priced and comes in the tamper-proof Frankfort Pack.

STORMS BATTER ATLANTIC SHIPS; RUDDER BROKEN

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The roaring Atlantic ocean, after claiming two freighters, the Usworth and the Sisto, threatened to add another to its list of victims today when the American freighter Severance, a collier, fell a prey to its rage about nineteen miles southwest of Fire Island.

The Severance, bound from Norfolk, Va., for Beverly, Mass., with a crew of forty-one men and a cargo of coal, won a bitter battle that lasted from 9:20 a. m., when she flashed an appeal for help, until after darkness tonight.

The Associated Press reported that the fishing trawler Widgeon, with twenty-two hands, had sent out a call for assistance from about 100 miles east of Boston. The Widgeon, which had put out from Brooklyn, had a broken air pump and engine trouble. Coast guards answered her call.

Rudder Out of Order.

Capt. Clifford Anderson, master of the Severance, owned by the Diamond Transportation company of Boston, reported in his message that his rudder was out of commission. Immediately the coast guard dispatched the cutter Champlain from Gravesend bay. The cutter got alongside the distressed collier shortly after noon.

The cutter's crew succeeded in get-a line aboard the collier, but the seas broke the five inch hawser. The cutter maneuvered for position again and got a second line aboard the Severance, this time a 12 inch hawser. A few hours afterward this hawser snapped like twine.

Darkness had fallen and the rescue work became doubly difficult. In the meantime, the tug M. Moran had been sent out to assist the coast guard cutter. By the time it arrived, the collier's crew had repaired the rudder sufficiently for the vessel to steam along under her own power.

Speedy Liners Delayed.

At least eight trans-Atlantic liners with great loads of Christmas mail and long passenger lists will be delayed. They are:

Ascania, Cunard, due Tuesday, will dock tomorrow morning.

Caledonia, Anchor Line, due today, will dock tomorrow.

Lafayette, French Line, due this morning, will arrive tomorrow morning.

Empress of Britain, Canadian Pacific Line, due tomorrow morning, will dock tomorrow night.

President Harding, United States Line, due tomorrow, will arrive Sunday.

Europa, North German Lloyd, due tomorrow, will arrive Sunday.

Manhattan, United States Line, due Saturday, will arrive Sunday.

Deutschland, Hamburg-American Line, due tomorrow, will arrive Saturday.

The Europa's delay came from standing by the Norwegian freighter Sisto early yesterday morning with her searchlights trained on the scene while the Hamburg-American liner New York took off the crew of the damaged ship. The Ascania's delay came from her rescue work at the side of the British freighter Usworth.

The worst of the strong westerly gales that have raged over the Atlantic for the last ten days were waning today.

Ship Asks Aid; Afire.

The steamer Ontario tonight reported that fire had broken out in the hold in a message to the coast guard, asking for assistance. The message said, however, that the Ontario was "proceeding to Boston slowly." The steamer Tuscan was following the Ontario in.

HERO OF RESCUE

SISTO STAYED AFLOAT BECAUSE OF LUMBER CARGO, CAPTAIN SAYS

CHERBOURG, France, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The battered and broken Norwegian ship Sisto, from which 17 men were rescued in mid-Atlantic early yesterday, "Floated only because she was loaded with wood," Capt. Joaquim Reinerstein of the Sisto said here tonight.

The tall young veteran of two shipwrecks praised the bravery of the lifeboat crew that put out from the liner New York amid boiling seas and took the captain and his 16 men aboard as they unlashed themselves from the Sisto's upperstructure and plunged into the sea.

A hero's welcome was given Capt. Fritz Kruse, commander of the New York, and his crew on the arrival of the liner here tonight. The Norwegians will stay aboard the New York until it reaches Hamburg, continuing thence to Norway.

DIVER'S PIPE LINE SNAPS; SAVED BY MEN ON STEAMER

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Dec. 20.—A diver at work on the Norwegian steamship Vestvangen, ashore on the north coast of Trinidad, narrowly escaped death today when a pipe line to him was cut in heavy seas.

He lost consciousness in thirty feet of water while his foot was trapped under the ship, which was rolling in the heavy seas. His signals could not have been received had he been conscious because the signal line also snapped.

Men on deck, seeing no movement by the diver, hauled him up, dragging his foot out of his heavy diving boot. The diver, Enos Eldmire, attached to the salvage ship Killerig of Jamaica, was revived on that vessel.

OUST POLICEMAN FOR WOUNDING 7 IN HORSEPLAY

Thomas Normile, the patrolman who wounded seven of his fellows when he fired two bullets from his pistol on Nov. 24 in the squadroom of the First district police station at 11th and State streets, was discharged from the force yesterday after a hearing before the police trial board in the city hall. The charges against him were conduct unbecoming an officer and unlawful use of a weapon.

The shots were fired while the policemen were engaging in horseplay. All of the wounded men have recovered. Normile is 40 years old and lives at 7931 South Wabash avenue. He had been assigned to the Stanton avenue district.

QUARTER BILLION DU PONT POWDER PROFIT DETAILED

Chemical Tarif Increases Are Defended.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A world war profit of more than a quarter billion dollars by the du Pont Powder company, after expenses and taxes had been deducted, was detailed today before the senate munitions committee.

As business figures totaling more than a billion dollars were unfolded, Alfred I. du Pont simultaneously was reported by a committee investigator to have had a gross income of $29,586,000 between 1920 and 1926 on which he did not pay "one cent of income tax."

No Taxable Income.

"None," replied Alger Hiss, the investigator who was testifying at the time.

Evidence then was put forward that Alfred du Pont had incurred such large losses in the Nemours Trading company that his gains were offset.

In showing that the Delaware company had a net war profit of $228,731,000, Hiss, a graduate of Harvard only a few years ago, by oral testimony and the introduction of documentary evidence produced the following figures:

The company's gross business between 1915 and 1918, inclusive, was 1 billion 157 million dollars, of which 225 million was for salaries. A total of 602 million went into materials, $72,000,000 into taxes, and $15,000,000 to employés in bonus payments.

Higher Tarifs Defended.

Successful du Pont efforts to obtain high postwar tarifs on chemical imports were credited today by officials of the Delaware company with saving the American people millions of dollars.

In a defense of the firm's tactics before the senate munitions committee, Irenee du Pont asserted the price of dyes had been reduced more than 50 per cent, rubber tires made doubly durable, and numerous other economical achievements attained "purely as the result of protecting the industry until it could get on its feet," and, he added:

"I am proud of my part in it—even of going to see senators about it."

His assertion grew from a vigorous cross-examination of R. R. M. Carpenter, a retired vice president of the company, about a letter speaking of "unfavorable legislation by the United States."

Need Monarch in War.

Du Pont, always forthright in expressing his opinions, had previously told the committee, in a discussion of the war department's future war plans, that he thought "the only way to wage a war is to have an absolute monarch at the head of the government."

"We will have a hell of a time in case of war," he said. "The only way to wage a war is to prepare in advance. If we are well enough prepared we will never have a war."

On the matter of chemical tarifs, letters from du Pont officials spoke of having "had to sell the Republican senators who don't know anything about it."

A letter from Carpenter to Irenee du Pont, introduced today, brought in the names of the then Senators Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Watson of Indiana, and Henry P. Fletcher, now chairman of the Republican national committee. Watson is to be called before the committee tomorrow.

Office Is Suggested.

It suggested the establishment of a Washington office by the du Ponts as a "hiding place for the legislation" if necessary and as a contact point for sales to the government. Carpenter said he thought a stenographic error had changed "hiving place to hiding place."

It says "hiding place," Irenee du Pont interrupted, "and we can't go beyond that."

The letter too said Watson criticized du Pont legislative methods as "handled the worst of any corporation in the country." It suggested that du Pont "get in touch" with some one who could give advice. One name was mentioned in this connection because "of his very intimate relationship with Fletcher."

Committee members jumped when Fletcher's name entered the discussion.

Mr. Fletcher Identified.

"What Fletcher is that?" asked Chairman Nye.

"Isn't it the Fletcher who once was American ambassador to Chile," said du Pont, with his tongue in his cheek.

"Didn't he have something to do with the National Economy league," said Senator Clark [Dem., Mo.].

"I think," said du Pont, still with an air of assumed naïveté, "that he always has been somewhat prominent in the Republican party."

Three Killed in Blast at du Pont Powder Plant

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Three men were killed tonight when a room at the powder plant of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. at Jessup was wrecked by an explosion.

LATEST ROUTE FOR FLORIDA TRIP DEPICTED

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The Tribune roadster this afternoon completed an inspection on the new alternate route to Florida available for the large number of Chicago motorists who will be departing for southern resorts after the holidays. The alternate south from Nashville uses U.S.-31 to Montgomery, Ala., thence on U.S.-231 to Marianna, Fla., U.S.-90 to Tallahassee, Fla., and thence south into the peninsula over U.S.-19.

Adds Very Little Mileage.

It is only 23 miles farther from here to St. Petersburg, Fla., over this Alabama highway than it is over the long established tourist route using U.S.-41 from here through Chattanooga, Tenn., and Atlanta, Ga. The new pavements offer a pleasant trip for those who have never before been to Florida. They have the attraction of new scenery for those familiar with the old route.

St. Petersburg distances are cited merely as an example. It was from St. Petersburg that The Tribune roadster started its road tour of inspection after two weeks visiting Florida resorts, seeing them enjoying a tourist business this season even bigger than in the winters of the boom.

Pavement Nearly All Good.

Good pavement was found over practically the entire 818 miles to Nashville. The same description is reported for the 465 miles from here to Chicago over U. S. 41 E. to Hopkinsville, Ky., and U. S. 41 for the rest of the distance.

For the first hundred miles north from St. Petersburg, about half the distance was a speedway while the other half was wavy and uncomfortable for speeds over 50 miles an hour. The palms and swamps were left behind to pass through forests of young pine trees being tapped for turpentine. Near Perry, Fla., there was a stretch of five miles on narrow and rough asphalt that will soon be replaced by new pavement.

The Suwanee River of song fame was crossed and for a short distance the road followed its shores of tangled live oaks, vines, Spanish moss, and palmetto. Tallahassee, the capital, 288 miles on the odometer, was reached in a little over five hours. This small city in the forested red clay hills of northern Florida was the home of Napoleon Archille Murat [1801-'47] before and after he gave up his hopes of succeeding his father as king of Naples.

A full moon lighted the hills and the highway when Alabama was reached. This pavement on U. S. 231 was so new that for a stretch of ten miles patrolmen attempted to hold trafic to ten miles an hour while the pavement hardens for a few more days. It was midnight when the roadster reached Montgomery, capital of Alabama and in 1861 capital of the south for the first few weeks of the Confederacy.

Fire Drives 24 Families Into Street in Oak Park

Twenty-four families were driven to the street by a fire of undetermined origin which early yesterday caused $1,000 damage to the Superior Annex apartments, 400 North Taylor avenue, Oak Park. A score of the seventy residents escaped down firemen's ladders after smoke filled the corridors leading to exits. Mrs. Jennie Bell Taintor, 60 years old, was carried down a ladder and taken to the West Suburban hospital suffering from shock and exposure.

Ex-Judge Hayes Is Ordered to Pay on Alimony Arrears

Modifying a recent ruling, Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday ordered Howard Hayes, former Municipal judge, to continue to pay $50 a month on the $400 alimony arrearage he owes his former wife, Mrs. Grace Houston, 1400 Lake Shore drive. Previously Judge Finnegan had ordered all further payments stopped pending a hearing Jan. 16 on Hayes' motion to have the alimony order canceled. Attorney William H. Leigh for Mrs. Houston asked the modification on the ground that nonpayment of the arrearage would be in violation of a previous court order.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

WIVES OF AGENTS NELSON KILLED MAY GET $12,000

Cummings to Ask U. S. Insurance for Men.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Attorney General Homer S. Cummings announced today that he will ask congress to vote $12,000 each to Mrs. Samuel P. Cowley and Mrs. Herman Hollis, widows of the two federal agents slain by "Baby Face" Nelson near Chicago on Nov. 27.

Cummings is considering also a plan whereby the government in the future will buy insurance for all justice department agents, thus protecting their families should they be killed in the federal war on crime.

"We shall prepare a bill for congress to take care of the families of these two agents and of other agents who have died in the line of duty," Cummings said when asked at his press conference if the government was planning to do anything for Mrs. Cowley and Mrs. Hollis.

Asks Aid for Six Others.

Cummings added that he will ask congress to vote this same sum of $12,000 to the family of each of the eight federal agents slain since 1908, a total of $72,000.

"The families of Cowley and Hollis will in fact get a small return without this aid," Cummings explained. "I think under the federal employés' compensation act it is $61.25 a month for the widow and $17.50 a month for each child."

Under these rates Mrs. Cowley and her two children will be paid $1,155 a year, and Mrs. Hollis and her five year old son will receive $933.

Turning to the question of caring for similar situations in the future, Attorney General Cummings suggested that congress might provide insurance for justice department agents.

"I hope the time will come," he said, "when congress will be willing to pay the premiums on the insurance policies of the agents in the service. For the most part our men are underpaid. They have no retirement privileges. Their salaries are about enough to keep them going, and they have a hard time keeping up insurance, especially since many companies are not disposed to write it for them except at very high rates.

"U. S. Ought to Pay Premiums."

"Now one way to solve that problem would be for congress to assume the insurance premiums, and that would answer questions like those raised by Mrs. Cowley and Mrs. Hollis."

Cummings admitted that his suggestion might not be feasible. There are no precedents for it unless war risk insurance is one, and he admitted also that asking such aids for justice agents would immediately raise the question of secret service, postal, interior department, and revenue agents.

Salaries for the 486 justice agents range from $2,930 to $6,500.

4 PRISON TERMS FOR FRIENDS OF DILLINGER PAL

Women Included as Van Meter's Aids.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Penitentiary sentences were imposed by Judge Robert C. Bell in the United States District court here today on two men and two women found guilty of conspiring to harbor the late Homer Van Meter, machine gunner of the John Dillinger mob.

MARIE CONFORTI.

Marie Conforti, Van Meter's girl friend and his companion on many of his crime forays, was sentenced to serve a year and a day in an institution to be selected by the United States district attorney. She pleaded guilty before the trial of the other conspirators began here Monday.

Gets Two Years in Prison.

Thomas Kirwin, 54, of St. Paul, named by government attorneys as the leader of his co-defendants, was given the heaviest sentence. He was ordered to serve two years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth and pay a fine of $10,000.

William A. Gray, also of St. Paul, was sentenced to serve a year and six months at Leavenworth and pay a fine of $5,000.

Mrs. Marie McCarthy, 35, of St. Paul, was ordered to serve a year and a day in an institution to be selected and to pay a $5,000 fine.

All Called Plotters.

The four were charged with conspiracy to conceal Van Meter from the law by hiding him at a resort at Leech Lake, Cass county, in northern Minnesota a few days before he was shot down by St. Paul police on Aug. 23. The jury deliberated about four hours after hearing testimony for three days.

With the exception of Marie Conforti, who was brought here from Chicago to face the charges, the defendants had been held in jail here since Sept. 12.

GRACE FLEMING WINS WRIT FOR COUNTY SALARY

Grace V. Fleming, former county commissioner who left office on Dec. 15, was granted a writ of mandamus by Circuit Judge Joseph Burke yesterday against the county board, which was ordered to pay her $3,375. This amount represents a 15 per cent deduction from her $7,500 yearly salary which went into effect for all county employés three years ago. Mrs. Fleming is the third former county employé to obtain such an order.

Judge Burke recently issued similar writs for John A. Swanson, former state's attorney, and Charles Weber, former county commissioner. Five other suits are pending.

OUTLAW BURNS GOES TO INDIANA IN IRONS, UNDER HEAVY GUARD

Joseph Burns, one of ten convicts who fled from the Michigan City, Ind., prison in 1933 with the aid of John Dillinger, was turned over last night to a delegation of guards from the prison. The guards were led by Warden Lewis Kunkel.

At an early hour today it was uncertain whether Burns, who is under a life sentence for murder in Indiana, was returned to the prison or taken somewhere else for questioning by authorities of that state. Attachés of the prison professed not to know whether he had been returned.

Burns was captured in Chicago last Sunday by Police Captain John Stege and Postal Inspector John McWhorter.

At the postoffice building last night Burns was paraded before a hundred persons in a showup, but none identified him for crimes. In addition to the warden and the guards, Gov. Paul V. McNutt was represented in the Indiana contingent by Wayne Coy, his secretary. The trip was made by automobile.

Attorney General Lutz of Indiana has said that the capture of Burns was not connected with the inquiry he is making into the escape of Dillinger from the Crown Point jail last March.

11 Killed in 16 Months on New San Francisco Bridges

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Eleven men have been killed during the sixteen months' work on San Francisco's two bay bridges.

FILM RIDICULED HIM, MATADOR SAYS ON STAND

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The trial of Sidney Franklin's $300,000 damage suit against Columbia Pictures, based on a short feature picture called "Throwing the Bull," filmed in 1932, began today before Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew, sitting without a jury. The Brooklyn bull fighter was one of the first witnesses.

Franklin's complaint against the moving picture company is that "Throwing the Bull" held him up to public ridicule and contempt by making him personally seem "an extravagant impostor, a liar, and a humbug."

The latter allegation is based on a bit of the spoken description accompanying the moving picture, which went as follows: "And now folks, meet Sidney Franklin, one of the greatest bull throwers—er—er—I mean bull fighters ever born under the sunny skies of Brooklyn."

U. S. May Hit Political "Fronts" for Gangsters

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Attorney General Homer S. Cummings indicated today that he may soon start making public the names of politicians who "front" for gangsters, seeking to win leniency or to obtain paroles or pardons for them. This measure was advocated by the recent crime conference as a means for smashing the alliance of politics and the underworld.

HUEY CAPTURES ANOTHER CITY FROM ENEMIES

Takes Self-Rule from Old Alexandria.

Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—U. S. Senator Huey Long and his legislative henchmen moved today to tear down the legal walls of the old city of Alexandria "as a lurking place for criminals" and to place that city under control of the senator's state machine.

The legislature passed the program of 31 bills by which Long put under state—[he is the state]—control the municipal power of the city of Baton Rouge; curtailed the money of the hostile government of the city of New Orleans; placed a tax of five cents per 45 gallon barrel on the refining of oil.

Long later announced that the new tax, aimed at the Standard Oil company of Louisiana, had been the real object of the calling of the special session of the legislature that adjourned today. Before that adjournment there was a slight sign of revolt. The presiding officer of the senate declared, on what Long regarded as technical grounds, that a rider to a bill, increasing the compensation of an assistant district attorney for Rapides parish to $2,400. Later the same senate official declared that the bill had been carried and it was so ordered.

Long's Revenge Complete.

The U. S. senator, under attack so many times, had his revenge today. The house majorities for his bills were around 64 to 23 and those in the senate 24 to 11. His program was aimed at his foes. These he found in the political and economic arenas. It was recalled that during his campaign for the election of U. S. Senator John H. Overton, Long had received a barrage of passé eggs at the city of Alexandria, which claims to have an older charter than that of New Orleans.

In the matter of the Standard Oil, he had tried to levy a similar tax in 1929 when governor of the state and he had to fight against impeachment in the legislature. He had pledged at that time, some persons recalled today, that he would not seek any similar tax. He got that tax into law today as the signature of Gov. O. K. Allen is just a preordained formula.

Long made a political speech today in which he rehersed his grievances against Alexandria. It was recalled that last month he had a state civil service commission set up to take control of police and fire departments of the state. He said at that time he would act first against Clint O'Malley, chief of police at Alexandria for "permitting two riots in the public square."

Rotten Egging and Stabbing.

The senator referred today to the rotten egging of himself last year and to the stabbing of one of his henchmen at Alexandria last October. While he has as yet taken no steps to remove O'Malley, under the bill passed today, the state administration is authorized to appoint a mayor and two councilmen of that place. As a fillip to the Long victories today was the bill, now passed, giving the state budget committee power of appointment over the 15,000 teachers in the public schools of the state.

Alexandria Church Town.

In the Alexandria brawl Chief O'Malley always declared he never could find out who egged the senator, and Long had vowed, "I'll get the jobs of this Alexandria gang." Alexandria is a college center, the seat of a bishopric of the Catholic church, the center of a district of the Methodist church. It was charged on the floor of the state senate that the city of Alexandria harbored criminals and that its officials protected convicts that escaped from the state prisons. The city is the home of Senator Overton.

"I intend to bust some of these rotten cities," Senator Long said. "They can't build up rings and foster vice with the people's money any longer."

Mayor Lamkin of Alexandria, after being apprised of the legislation to strip him of all authority and have the governor appoint a successor, said: "I don't know what it's all about yet, and of course do not care to rush into print just now, beyond saying I was elected and will await court action before quitting."

The special session also stripped the city and parishes of East Baton Rouge of local self-government, and curtailed the revenues of New Orleans by drawing a larger share of its liquor tax to the state.

Long Must Face Trial.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Rejecting Senator Huey P. Long's claim that his position as a legislator entitles him to immunity from libel action, the District of Columbia Supreme court ruled today that the Louisiana Kingfish must face trial on the $500,000 libel suit filed against him by Samuel T. Ansell.

Attorneys said the opinion, delivered by Justice Peyton Gordon, means that the suit would go to trial soon, unless the senator files an appeal.

Ansell, a former judge advocate general of the army, was counsel for the senate committee which investigated the election of Long's henchman, Senator Overton.

HOLD YOUTHS IN RAPE CASE.

Three youths were held to the grand jury in bonds of $1,000 each by Judge Lambert K. Hayes in the Boys' court yesterday on charges of statutory rape. They are William Crockett, 18 years old, 1926 Hudson avenue; his brother, James, 17 years old, and John Schoetter, 17 years old, 2135 Hudson avenue.

TOYS PROVE HIS STORY OF CRASH; JUDGE IS LENIENT

Ben Spratt, 23 years old, colored, 31 East 28th street, turned Judge Frank M. Padden's Safety court into a momentary toyland yesterday and thereby earned probation for himself on a charge of reckless driving.

Taken into court on complaint of Capt. Michael Hughes of Deering street police, who was injured in a crash between his automobile and a truck driven by Spratt on Nov. 7, Spratt produced a toy automobile and two toy trucks from his coat pockets and demonstrated to the court how the crash, at 31st and State streets, had happened.

Capt. Hughes admitted that the toy car closely resembled his own and that the facts might have been as represented. Another truck, Spratt said, had struck his truck from behind, forcing it into the police captain's car. Spratt promised not to drive for a year.

FOUND DEAD IN BASEMENT.

August Wagner, 75 years old, of 6124 North Maplewood avenue, a retired carpenter, was found dead yesterday, apparently of heart disease, in the basement of his home.

FORESEES GAINS IN OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE CONTROL

Dr. Sappington Predicts Law Governing Suits.

The present trend of the national administration toward social legislation points the way in the near future to amendment of state workingmen's compensation laws to cover occupational diseases in addition to accidental injuries, Dr. C. O. Sappington told members of the Chicago Safety council yesterday at their luncheon at the Palmer house. Dr. Sappington, a physician, is a consultant on industrial medicine.

At present, he pointed out, claims against employers for damages growing out of disease contracted as the result of employment are tried in Illinois and almost all other states under the common law, a situation which he characterized as unfavorable to both employer and employé.

Brings Medical Advances.

Enactment of original compensation statutes acted to advance greatly both the knowledge and the dissemination of knowledge of traumatic surgery, which concerns the treatment of injuries, Dr. Sappington pointed out. Establishment of definite liabilities of employers as to occupational diseases contracted by their workmen will bring similar advancement of medical science in that field, he predicted.

At present, he said, as a by-product of the depression, the combination of unemployment, shyster lawyers and unscrupulous physicians who offer "expert" medical testimony, has reduced many occupational disease suits to the status of a racket. As a result, more and more insurance companiese are refusing to insure employers against liability from such actions.

From the industrial standpoint, he continued, control of the causes of such diseases is much more important than any prospective plans for compensation provisions. Already, he said, there are scientifically accepted standards for measuring occupational disease hazards.

Classification Difficult.

It is difficult to classify any single disease as occupational, Dr. Sappington said. As instances, he cited cancer, which originally is not, but may sometimes be traced to an occupational cause, and lead poisoning, usually regarded as an occupational disease, which may come from causes not occupational.

In the medico-legal forefront of occupational diseases at present is silicosis, a deposit of fine particles of quartz in the lungs to which molders, stonecutters, and many other types of workmen employed in dusty places are subject.

Medical control of this and other occupational diseases may be accomplished by examinations of workmen, periodically renewed, and the substitution of nontoxic for toxic material wherever possible, Dr. Sappington said. Engineers can contribute to occupational disease control with perfection of exhaust ventilation systems and personal respiratory equipment for workmen in hazardous occupations.

FINDS BREAK IN RAIL IN TIME TO SAVE NEW FAST 'ZEPHYR' TRAIN

Council Bluffs, Ia., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Burlington railroad officials today were thanking Millard C. Bachman, operator of the Northern Gas and Pipe Line company's station south of here, for his prompt action in notifying them of a ten inch rail break near the pipe line office.

Bachman noticed the break about 25 minutes before the Zephyr, speed train, was scheduled to leave Council Bluffs. Had the break gone unnoticed, the flyer might have been derailed, as it gains considerable speed at that point.

CITY COAL BOARD SURRENDERS TO NRA PRICE SCALE

Opens Way for Lower Rates, Competition.

After nearly two months of delay, the Chicago retail coal code authority yesterday yielded to the demands of Washington NRA officials by putting into effect the "minimum cost determinations" approved by the NRA. This means that the 3,000 dealers here are now free to sell on a competitive basis as long as they do not use prices lower than the "rock bottom" Washington figures.

In return for its surrender, the Chicago code group won a promise of rigid enforcement of the code from Frank A. Hecht, NRA administrator for the industry. The code authority's complaint had been that Washington failed to give it support in bringing about compliance with code provisions.

Reject Most NRA Figures.

Since midsummer the Chicago code authority had been using "cost determinations" which were so high that they were generally known and used as fixed prices. When, after a review of these figures, the NRA ordered sharp reductions throughout most of the "cost" structure, the Chicago group protested and continued to use its own figures. One exception was relief coal, which NRA boosted to an unprecedented high for this area; this was accepted immediately.

However, a protest was lodged with NRA last week against the high fixed price on relief fuel by Howard O. Hunter, regional administrator for the Federal Emergency Relief administration. At Mr. Hunter's office it was said yesterday that he was on his way to Washington to urge speed in reducing the dealers' margin of $1.88 a ton, which is costing the Illinois relief commission about $5,000 a day extra.

Many Reductions Ordered.

On domestic fuels the Washington figures give dealers margins averaging $1.15 less per ton than was set up by the Chicago code authority. In the "cost catalog" sent to all dealers there are many other reductions.

A new feature is that cash discounts, originally outlawed in the Chicago "emergency" area, may again be allowed. A discount of 25 cents a ton on domestic coal, and of 15 cents a ton on steam coal, is permitted if payment is made within ten days after delivery.

Measles Epidemic Gaining in State, Says Dr. Jirka

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Dr. Frank J. Jirka, state health director, today said a major epidemic of measles apparently is gaining momentum in Illinois and promises to gain unusual magnitude in February or March. Since mid-October, reports of measles cases have steadily increased and about 1,000 fresh cases are now reported weekly, Dr. Jirka said.

WHY NOT GIVE America's favorite?

It's straight as a string—made the good old-fashioned way and stored in charred oak barrels. Because of its honest, straight-from-the-barrel bourbon flavor, millions prefer it to any other straight whiskey.

Alice Bradley Introduced

MISS ALICE BRADLEY.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Alice Bradley Makes Bow at Tea at Casino

With the presentation of Miss Alice Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley, to society yesterday afternoon the gay Christmas debutante whirl was under way to continue unabated through Jan. 2. Before a striking white screen of Christmas trees in the Casino Mr. and Mrs. Bradley and their daughter received their friends between 4 and 7 o'clock.

In her perfect poise and graciousness it was evident that a debut held few fears for Miss Bradley, who has penetrated the interiors of Africa and India on hunting safaris with her parents, dined with notables on a half dozen continents, and matched her artistic talents with the best of those at eastern boarding schools and colleges. While the long guest line passed compliments to her yesterday afternoon, congratulations were also offered her father, for it was his birthday.

Thirty Receive Diplomas from Moody Institute

Thirty persons representing 12 denominations were graduated last night from the Moody Bible institute, La Salle street and Chicago avenue. The Rev. Dr. James M. Gray, president emeritus of the institute, delivered the commencement address. Eight of the graduates plan foreign missionary service; three going to Africa, two to India, and one each to China, South America, and Guatemala.

Historical Society Will Offer Christmas Travelogs

Two Christmas travelogs and an eight reel motion picture, "Lindbergh Flies Alone," will be shown by the Chicago Historical society at its auditorium at Clark street and North avenue Sunday afternoon.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

As we've told you before, beauty kits brought out by the cosmetic houses are all over the place. There aren't enough days in the year to tell you about all the good ones, so we single out today what we think is the neatest kit trick of the season. If your light of love or your best pal is at all beauty minded don't miss it!

In the first place it's really handy—a little point we're afraid a great many manufacturers overlooked in their enthusiasm to climb on the beauty case band wagon. This stunning travel bag is shaped like a large flat purse; you can actually carry it under your arm, although there is a flat handle at the top. Outside it's glazed black, inside a lovely white, washable fabricoid. It zips open at the sides like a portfolio spreads out flat, and presto-chango! there are NINE preparations—elegant ones, too—a cleansing cream, a texture cream, a skin stimulant, a violet astringent and a liquid finishing cream which will be loves of ours as long as we live; powder, a makeup lotion, a hand cream and even a bottle of heavenly eau de cologne!

Inserted in the top is a large, removable mirror. Don't you agree with us that this travel bag really answers the demand for a compact, practical beauty bag? It contains everything you'd need; it isn't another piece of luggage to cope with—and the preparations are honeys. Even the woman who gets no further from home than the loop would love it.

The price is marvelous, thank heaven. You can see it in a couple of shops.

And if you're looking for a little thing of beauty do see the new evening vanity of this same maker, recently presented with very just pride for the Christmas season. It's a tiny affair of silver trimmed ivory enamel centered with a formally beautiful baguette jewel ornament. For one sum—and not a large one, either—you can have a foursome of beauty aids in four combinations. Name the coloring and you have individualized evening powder, cheek rouge, eye shadow and lip rouge for blonde, brunette, titian or the white haired woman. For a smaller sum the vanity is a triple one, with eye shadow omitted.

The triple, like the foursome, is available in the four combinations, too, and with either there is an extra powder refill for daytime use.

It's one of the most distinctive vanities of the year, cleverly compact and beautifully executed. Only a few shops have it. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Six Weddings Add to Gayety of Yule Season

Two Ceremonies Will Be Held Today.

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHRISTMAS presents will be wedding presents for the half-dozen young women who will repeat their marriage vows at fashionable ceremonies between now and Christmas day. At 5 o'clock today St. Chrysostom's church on Dearborn parkway will be filled with society folk for the wedding of Miss Winifred Wheeler and Henry Langenberg McIntyre.

Just a half hour before the Wheeler-McIntyre service, Miss Prudence Emerson Browne of Westport, Conn., and Howard Ketting will be married in the apartment of Mr. Ketting's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ogden Ketting, at 70 Cedar street. Tomorrow Miss Jeanette Schreiner will be married to Paul C. Loeber Jr.; Miss Louise Stanton will become the bride of John Dudley Clemens; and Miss Jane Ashcraft will exchange her wedding vows with William Henry Alexander. On Sunday in New York City Miss Virginia Nicolson and Orson Welles will be married.

The Rev. Dudley Stark will read the ceremony for Miss Wheeler and Mr. McIntyre and a reception will follow at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Campbell Wheeler at 1447 Astor street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. McIntyre of St. Louis.

R. T. Wheeler to Give Sister in Marriage.

Robert Thatcher Wheeler, at home from Yale for the holidays, will give his sister in marriage, and Miss Virginia Waller will be her cousin's maid of honor. Six bridesmaids will precede Miss Waller and the bride to the altar. They are Miss Isabel Gordon, Miss Jean Stevens, Miss Mary Jean Curtis of Grand Rapids, Mich., who will be married to Frank E. Pierce Jr. on New Year's day; Miss Louise Brewer, who is engaged to Frand H. Woods; Miss Anne Small, and Miss Betty Smith.

Arthur Calfee of St. Louis will serve Mr. McIntyre as best man and ushering will be the bridegroom's cousins, Oliver and Harry Langenberg Jr. of St. Louis, Goodwin Johnston, John Disbrow, Charles Bloomfield, Hugh McWilliams, Theodore Chapman, and David Richardson.

Mrs. Mahlon Thatcher, the bride's maternal grandmother, was unable to come east from Pueblo, N. M., for the wedding, but her son, Mahlon Thatcher, will return with a first hand account of the ceremony, for he will be among those present this afternoon. Mrs. Eugene Wheeler is the bride's paternal grandmother.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Ida Huntzinger, and her daughters, Elizabeth, Dorothy, and Ruth, are here from Pasadena, and the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langenberg, came up with his parents from St. Louis.

Following a wedding trip east Mr. McIntyre and his bride will be at home at 211 East Chestnut street.

Browne-Ketting Wedding Small One.

Samuel Insull Jr. will serve Mr. Ketting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ketting of Westport, Conn., as best man when he takes Miss Browne for his bride in a small and quiet ceremony. Miss Browne, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Porter Emerson Browne of Westport, will be unattended.

Besides the Ogden Kettings, only Mr. and Mrs. George Corson Ellis, the Arthur Farwells, Larry Smit, Miss Dorothy Bracken, small Julie Ketting, and little Samuel Insull III. will witness the service, which will be read by the Rev. William S. Meyer, assistant minister of the Fourth Presbyterian church. After the ceremony the bride and bridegroom and guests will move on to Mr. Insull's bachelor apartment in the Seneca hotel for a wedding reception. Mr. Ketting and his bride are to make their home, at least temporarily, at the Seneca, where he has been living.

Although the wedding plans of Miss Browne and Mr. Ketting were revealed for the first time yesterday, they have been friends ever since childhood and have been engaged for many months. They are being married in Chicago since Miss Browne's parents [her mother was Myrtle Suzanne May of stage fame] were married in St. Chrysostom's church 27 years ago. The late Mr. Browne, whose death occurred only a few ALLAN LEVINSON watched the fellow at the adjacent table in the restaurant with some interest. First he ate a bowl of soup, received his check, and went to the cashier's desk and paid it. Then he came back, sat down, and ordered a sandwich. When he had eaten it he again received his check, which he paid. For a third time he sat down, ordered pie and coffee, and received a third check. He thus avoided paying a sales tax, as each check was under the sales tax price limit.

VISITORS to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society offices a few days ago saw a dark eyed man sitting meekly on a bench in the room with the parents seeking aid for their children. He sat there patiently for some 20 minutes. Then it was discovered that he was Leonid Massine, for whom photographers and officials of the society were waiting in the office.

Upon his arrival at the society headquarters to have his picture taken Massine was sent to the wrong room. The young woman in charge has been raving about Massine ever since she saw him dance the rôle of the gay hussar in "Le Beau Danube" last year, but she said of course she didn't recognize him. He didn't have on a pale gray uniform trimmed with white braid.

HAVING attended to no Christmas shopping as yet, the Christmas spirit was suddenly roused in our apathetic breast by coming home and finding blue eyed, fair haired Mary in the kitchen making Christmas goodies. There were three neat little plum puddings, swollen with citron and spices and raisins. There was a whole jar of lebkuchen—just such lebkuchen as you can buy in Nuremberg, dark, rich and spicy, with a little slippery crust of icing. And there was pfeffernussen, sprinkled with sugar and a Bohemian cookie called kalocky, with a cheese filling. . . . So we went to the storage closet, got down the box marked "Christmas Angels," and pulled out from their year-long obscurity the wood German made madonna in flowing, tinted robes, surmounted by an arch of little candles, the two angels that kneel at either side, and the tiny accompanying figures—wee Ethiopians with a votive offering of bright fruit, and golden haired children holding blue bells as candle sockets. These we put on the mantle, and sat down to make out a Christmas shopping list.

WILBUR HALL is a musician with the orchestra that is leaving the Drake hotel as Ferd Grofe's band comes in. Hall recalls an evening when he and Composer Grofe were sitting in a New York café and he was giving voice to Grofe's mastery at orchestration.

"I believe you could write music for a bicycle pump if you had to," he concluded.

"Well, maybe I could, if I could find some one who could play one," Grofe answered.

A month later "Free Air," a concerto for bicycle pumpaa and orchestra was introduced at the Metropolitan Opera. Hall himself was the soloist, bringing forth Grofe's notes by holding his thumb over the nozzle of the pump.

Even Busiest Should Visit These Exhibits

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There are three charming and exciting holiday exhibitions which should be sandwiched in even on the most frenzied shopping tour. In the Roullier galleries, Fine Arts building, an exhibit of etchings by Redmond Stephens Wright claims the attention.

Mr. Wright is a graduate of Harvard. From college he went abroad and traveled extensively. In Europe he fell in love with the craft of etching and studied under Edouard Leon, being also not a little influenced by the technique and enthusiasm of Samuel Chamberlain, himself an American etcher of note.

The etchings flow in a smooth current around the walls of the gallery. They are polished, exquisite, and able work. A suggestion of this or that fine print by an English craftsman haunts one occasionally, but for the most part this is an individual and personal message that Mr. Wright brings. His "Lone Indian, New Mexico," is an admirable conception, as is his spirited "Polo Players."

Various towns of Holland and France have given him material for beautiful prints. "Grasse" is stunning, so is "Bassin St. Malo." His "La Moisson en Normandie" is freighted with the sweaty burden of work in the sun, a hint of Jules Breton guides it.

From this exhibit to that of the five Christmas etchings by Marguerite Kirmse in the Carson Pirie Scott galleries is but a step. Miss Kirmse still remains faithful to dogs and offers an adorable print of two Scotties waiting at the top of a long flight of steps, the brilliant portrait of a hideous but irresistible English bulldog, and three scenes in which hunting dogs figure.

The third holiday exhibit is a rare treat. In the Treasure House, Fine Arts building, one discovers a wealth of unique and beautiful objects of all kinds. There are magnificent Russian icons and gorgeous Russian jewels. These unusual pieces were purchased from Russia not for money but in exchange for wheat and shoes and merchandise.

A 1745 French wedding invitation on parchment is another treasure. The jeweled elephants are entrancingly beautiful and an old desk given to Abraham Lincoln by the French government is of distinct interest.

Irish Celebrate as Lady Moira Forbes Is Wed

NEWTOWN FORBES, Irish Free State, Dec. 20.—(AP)—To the rejoicing of the whole countryside, pretty Lady Moira Forbes, 24 years old, granddaughter of the late Ogden Mills, today became the Christmas bride of Comte Louis de Brantes of France. The bride is a niece of Ogden L. Mills, former U. S. secretary of the treasury.

Two ceremonies, civil and church, united the ancient and honorable Irish and French houses. Tonight this remote Irish village, together with all the country roundabout, was en fête.

School children were turned out of school today to join in cheering the popular French sportsman. Fifty civil guards had their hands full keeping back enthusiastic crowds that pressed toward the doors of the chapel of historic Castle Forbes and the tiny parish church where the ceremonies were performed.

Three hours after the second ceremony the newly-weds left for their honeymoon, part of which probably will be spent at the Paris mansion of the countess of Granard, the former Beatrice Mills.

Four hundred distinguished guests, among them American Chargé d'Affaires James Odenby and the French minister, filled the church chapel for the wedding. The civil service, in accordance with French law, was performed first, and the bishop of Armagh conducted the religious rite.

Film Notables to Make Style Event of Races

Santa Anita Track to Open Christmas Day.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The big fashion turnout and Christmas jollification of the movie crowd is booked to take place at the new Santa Anita race track at Arcadia, about 40 miles east of here, Tuesday. Racing, which until next week will have been abandoned in southern California since 1909, has been seized upon by the film beauties as the proper place to trot out the new togs designed by Adrian, Banton, Newman, Max Ree, Kalloch, and the rest of the studio style creators.

The opening day of the turf revival is Christmas afternoon and the girls will be out in force.

The Los Angeles turf revival has been taken up so enthusiastically by the film colony and has been launched by such socially prominent and financially entrenched California sportsmen that the race course promenade is predicted in local circles to serve as the fashion circus of the winter season [instead of the Florida races], with the film Bennetts, Vinsons, and Shearers getting an anticipatory kick out of the fun they hope to have in outglittering the ermines and sables of the Los Angeles Junior league crowd, who also have rallied around the races.

Professional mannequins have been imported from New York this winter instead of being sent by their shops to Florida in expectation of a big business in new wardrobes after the style promenade at the race course shall have continued for the first few days of the holiday season.

"She," the old Rider Haggard thriller, is to be made in film form at Radio studio, with Irving Pichel and L. C. Holden co-directing.

Mae West started a new film, "Now I'm a Lady," today. Paul Cavanagh is her leading man. . . . Christmas gifts that Mrs. Harold Lloyd is giving her two daughters, Gloria, 10, and Peggy [adopted], 9, are "Shirley Temple dolls."

Film Writers Pick Six Best Stories of 1934

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Screen Writers' Guild announced tonight its annual selection of the six outstanding motion picture stories of 1934.

First place, the result of balloting participated in by 619 members of the guild, went to "It Happened One Night," written by Robert Riskin.

While five awards are made, six stories were announced because two tied for fifth place. Awards announced were:

Second—"The Thin Man," with the screen play written by Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich, from the novel by Dashiell Hammett.

Third—"The House of Rothschild," screen play written by Nunnally Johnson.

Fourth—"One Night of Love," screen play by S. K. Lauren, James Gow and Edmund North.

Fifth—"The Gay Divorcee," screen play by George Marion Jr., Dorothy Yost and Edward Kaufman; and "Of Human Bondage," screen play by Lester Cohan.

Novelty Gifts Sure Fire Hits for Christmas

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Almost a street of shops, all under cover, all within a doorway of one another, gives you a brief idea of what you can do in the way of concentrated shopping. In these shops you can find anything, well, practically anything, for every one on your list.

There's a famous shop full of soft woolens, straight out of the west, and the stuff you'll find will make the most critical man you know shout with glee. Stunning woolen ties as soft and easy to knot as any silk or satin, brilliant scarfs to match these ties, in every imaginable color and color combination invented. All strong nonsissie stuff and just what you have been looking for.

Indian moccasins, for both sexes, woolen shirts, typically western belts, and all kinds of good lether novelties are on display. In the same shop you'll find all the best of the wool mackinaws for winter sports wear, the good looking wool blankets with bright borders and Indian patterns, and, of course, all the well known Indian rugs and decorative blankets.

In another shop you'll find hand woven scarfs, handbags, Afghans, table runners, long oblong shawl scarfs all made in the hills of Kentucky. Perfect color combines, in pastels and stronger shades, will keep you plenty excited. Big couch throws suitable for men come in stunning masculine color contrasts, such as three shades of beige or dark blue, with fringe. If you have fancy invalids or petted grandmothers on your list this shop can solve your problem. And some of the most adorable dolls are completely outfitted in hand crocheted clothes that have real buttons and buttonholes.

Homesick southerners will probably stay an entire morning in the shop guarded by the mammy doll door stop. In this shop you'll find bales of cotton filled with mouth-watering pralines, cans of famous coffee and the drip coffee pots, small framed oil paintings of picturesque spots in New Orleans, and new pieces of lovely blue pottery, featuring tea tiles, cookie jars with covers, candlesticks and bowls.

Hearth brushes made of long pine needles, wooden ash trays with carved musicians playing banjos, everything you haven't seen for years can be found in this tucked away corner. If you want the unusual try these shops.

SANTAS OF RADIO TO HAND OUT JOBS AT $6,000 A WEEK

Christmas for Air Aces Means Rich Contracts.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

A peek into Santa Claus' pack reveals some breath-taking gifts for the top notchers of the airways. Kate Smith seems to be the favorite of Mr. Claus this year. Beginning next week she will be getting $5,000 a week for one program, $1,500 for another, and $650 for a matinée appearance, or $7,150 a week. Eddie Cantor will get $10,000 a program, but only $7,000 goes into his own pockets. Highest paid orchestra is said to be Fred Waring's—$6,000 for one program, $10,000 for two.

The $6,000 a week group: Ed Wynn, Jack Benny, Will Rogers, John Charles Thomas, and Morton Downey.

$3,500—Fred Allen; Guy Lombardo.

$3,000—Burns and Allen, Joe Penner, and Roxy.

$2,800—Rudy Vallee.

$2,500—Helen Hayes and Nino Martini.

Of course, there were many other prize packages, but their content was not readily discernible. Among the others known to be high in the favor of radio's Santa Claus are Wayne King, Ben Bernie, Harry Richman, Paul Whiteman, Mary Pickford, Gladys Swarthout, and Stoopnagle and Budd.

The craze for sponsored amateur programs continues—but we'll bet it begins careening before 1935 is very old. Latest sponsor to dedicate himself to the high purpose of finding stars of tomorrow among barnyard animal imitators and musical saw experts of today is that laxative maker who has had George Gershwin on the air. Ray Perkins will be the master of ceremonies and Arnold Johnson's orchestra will have the task of accompanying the novices.

Fred Allen weakened in his resolution to take a rest and signed a contract which will keep his Town Hall on the air until July. Portland Hoffa, his wife, is said to be a little upset because she has been shopping for new clothes to wear to Florida. . . . Feminine fans will not need to be reminded, but in case any one else is interested—Clark Gable will appear on the Hollywood Hotel hour tonight. . . .

Two New York stations are going on the air with programs offering suggestions to listeners as to where they may bury themselves. One cemetery company has a fifteen minute spot on WOR to be devoted to hymn singing. The other funeral hour on WMCA will concern itself with poetry reading.

Frank Page, 59, Famed Road Builder, Dies in South

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Frank Page, 59, who achieved wide recognition in the field of highway construction, died in a hospital here today. A former president of the American Roadbuilders' association, he also was ranked among the leading bankers of the south. He was a brother of Walter Hines Page, former American ambassador to Great Britain.

Col. H. G. Hester, Cotton Statistics Expert, Dies

New Orleans, La., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Col. Henry G. Hester, 88, secretary emeritus of the New Orleans Cotton exchange and a world authority on cotton statistics, died here tonight after a week's illness.

SMITTY—TAKEN FOR A SLEIGH RIDE

SECOND VICTIM DIES AFTER AUTO HITS STREET CAR

Thomas E. Whalen, 40 years old, 1748 Garfield boulevard, a county investigator, died yesterday in the Little Company of Mary hospital, the second victim of an automobile crash on Western avenue, near 83d street, Wednesday. William Carr, 45 years old, 6011 South Albany avenue, driver of the car, was killed when the machine skidded and collided with a street car.

Whalen's death brought the 1934 Cook county trafic toll to 1,209.

Edwin Swartz, 28 years old, whose address was given as 328 West Jackson boulevard, and his colored driver, Lonnie Bowens, 28 years old, 3571 Giles avenue, died in a Bellevue, O., hospital yesterday of injuries incurred near there Wednesday night when an automobile crashed into a truck.

Mrs. Edward Barrow, 40 years old, 1425 North Dearborn street, died yesterday of injuries suffered Monday when her automobile overturned on highway 61, near New Madrid, Mo. She was the wife of the manager of the Parkside hotel.

Municipal Judge John Gutknecht was praised for his campaign to enforce trafic ordinances yesterday by George W. Young, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce. In a letter to Judge Gutknecht, Mr. Young declared that "the fearless manner in which you are conducting the trafic court should have a beneficial effect on the driving public."

FRANK BEAL, 72, PIONEER MOVIE DIRECTOR, DEAD

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Frank Beal, 72, pioneer director in motion pictures, died at a convalescent home today after an illness of several months.

Born in Cleveland, Beal went on the stage when 18. He became well known both as an actor and a stage director and was one of the first prominent figures of the theatrical industry to quit for motion pictures, joining the old Selig company of Chicago as a director in 1908.

Several years later he joined the budding motion picture colony of southern California and directed for the old American Film company, Universal, and Fox. Ten years ago he gave up directing and returned to acting. His last appearance was in "Dr. Bull" with Will Rogers.

Former Congressman W. L. La Follette Is Dead

Colfax, Wash., Dec. 20.—(AP)—W. L. La Follette, 74, Republican congressman from the Fourth Washington district from 1910 to 1918, and a cousin of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, died at a hospital here today. He had been ill a week from pneumonia.

RALPH C. AUSTIN DEAD; EX-JUDGE OF WILL COUNTY

Ralph C. Austin, 48 years old, for eight years county judge of Will county until his voluntary retirement on Dec. 1, died of a heart attack in his home in Joliet yesterday.

As a young man Mr. Austin resigned as city editor of the old Joliet News to enter the Kent College of Law in Chicago, from which he was graduated in 1912. Then he entered law practice in Joliet and in 1924 he was appointed assistant state's attorney. Two years later he was elected on the Republican ticket as county judge. Ill health caused him to decline to run for reëlection this year.

He is survived by his widow, the former Laura Merritt of Joliet, and his father, Augustus Austin of Morrison. The funeral will be held today.

Lain & SON
SINCE 1891—
A SIGN of SERVICE

Pioneers in protecting the public against high funeral costs, Lain & Son have always set the standard of service.

Today, Lain holds more services in a month than the average undertaker has in a year. No other Chapel in Chicago holds as many services as Lain's.

Because of this leadership, Lain includes these exclusive features with all services, even those as low as $110:

Conditioned Air

Protects the health of all who attend Lain Chapel services—provides an abundance of air washed and purified and circulated at correct temperature.

Imperial Quartet

Lain was the first Chapel to include with all services—the Imperial Male Quartet, Organist and Organ.

Price Protection

Lain was the first to answer the price question by publishing the cost of 1,000 funerals; showing that more than one-third of Lain services actually cost less than $200. Also, to price-mark all merchandise.

Highest Quality

Lain's prices are lower because of volume. All merchandise is bought on a cash basis from reliable manufacturers only; we never offer "bargains" or "seconds" in merchandise.

Lain's personnel has few changes over the years, and with the most modern of facilities—render a service that cannot be equalled.

To secure this finer type of service, call Lain—no matter where you live in Chicago or Suburbs.

COOKING EDITOR GIVES ADVICE ON ROAST TURKEY

Tells How to Select, Stuff, Cook Holiday Fowl.

The booklet "What for Dessert? Thirty-two Answers" is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Turkeys are back again—with bells on! And this time they are Christmas bells, though we seem hardly to have recovered from the bounty of the Thanksgiving bird.

No shortage this year among the gobblers, nor have we heard about any shortage of appetites for roast turkey dinners. And again up comes the question: How big shall our turkey be to satisfy the in-laws? Shall we choose a lady hen or a gentleman tom? How much dressing can we tuck away in its interior? And how long will we have to roast it for the bird to reach just that golden brownness which spells perfection?

As for the size of the bird, it's safe to allow ¾ to 1 pound of turkey, as purchased, for each person to be served. This term "as purchased" means undrawn, and with head and feet on as the birds are shown in the market.

Either a tom or a hen will be a good buy. The latter usually has a wider, deeper breast than the tom. Often you'll find hens sold at a slightly lower price than asked for the males of the species. However, I have met few diners who in a blindfold test could tell the difference between the meat quality of the two.

This business of making stuffing will take a bit of simple figuring. Usually we can estimate that a 19 pound turkey will engulf [if we are using a celery-almond stuffing] from 2½ to 3 one pound loaves of bread, 1 pound of butter or rendered turkey fat, 1 pound [3 cups] of blanched almonds, and ½ to 1 pound of combined sliced celery and minced celery leaves.

If your turkey is only a 10 pounder you will need about 1¾ one pound loaves of bread, ½ pound butter or rendered turkey fat, ½ pound sliced celery and leaves, and ½ pound blanched almonds. While of course this is only one of the many dressings folks enjoy in their turkeys, the amount of bread is a good basic figure. Oysters, chestnuts, fruit, or what-you-will may be substituted for the celery and almonds.

Another tip should help the meal-maker who just never has a big enough roasting pan for the pounds of turkey to be cooked. It is not at all necessary to have a covered container. Any large flat pan will do—perfectly roasted birds have been cooked on nothing more elaborate than a broiler pan. Simply place the bird on the broiler pan and slip it into the oven on the lowest rack.

One point must be watched, however, when an open roaster is used. If exposed to the heat of the oven all during the cooking the skin of the fowl tends to become toughened and hard. The best solution is that of covering the bird with a flour paste. For a 17 to 19 pound bird this paste will take 5½ cups of flour blended with from ½ to ¾ cup of milk or water. Spread this carefully over the entire bird. The skin will brown beautifully under the paste, but will at the same time remain tender and leave the meat juicy and pleasing. At the end of the cooking, off comes the flour overcoat. By using this method we do away with all watching and basting.

The roasting time is our last problem to settle. Searing is not necessary. Excellent results come when we simply cook the bird for the entire period in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.]. This is the same whether or not the flour paste is used. From Miss Belle Lowe of Iowa State college comes the following time table for cooking fowl at 350 degrees F.:

7 pounds	25 minutes	3 hours
12 pounds	19 minutes	3¾ hours
18 pounds	17 minutes	5 hours
22 pounds	15 minutes	5½ hours

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: All Kinds of People

Former Musical Comedy Star Plunges to Her Death

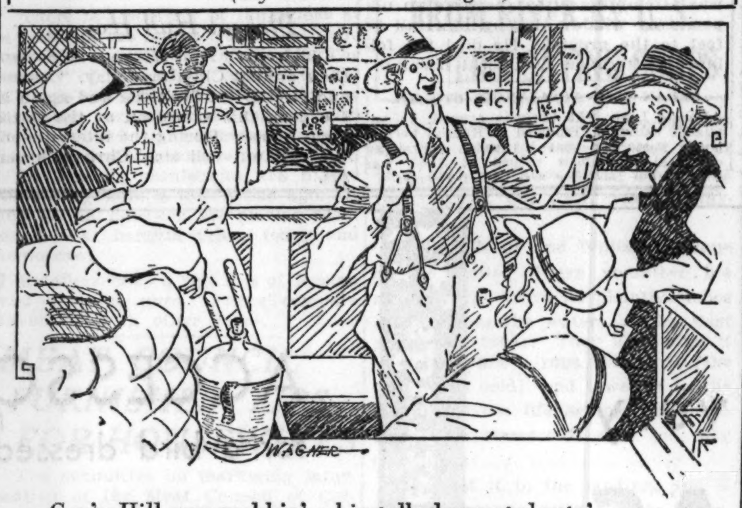
New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Bennett Danahy, 39, former musical comedy star, plunged to her death from the roof of a six story apartment building on West 45th street early today. Her husband, James Danahy, expressed belief she had gone to the roof for fresh air and that the fall was accidental. They lived in an apartment on the third floor. Danahy said his wife had been suffering from a nervous disorder.

'Yawning Woman' and Her Husband Leave Hospital

Sterling, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Harold McKee of Round Grove, Ill., who attracted nation-wide attention as the "yawning woman," today was released from Sterling Public hospital and returned to her home. Her husband, said to be incurably ill, whose care is called partly responsible for the nervous condition which caused the yawning and who was taken to the hospital with his wife, also returned home.

Yankees Caint Fool de Cap'n

(By Edward F. Younger.)



Cap'n Hill wuz mekkin' a big talk down at de sto'

NEW TEA WAGON PROVES BOON TO BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Useful in a Large or Small Kitchen.

Ames, Ia., Nov. 15.—A kind of glorified tea cart which solves two kitchen problems has just been devised by Lenore Sater, professor of household equipment at Iowa State college.

The cart, a boon either to the woman who keeps house with a kitchen barely large enough to turn around in, or the woman with one of the famed "half-acre" variety, takes the place both of a storage cabinet and a kitchen table.

A generous sized drawer at the top, in which dishes are to be stored, is the chief feature of the cart, which rolls on ball bearing wheels. The drawer, however, doesn't pull out. Instead, a table top, which lifts up, is placed over it.

In this way the cart may be used as a kitchen table. But when dinner time comes, the cart can be wheeled into the dining room, the lid lifted, and the dishes and silver taken out to be placed on the table. The silver is placed in pockets made of ticking which have been fastened to the underside of the lid.

After dinner, the cart may be used to stack the dishes in, then be wheeled to the sink, the dishes washed and replaced in it.

Mrs. Sater suggests that the cart might be made from an old-fashioned washstand, with the addition of the drawer, lid, silver pockets and wheels.

Household Hints

Frankfurters made with wine are announced by a Boston manufacturer. This new product is blended from fresh meats, spices, and native wines in such a way that not only is the food value enhanced, but a new, delicious flavor also is created.

GAY COOKIES ADD TOUCH OF YULE TO HOLIDAY TIME

Custom Requires All Family to Stir Them.

Gay cookies and cakes in fascinating shapes or decorated with white frosting, red cinnamon candies, and touches of green candied grapefruit peel are simple ways to add a touch of Christmas spirit to the holiday season.

PFEFFERNUSSE [Peppernuts].

4 cups of sirup or molasses.
½ cup of sugar.
⅜ cup of shortening.
1½ teaspoons each of cinnamon.
Cloves and pepper.
½ teaspoon of allspice and nutmeg.
½ teaspoon of salt.
2 teaspoons of soda, dissolved in a little coffee.
2 tablespoons of anise seed.
Enough sifted flour to make a dough that rolls easily.

Mix the ingredients in the order given. Sift the spices with some of the flour before it is added. Roll out dough ¼ to ½ inch thick and cut it in tiny rounds about the size of a quarter. Bake in a quick oven at 400 degrees Fahrenheit until brown. Roll at once in powdered sugar, and pack away in a jar.

BUTTERSCOTCH BARS.

4 eggs, beaten light.
1½ cups of pastry flour.
2 teaspoons of baking powder.
¼ teaspoon of salt.

Mix the sugar with the beaten eggs and cook them in the top of the double boiler for 20 minutes. Stir frequently. While this cools to a lukewarm temperature, sift together the sifted flour, baking powder and salt. Add the flour mixture to the cooled egg mixture and stir in a cupful of chopped nuts. Spread the mixture on a shallow greased pan, and bake it at 350 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 minutes. When it cools slightly cut the cake into bars and dust them with powdered sugar.

HOLLAND LACE COOKIES.

1 cup of sugar.
1 cup of butter.
A little more than 2 cups of flour.
1 teaspoon of baking powder.
½ teaspoon of soda.
¼ teaspoon of salt.

Slowly heat together the molasses, sugar, salt, vinegar and butter. Allow the mixture to boil one minute. Then remove the pan from the fire. Add the flour, sifted with the soda and baking powder and stir it well. Set the vessel in a pan of hot water and stir until the mixture thickens. Drop three teaspoons of the batter three inches apart for each cookie, on buttered baking sheets. Bake the cookies at 350 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit until they are brown. Allow them to cool a bit, then remove the cookies quickly with a buttered spatula, and roll them slightly while they are soft.

ALMOND FINGERS.

1-3 cup of almond meats.
2 cups of flour.
1 cup of butter.
1 egg.
1 teaspoon of milk.
1 teaspoon of baking powder.
1 tablespoon of granulated sugar.
A few drops of vanilla.

Rub the butter into the flour until it is well mixed, then add the granulated sugar and the baking powder, sifted together with a little of the flour. Make a paste of the egg yolk mixed with about 1 teaspoon of milk, and stir it into the flour mixture. Mix well and then roll the mixture out into a thin sheet. Beat the white of the egg until it is stiff, add the powdered sugar and the vanilla and spread it thinly over the cookie mixture. Chop the almonds fine and sprinkle them over the icing. Cut into strips the size of a finger and bake to a light brown at 350 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

½ cup thick cream
2 cups pecans

Boil the sugar, sirup, and cream until the mixture will form a soft ball in cold water. Remove from the burner and beat until creamy. Add the nuts and drop from a spoon on waxed paper.

CARAMEL PARFAIT.

½ cup sugar
⅓ cup boiling water
3 egg yolks
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups whipping cream

Cook the half cup of sugar to the caramel stage, add the boiling water, and stir. Let cool until the caramel is dissolved and thickened slightly. Beat the egg yolks, add the sugar and salt, and combine thoroughly. Gradually add the caramel sirup. Place the mixture in a double boiler and cook until it thickens; then chill. Fold in the whipped cream, pour into a refrigerator freezing tray, and freeze for three to four hours. Sprinkle each serving with blanched almonds which have been sliced and browned.

PEANUT BUTTER AND TOMATO SOUP.

1 quart tomatoes
½ cup peanut butter
1 tablespoon flour
Salt and pepper to taste

Pour off about a cup of the tomato juice and put the rest of the tomatoes on to heat. Blend the tomato juice with the peanut butter and flour until smooth and stir gradually into the hot tomatoes. Cook the soup for a few minutes and if it is too thick add a little water. Season to taste with salt and pepper, and serve hot with toasted bread or crackers. If a smoother soup is desired put the hot tomatoes through a sieve to divide the pulp and take out all seeds.

CORN AND TOMATO EN CASSEROLE.

Butter a casserole and fill it with alternate layers of canned corn and canned tomatoes. Season the vegetables with salt, pepper, butter, and a little fine chopped green pepper if desired. Cover the top with buttered bread crums and bake at from 350 to 400 degrees F. for thirty minutes.

CRANBERRY AND BANANA PIE

1½ cups granulated sugar
3 cups cranberries
3 tablespoons flour
3 eggs
2 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1 banana, sliced

DIRECTIONS—Mix the flour, sugar, melted butter, and egg yolks in a bowl and then add the cranberries and bananas. Line pie tin with pastry and turn filling into pie tin, cover top with pastry, and bake at 400° F. until pastry is done.

CHICAGO WIDOW FILES FIRST SUIT IN HOTEL BLAZE

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The first suit for damages as a result of the Hotel Kerns fire here on Dec. 11, which took more than 30 lives, was filed in Ingham County Circuit court today on behalf of Mrs. James A. Gratrix of Chicago, widow of one of the victims.

Attorney Lloyd T. Bailey of Chicago filed suit for $50,000 against the hotel corporation. The action charges negligence in spreading the alarm and failure to provide sufficient fire escapes and safety devices.

James Gratrix, 50, a salesman for the American Screw company for 34 years, was in Lansing on a business trip and was a guest of the hotel on the night of the disaster. He died of injuries incurred when he fell to the ground while trying to slide down a rope he had improvised from bedclothes. According to the bill the flames burned the knotted bed sheets as he was attempting to escape from an upper stroy window, letting him fall 30 feet to the ground. He died the following afternoon in a local hospital.

SEDAN AND APPLIANCES STOLEN.

Harold Lash, 951 Cornelia avenue, an appliance salesman, reported to Hudson avenue police yesterday that his sedan containing electrical appliances valued at $145 was stolen from Larrabee and Center streets.

18 UNDERWEIGHT CHILDREN GAIN ON HOT LUNCHES

Ithaca, N. Y., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Eighteen underweight children in one rural school in Ulster county have gained from one to seven pounds in five weeks because of a daily hot lunch served at school, says the New York state college of home economics.

At the request of the school officials, and of mothers whose children attend the school, a food and nutrition specialist from the college has been aiding teachers in planning and serving.

When the children entered school last fall, seventeen out of the nineteen in one school were underweight. These had received milk at school as a between meal lunch, but the food brought in some of the lunch boxes was lacking both in quality and quantity.

The combination of the milk, a hot dish served at school, and additional food in their lunch boxes within five weeks caused all but one of these children to gain from one to seven pounds, as well as to show other improvement, the school nurse says.

Play at Hull House.

Children at Hull House will present their annual Christmas play, "Hansel and Gretel," at 2 o'clock and again at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the settlement house. During the intermissions the children will sing Christmas carols.

SANTA CLAUS AIDED BY MRS. ROOSEVELT IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt assisted Santa Claus in the distribution of gifts this afternoon at the Townsend Square building of the Boys' Club of New York. Numerous other yuletide celebrations were scheduled for today and tomorrow throughout the metropolitan area.

A week of public festivities was begun this afternoon at Rockefeller center when from a seventy foot Christmas tree in the sunken Plaza a series of Christmas carols burst forth suddenly, apparently from the heart of the tree. However, the music really was coming from the music hall organ, played by Richard Leibert.

WILL DISCUSS FAMOUS TRIALS.

Attorney Emmet F. Byrne, former assistant state's attorney, will speak tonight at a meeting of the Blackstone chapter, Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity, in the Great Northern hotel. His topic will be "Sidelights of Famous Trials."

HEINZ wishes you a very MERRY CHRISTMAS

—with jars and with tins full of pleasure (—AND LEISURE!)

How will your DINNER BEGIN

WHICH of these 18 SOUPS?

Bean Soup	Mock Turtle
Onion Soup	Vegetable
Consommé	Cream of Spinach
Pepper Pot	Cream of Mushroom
Noodle	Cream of Oyster
Beef Broth	Cream of Asparagus
Gumbo Creole	Cream of Green Pea
Clam Chowder	Cream of Celery
Scotch Broth	Cream of Tomato

We can help you get your Christmas feast away to a great start, with our home-recipe soups. There are 18 of them—cooked of garden vegetables, and prime meats, and sprightly spices we bring from the Far East. Then, when each soup is finished, we taste it so we can assure you it's perfect. (Important, because things must be right for Christmas.) And you don't add or stir in anything, you just heat and serve.

If you favor a creamy rich soup, we suggest Heinz Cream of Mushroom. If a broth seems best, Heinz Gumbo Creole. Anyway here is the list, and the soups are at your grocer's.

ACCESSORIES for a bird dressed for dinner!

HEINZ luscious jellies

We make them the sure, simple way that Grandmother did: of selected ripe fruits and pure granulated sugar. So their flavor is the real old-fashioned thing, and they are fit accessories for the year's most important meal. Four kinds: Red Currant Jelly, Crab Apple Jelly, Grape Jelly and Quince Jelly.

HEINZ lively pickles —10 kinds!

Pickles put excitement in the feast, so serve several kinds. Heinz pickles are made of crisp fresh vegetables, and fine Heinz vinegars, and rarest spices. We suggest sweet gherkins and India relish. Also Heinz imported Spanish olives, big queens or pimiento-stuffed ones.

HEINZ famous sauces

We send you sauces to do justly by your holiday cooking. Heinz Chili Sauce, rich, thick and ripe-tomato red. Heinz Worcestershire Sauce, Old English in type. Heinz Beefsteak Sauce, too.

The fruits of travel go into HEINZ HOLIDAY DESSERTS

HEINZ PUDDINGS: Our Plum Pudding got its recipe from Olde Englande. Luscious fruits from far lands it calls for, and much ceremonious ado in the making. But oh! it is rich and fine and teeming with Christmas thrills. And no travail, for you simply heat and serve. Heinz date pudding and fig pudding, too, are just as grand.

HEINZ MINCE MEAT: With commendable diligence we have stirred together prime beef and suet, Valencia raisins, Grecian currants, candied citron, lemon peel and firm ripe apples. Each has yielded up its delightfulness and the end of it all is extra-specially superb mince meat to fill your holiday pastries. In tins or jars.

How HEINZ wakes up your salad's flavors

We age Heinz Vinegars many months in wood. We go to the Heinz factory in Seville, Spain, for olive oil pressed from choicest olives. The months of aging and the miles we go are worth it. For these two really do wake up the good flavors of your holiday salad. 4 Vinegars: Malt, Tarragon, White Pickling, and Cider Vinegar.

A Reunion of Old Timers

We have brought together, in one yellow labeled tin, the oven-baked beans, the savory molasses sauce and the juicy pork that you remember fondly from the feasts of childhood days. We mention Boston baked beans now because Christmas is home-coming time and the well-loved, old-time family dishes are the order of the day. Heinz Oven-Baked Beans, Boston style are the homemade kind—delightful to sniff, to taste, to devour, to pass back for more. And a godsend on busy holidays, for they're all ready to heat a few minutes and serve—a square and scrumptious meal, minus work and worry.

MEAT PRICES DIP, BUT YULE TURKEY WILL BE HIGHER

Bargains Prevail This Week on Regular Food.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Turkeys for Christmas dinners in Chicago will be several cents a pound higher than they were at Thanksgiving. Merchants indicate that the supply will be adequate, especially since prices of meats generally are slightly lower than they were during the Thanksgiving holidays. Practically all meats are lower in price than they were five or six weeks ago, except lamb, roast chicken, and turkey.

Holiday shoppers today and tomorrow will find veal leading the decline in most butcher shops. Beef steaks and roasts are next on the list of meats that are selling at lower prices. Pork also is following the downward trend, according to a survey of retail stores in the city and suburbs yesterday. There are some bargains offered in fresh baby haddock and fresh herring.

Oysters Join the Decline.

Retailers are offering plenty of food at reasonable prices for families that are planning big Christmas dinners. There is some decrease in the price of oysters commonly used in the holiday menu. Cured ham and some of the sausage meats are down in price. Sugar, coffee, and sweet potatoes are among the foods that are less than they were at Thanksgiving. Grapefruit is still offered at reasonable prices. Oranges are better bargains because the price per dozen has not been advanced and the fruit is running larger in size than it was earlier in the season. Bananas are generally cheaper.

Prices have changed little if any in most retail stores on many of the foods that are regularly on the shopper's list, including butter, eggs, potatoes, turnips, bread, bottled and canned milk, cooking apples, radishes, carrots, and canned corn and peas.

Cabbage Slightly Higher.

Comparatively few foods are higher in price than they were when shoppers went out to fill their baskets for the Thanksgiving dinner. Among the foods that are slightly higher are cabbage, squash, eating apples, fresh tomatoes, celery, and spinach.

There is a scarcity of tangerines as a result of the recent freeze that damaged the citrus groves of Florida. The quality of tangerines coming to the Chicago market is low. Relatively few hothouse cucumbers are on the market. Spinach is somewhat scarce. Head lettuce of good quality is higher.

In general, cranberries are higher than they were a few weeks ago. A few stores, however, are placing them on sale at bargain prices today and tomorrow.

MEAT COUNCIL FURNISHES TIPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

The committee on marketing information of the Meat Council of Chicago yesterday issued the following report for the guidance of housewives purchasing meat in Chicago retail meat stores:

"Roast leg of veal and veal steak are recommended to housewives as unusually economical meat buys in Chicago meat stores over the coming week-end. Smoked meats, especially smoked ham, also are recommended as attractive and useful buys for use over the week-end and at Christmas."

Party for Children.

LAZY CALF RESCUED FROM RIVER BY U. S. LIFE SAVING CORPS

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—It was the laziest, cussedest calf that's been seen in these parts for a long time, but it got itself rescued anyhow.

William Kelly and William Spillane of the United States volunteer life saving corps heard its plaintive moos arising from the waters of the East river early today. They went after it in a boat, got a rope around it [the water was cold], and towed it to the landing of the life saving station at East 55th street. It was too lazy to swim.

They got it to the landing, and it was too lazy to walk up the steps. So they carried it—all 150 pounds of it—in to a stove and rubbed it down and got it warm. They called the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which sent a truck. But the calf was too lazy to walk to the truck. They carried it again.

Attendants offered it a bucket of warm milk, but the calf wouldn't touch it. They thought then it was too lazy to eat.

But the calf spotted a bale of hay and started eating heartily. It was an adolescent calf.

BEEF SHORT RIBS A POPULAR MEAT WITH MOST MEN

Dish Easy to Serve and Prepare.

Although braised short ribs of beef will prove a popular dish with the entire family, it is a special favorite of the man of the house. The housewife, too, will find short ribs a welcome addition to her menu plans, for they have the double advantage of being easily cooked and easily served.

Short ribs are cut from the long end of the rib roast, this meat being less tender than some other cuts. Braise the short ribs slowly and serve them with a rich brown gravy to get the best results.

Braised Short Ribs of Beef.

Select three to four pounds of well fleshed short ribs of beef. Cut between the ribs and trim off any excess fat. Sprinkle the meat with salt, pepper, and flour. Brown well on all sides in some of the melted suet. Then lay the short ribs on a rack in a roasting pan, add one cup of water, cover closely, and cook in a moderately hot oven [375 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit] for one, one and a half, to two hours, or until the meat is very tender.

Short Ribs with Vegetables.

To make gravy, skim the excess fat from the pan drippings. Dilute the drippings with water, if desired. For each cup of gravy mix one to two tablespoons of flour with a small quantity of the drippings. Add the mixture to the drippings and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until smooth. Season to taste with salt and pepper, and add chopped parsley, if desired.

Brown desired quantity of shortribs in hot frying pan. Place in covered casserole with a few slices of onion. Add salt and pepper and cook slowly for about three hours. When cooked, remove ribs, thicken liquid with flour, reheat, and serve together.

If desired, boiled potatoes, peas, onions, diced turnips, and carrots may be added to the gravy or served separately.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Patrons of A Century of Progress in 1934 consumed 4,600,000 hamburger sandwiches, 2,000,000 hot dogs, 2,000,000 gallons of coffee, 775,000 bowls of chili con carne, 100,000 corned beef hash sandwiches, 7,000 hot tamales, and 900,000 ham sandwiches. In addition, at one restaurant, operated by a packing company, 34,980,000 slices of bacon were served over the counter and 159,000 steak dinners were provided.

DIET FADS BASED ON FANCY, SAYS COLLEGE EXPERT

Amherst, Mass., Dec. 20.—A diet of simple, common foods in the right proportions and amounts will be much more satisfactory for most normal people than the fads which are continually springing up, believes Miss May Foley, nutrition specialist of the Massachusetts State college. Most of these eating fads, according to Miss Foley, are based upon fancy, rather than fact.

One of the common food fads is the one which advises separating proteins from starches, and not eating both at the same meal. Many people refuse to eat both meat and potato at the same meal, because meat is protein and potato is largely starch. Yet, these same people eat bread, beans, breakfast cereal, all of which contain both starch and protein, without suffering any ill effects.

"In fact," says Miss Foley, "there is no food in natural form that does not have protein, starch, and fat combined in some proportions; so if the principle of eating only one foodstuff at a time is correct, we shall have to start a the beginning and change nature."

There is a theory that white bread is harmful. But Miss Foley says there is no basis for this idea. White bread is good and cheap food. Its principal fault lies in its ability to produce extra weight in those who already weigh enough. Dark breads made from whole grain cereals contains more food value than white bread, but white bread is not injurious.

Old ideas about poisons in eggplant and cucumbers have been dispelled.

RED STEFAN

By PATRICIA WENTWORTH.

SYNOPSIS.

Stephen Enderby, an Englishman, is stealing out of Russia, where he is known as Stefan Ivanovitch, when he sees a woman standing on a bridge, evidently bent on freezing to death. He has seen her before in the town and admired her. He offers to take her home, but she tells him she has nowhere to go. She is Elizabeth Radin, widow of an executed engineer. Though English her husband was half Russian. Since his death she had cared for Commissar Petroff's aged mother. The mother died and Elizabeth had run off to escape the commissar. Stephen takes her with him. They travel by cart driven by an old man named Yuri.

INSTALMENT V.

A SPY'S STORY.

They jolted along for a minute or two after that and neither spoke. Then Stephen said:

"I'd like to tell you what I'm doing here. It's quite interesting. We've got a long way to go, so we may as well talk. I'll tell you the story of my life and then you can tell me the story of yours—that is, if you'd like to. And when we've finished both our stories, we can decide what we're going to do next."

Elizabeth felt a little startled. He had seemed so calm and purposeful that she had made sure he had everything planned.

"Don't you know?" she asked.

"Not yet. But it'll be all right—something will turn up. We're out of that beastly hole of a town anyhow. Well, now—shall I begin, or will you?" He sounded a little like the child who offers a ride on the rocking horse which he is yearning to bestride himself.

She made haste to say, "You, please," and immediately he was in the saddle.

She was aware of him sitting up beside her in the straw, hugging his knees. His voice came from only a few inches away. When the cart went over a rut or hole they were thrown together and then jolted apart again. He talked eagerly and as if it was a pleasure to him to be speaking English.

"I'm quite English, you know, on both sides. My father was killed in the Boer war. He was really an engineer, but he went out with a battalion of mounted infantry. I'm the same age as the century, and when I was 2 my mother married a member of the Darensky family and took me with her to Russia. Paul Darensky had a big country place which he only visited once or twice a year. My mother was pretty and young and gay, and they both liked society, so they lived in Petrograd and entertained a great deal, and I ran wild on the estate with the peasants' children."

Elizabeth said almost involuntarily:

"O, poor little boy!"

"Why?" said Stephen. "I had a very good time. I was much fonder of my nurse than I was of my mother. She had a married brother on the estate, and his wife Katinka had about twenty children. I was friends with them all."

"I shouldn't have thought you'd have learned any English."

"I didn't. And then my mother suddenly got shocked at my being a little savage, and she went to the other extreme and got me an English tutor and a French governess." He laughed. "They amused each other at any rate—and I did learn French and English."

"Nothing else?"

"O, the usual things. Grant was quite an efficient fellow. He didn't bother me out of lesson hours, so we got on all right. Then, when I was 12, my mother died and I was packed off to my guardian in England. He was a cousin of my father's, and he had a big estate on the Devon-Somerset border. His name was Robert Carey, and we never stopped being total strangers, like I told you."

"Didn't you go to school?"

"Yes, rather. I'd have blown up if I'd had to stay there with old Carey. He sent me to Marlborough."

"How did you get on there?"

"O, I always get on. I had to knock one or two people down for calling me a foreigner, and then we were all right. I didn't have to see too much of old Carey, because I spent a good part of the holidays in Russia with Paul Darensky. He didn't take any notice of me, but he liked having me there. He'd been awfully in love with my mother and couldn't get over her death—just moped about on the estate and gave up all his friends. Well, when I was 14 the war started and I didn't go to Russia any more. My Lord, how fed up I got with old Carey!" He paused. "Now that's all very dull stuff. I hope you haven't gone to sleep. It gets more interesting as it goes on—at least I hope you'll think so. I wanted to enlist in '17, but old Carey swore he'd dig me out of any battalion I got into. And then the revolution broke out over here. Kerensky had his shot at making a government, and in November the Reds got the upper hand and there was the devil to pay. The army broke up, the men murdered their officers, the country estates were looted, and there was a ghastly mess all round. Paul Darensky was murdered on his own estate, and the house was wrecked. I was very glad my mother was dead. I didn't really know her very well, but she was too gay and pretty to be mixed up in that sort of thing, if you know what I mean."

Elizabeth said, "Yes, I know." She had a picture of a gay winged butterfly blown away over the tree tops before the forest was swept by a torrent of flame.

"Well," said Stephen, "that's all about that. In January, 1918, old Carey had me into his study. There were two other men there, an old boy from the foreign office and a Russian. They said how-do-you-do to me, and then the Russian began to talk to me in Russian. I hadn't talked much for four years, but I got on all right. I don't forget things. After about five minutes he switched on to the foreign office bloke and said in English: 'That was all right—he could pass me as an educated Russian.'"

The cart jolted, flung them together, and flung them apart again. Stephen laughed and hugged his knees.

"The moment he said that, of course, I saw what the game was, and I said: 'I can pass as a peasant, too. Wouldn't that be useful?' The foreign office man came down like a cart load of bricks on old Carey. 'What have you been telling him? You were not authorized to tell him anything at all!' Carey went as stiff as a ramrod and said he hadn't told me anything. I said: 'That's right, sir. I couldn't help guessing you were going to send me to Russia.' How could I when he said I could pass, like that? What else could it have meant? They all had a good stare at me, and the foreign office man said: 'You're not slow in the uptake anyway. Can you talk Scotch as well as Russian?' I said I couldn't, and he laughed and said to the Russian, 'Go ahead—try him with the peasants' talk.' I wondered how he was going to do it. I gave him marks, for he really did it awfully well. He began by saying, 'Now you're a groom, and I think you've been neglecting my horses.' And then he gave me a tongue-lashing, and I made the proper answers, excusing myself and swearing I'd done this, that, and the other, just as I'd heard Paul's grooms do ever since I was a baby. Then he began to ask questions about the farm work—sowing, ploughing, reaping, cows, hens, pigs—the whole lot of it. I warmed up to it rather, and I did half a dozen different people—the fat pig man, and the very old man who knew more about cows than they knew about themselves and so on. I did their proper voices. When I'd finished, the Russian kissed me on both cheeks and said—but if I tell you what he said you'll think I'm boasting."

He heard Elizabeth's laugh for the first time, very soft and faint. He immediately wanted to pick her up and kiss her. And it would be so easy. No, not easy—impossible.

"Do you never boast?" she said, and the laughter was still in her voice.

"O, nearly always. A Russian peasant is a very boastful fellow, and I'm a Russian peasant about half my time. If I don't blow my own trumpet people won't believe I've got one."

Elizabeth said, "I see——" She spoke quite gravely, but he thought she was still smiling. He hoped so, because he had an idea that she had forgotten how to smile. If he could make her laugh, she might think him as boastful as she pleased.

A Friend in Need

Offers Phonograph and Records.

"Dear Miss Brown: Do you know any one who can use a phonograph in first class condition? It was quite expensive at the time I purchased it and there will be plenty of records to go with it. It will have to be called for. MISS K."

If you are interested in securing this instrument and are able to arrange for its delivery, write to Miss K. in care of this office.

Needs an Overcoat.

"Dear Miss Brown: I am a widow and my only child, a son, has been unable to work for the last six years due to pulmonary tuberculosis. He is badly in need of an overcoat and I would be more than grateful to you if you would make it possible for him to obtain one. He is 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs 135 pounds. "MRS. A. M."

Stock Presents a Program in Yuletide Mood

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Frederick Stock decreed that last night's concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra should be in the yuletide mood, even though it did not always carry the holiday title. In fact the only composition that an outsider would have considered in advance as belonging to the season was Hans Pfitzner's overture to "Das Christelflein" ["The Fairy Christ Child"].

It is not only a charming bit of music in itself, but it is based upon a medieval miracle tale in which a wretched family sits down to roast and wine through the intervention of the Child Jesus.

Preceding it was the Dance of the Angels from Ermanno Wolf-Ferrari's cantata, "The New Life," first heard here when the composer conducted it at the Auditorium with the Apollo Musical club in January, 1912, and always remembered since then as an extraordinary bit of fine imagination.

And though what followed "Das Christelflein" merely goes by the technical name of Franck's Symphony in D minor, one has only to think of its second movement as one of the loveliest things that ever came from an inspired soul through the medium of ink and paper to the instruments of a great symphony orchestra.

For the second part of the program Mr. Stock drew upon the most colorful Russian music, presenting the four sections of Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Schéhérazade" Suite.

A consultation of Hope Hampton's physicians yesterday resulted in the verdict that the throat affliction that has been affecting her is still too serious for her to attempt to sing tomorrow afternoon. Therefore "Manon" has been declared off by the Chicago Grand Opera company. In its place "Rigoletto" will be presented, with Rosalinda Morini making her first appearance of the season with the company in the part of Gilda. Carlo Morelli will appear in the name part, Giuseppe Bentonelli as the duke, and Ada Paggi as Maddalena. Isaac Van Grove will conduct.

Christmas carols will be sung by the children's choruses of the Civic Music association this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Cordon club, and tomorrow at 1:30 in Lyon & Healy's store, at 2 in the Medinah club, at 2:15 in Blackstone court of the Art institute, and at 3 in the Stevens hotel lounge.

Dress for Classroom Wear

GIRL'S DRESS.

Isn't this a pretty dress for classroom wear? Smart details are the plaited skirt arrangement, and the cross-over vestee and rolled collar. A navy blue woolen with diagonal stripes in bright red was used with bright red plain woolen in the original model. In a wash material a Scotch plaided gingham with white piqué for contrast is pretty.

The pattern, No. 3060, comes in sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

Know your assets, handicaps, talents, and emotions. Obtain a personal graphology chart. Here are the rules:

1. Clip this coupon, attach a sample of handwriting, and mail to Muriel Stafford, box 1539, Chicago Tribune.

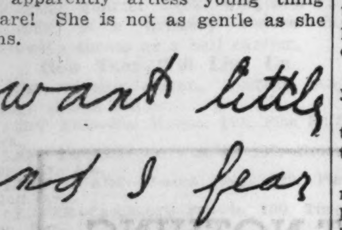
3. Enclose a self-addressed STAMPED envelope, folded once.

BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

Do you remember the vogue for clinging vines? They are rare in this bold, aggressive age. Yet no matter what your girl may seem to be on the surface, her real character is readily found in her handwriting.

The true clinging vine type of woman, regardless of how she may act, is inwardly shy and has a yielding, unaggressive nature. Her timidity will display itself in compressed letters, low capitals, and a lack of flourishes. Word endings will droop to the right in rather a sad fashion.

Since the true clinging vine is meek, the strokes as a whole are inclined to be weak, and there will be no hooks throughout the writing. Hooks cling, but they have a tenacity and perseverance that the "Sweet Alice" type of writer would not possess. If you find them in the writing of a sweet, lanquid and apparently artless young thing beware! She is not as gentle as she seems.



The specimen of writing illustrated today is that of an unusually timid and self-conscious person, who is the sincerest and least dangerous of clinging vines. There isn't a real hook throughout her writing. She is also sweet tempered, gentle, and kindly.

As you may notice, this is the handwriting of a day dreamer who is not likely to achieve her dreams. She is much too unassuming, as her low capitals show, and most unassertive. The V-shaped "t" in this specimen also stresses a sensitiveness that has gone to extremes. So, in fact, have most of her excellent virtues. The only way she will get through life successfully is with the help of a sturdy husband.

Limelight Is a Bad Light for Growing Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"My little girl [or boy] is so beautiful and clever—every one says I ought to put her [or him] in the movies—what do you think?" is a question sometimes put to me. Also, occasionally, "My little girl sings so well and I would like her to go on the air—what do you think?"

Instead of answering directly let me "beat about the bush" a little.

A luncheon symposium was held in New York not long ago on "Radio and the Child." Among the various speakers was Walter Damrosch. He discussed his interest in music on the air for children and of the response to his concerts that are broadcast to the schools. He then went on to the subject of the importance of children hearing pure speech on the radio, and finally reached the subject of children broadcasting. In witty but no uncertain terms he expressed his disapproval of the child on the air and ended by saying:

Well, that's my answer to the question of children in the movies and on the air.

Limelight, Klieg lights, and the microphone don't tie up with childhood at all. Publicity and exhibitionism are practically unavoidable when the child steps out of the home and school—when he steps out of his natural rôle, that of being a child.

Of course the words "nice, shadowy seclusion" are only a manner of speaking—only a way of describing the protection and opportunity that wise parents and a rich, full home life afford the sensitive plastic, growing boy or girl.

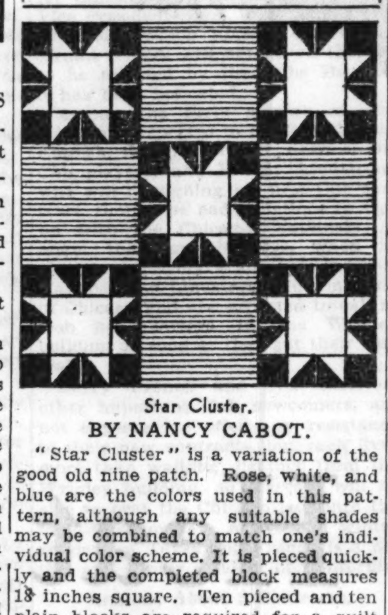
Variation of the Old Nine Patch Makes This Quilt



Star Cluster.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Star Cluster" is a variation of the good old nine patch. Rose, white, and blue are the colors used in this pattern, although any suitable shades may be combined to match one's individual color scheme. It is pieced quickly and the completed block measures 18 inches square. Ten pieced and ten plain blocks are required for a quilt for a full sized bed.

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

Six Weddings Add to Gayety of Yule Season

Two Ceremonies Will Be Held Today.

Andrews Wedding Will Be Dec. 29.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding on Dec. 29 of Miss Jean Andrews, daughter of Mrs. John James Andrews and the late Dr. Andrews, and Kenneth Grant of St. Lambert, Montreal, Canada. Although Miss Andrews and Mr. Grant have been engaged for several months, no public announcement was made of their betrothal because of the death of Dr. Andrews.

The marriage service is to be read at 4 o'clock at the Andrews home at 5121 Ellis avenue with a reception at 5 o'clock at the South Shore Country club. Miss Margaret Jane Grant, a sister of the bridegroom, will attend Miss Andrews as maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Royce de Campi and Mrs. Gordon Heaney.

Miss Andrews is a graduate of the Starrett school and the National Park seminary in Washington, D. C. As a young girl she spent a great deal of her time in the home of her maternal grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pardridge, at 28th and Prairie avenue. Mrs. Andrews, who was Florence Pardridge, was one of the founder members of the Service club.

Mrs. Aubrey Sykes, a cousin of Miss Andrews, will have the bridal dinner at her home the evening of Dec. 28. After a wedding trip through the east Mr. Grant and his bride will make their home in Montreal.

Dance Tonight Opens Busy Week for Debs.

Evening entertainment for the debutantes will begin in earnest tonight with the dinner dance at the Casino that Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland and Mr. and Mrs. Howell B. Erminger Jr. are giving for their daughters, Miss Martha Borland and Miss Bertha Erminger. From now until New Year's night there is not an evening without a dinner dance or a ball—and sometimes both—for the buds.

Mrs. Erminger and Miss Erminger returned two or three days ago from Miami Beach, where the debutante acquired a perfect coat of tan while recuperating from an automobile accident which occurred early in the season. Fifty debutantes and their beaux have been invited to tonight's party. Mr. and Mrs. John de Laitre [Carolyn Erminger] have come down from Minneapolis for the debut and to remain through the holidays.

Marjorie Kelly Is Ill with Flu.

Miss Marjorie Kelly, daughter of the Carl Kellys of Winnetka, arrived at home from Sarah Lawrence college yesterday ill with a severe attack of influenza which will cause her to miss the early part of the holiday festivities of the debutantes. Her cousin, Miss Barbara Bastien, daughter of the Alvin E. Bastiens, has postponed the tea she had planned to give for Miss Kelly on Sunday. Miss Kelly's parents are hopeful that she will be recovered sufficiently by Tuesday for the Christmas day debut tea planned for her.

Of all the Christmas festivities that await several dozen near north side mothers and their small sons, a party today will be one of the highlights. At 11 o'clock this morning the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils at the Boys' Latin school are going to present "Hansel and Gretel" in operetta form as the entertainment for their annual Christmas party and their mothers are coming to see them perform.

Leonide Massine and six of the ballerinas of the Monte Carlo ballet will arrive for tea this afternoon at the Casino in their "Toy Shop" costumes. The tea is being given at 4:30 o'clock by Mrs. Tiffany Blake, Mrs. Charles F. Glore, Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell, Mrs. William H. Mitchell, and Mrs. Francis S. North in the interest of the Monte Carlo ballet opening the night after Christmas at the Auditorium as a benefit for the Women's Trade Union league.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

FOUR CARD SUITS AND THE TWO BID.

You will hear criticism of my two bid and its responses on the grounds that it does not make sufficient use of four card suits. You may feel tempted at some time to "make an exception," feeling that you are faced with a rare contingency not covered by my procedure. I wish to relieve you of temptation to misbid a fine hand for any such motive by going rather deeply into the theoretical aspect of this question. Today let us see why the RESPONDING HAND HAS NO JUSTIFICATION FOR BIDDING ON THE FIRST ROUND A FOUR CARD SUIT HOWEVER STRONG.

Let us assume that your partner bids two spades and you pick up

Sp.—x x	Di.—x x x
Ht.—A K Q J	Cl.—x x x x

Your proper response is three no trumps; you have two primary tricks and this is the way to show them. Later you can bid hearts if necessary, to reveal just where your values are concentrated, just where you eliminate losers. You must not, however, suggest the heart suit as the possible ultimate declaration for the hand because it is flatly IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE HEART SUIT TO FIND A FIT. You do not care to play the hand in a four card trump suit of which your partner cannot hold more than three, do you? Do you want to have at least six trumps against you? To fit your hearts your partner must hold four small hearts. That is, four losers in hearts. He cannot possibly have this heart holding, for he has made a two bid, which promises not more than three losers in the hand.

The Risk of Duplication.

Though the risk of duplication is much less with a two bid than with a three bid, let us take this possibility into consideration.

It is true that the greater your high card strength in one suit, the greater the chance of its being a duplication when your partner makes an opening forcing bid. However, if your partner has one heart in his hand, your hearts are going to eliminate losers for him and he is going to get onto your hand and get his discards and make his slam. Only if he cannot stand off the losers in some other suit will he be immediately defeated in a slam contract, and in that event he should not get to slam. If you bid three no trumps and later hearts, he has no business to bid six of anything if his hand contains two immediate losers in any suit and a singleton heart. The time factor will plainly be against him for a slam. If he has A x or A x x in his other weak suit, he can slam because he now knows he can park those two small cards on your hearts, or at least one of them. He could, in fact, now bid a slam, even if he expected to lose a trump trick, relying on a heart finesse in case your holding were only A Q J. Your three no trump response, followed later by a heart bid, is likely to outline exactly for him the whole play of the hand and definitly eliminate two or three losers from his hand. "But," you will say, "supposing that and so cannot get to my hand." In that event he has 5-0-4-4 or 5-5-0-5-3 distribution and will bid so as to find out which suit you fit. With five, four, four, he will find that if you do not have four cards to support either minor suit, you must have three spades to support his original five card spade suit. You have nine cards outside the hearts, so you must be able to decide the trump suit for him, and he will play with at least eight trumps in the two hands. On this bidding he may never need your high hearts, but if he does it will be extraordinarily unlucky if he does not get into dummy with a trump, possibly by leaving a trump in dummy and ruffing an off suit which the opponent in whose hand a trump is still left cannot overruff. Should your partner hold five solid spades, five solid diamonds and three small clubs, the bidding should go—two spades, three no trumps, four diamonds, four hearts, four spades [recognizing the duplication and signing off], pass. Responder must not continue; had opener had a small heart and only two clubs he could over four hearts bid five diamonds, confessing to two club losers and asking responder to pass or bid five spades, but when neither can win the second round of clubs they should have no difficulty in stopping at a contract which they can make without any risk, allowing for the exact number of club losers which they have failed to eliminate.

Constance Cummings Has Refreshing Charm.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

I had a luncheon appointment with Constance Cummings the other day. It was my bad luck that I had never met this movie star before. I got to the luncheon place first. I waited for the fancy motor to roll up and discharge a vision encased in ermine or sables or something trimmed with orchids. Somehow one goes on expecting movie celebrities to descend in overpowering fashion. Suddenly a slight young thing with a few leftover freckles from a summer sun, a dark blue service topcoat, a black felt hat turned down all around, called my name. This was Miss Cummings, just come from rehersal at a nearby Broadway theater.

It's refreshing to have some one unfold charm before your eyes, or, might I say, peel it off for you. There are women like that. At first glance you're not bowled over. Presently you're intrigued, then more intrigued, and still more intrigued. A lovely gesture, a laugh, a sparkle in the eye, an apt and clever comment. A charming attitude about people, about rivals. A reserve. A sense of power, sureness. And that most delightful of all gifts, the sense of humor that some famed psychologist said not long ago indicates brains. The brains, at any rate, not to take oneself too seriously in a world that's apt to lay banana peels for the humorless. That's Miss Cummings. Off came the topcoat, presenting a tres chic, short-jacketed black tailleur. The laugh, the gestures, the sparkle came after.

She's somewhat of a redhead, but not a pronounced red. She uses violet shadow on her blue eyes. Thinks personality infinitely more appealing than beauty.

The Stage

S. Hurok, impresario of the Monte Carlo Ballet Russe, announces that his next importation of European theatrical talent will be a company representing the Moscow Art theater in a repertory of classic and contemporary Russian dramas. This organization will begin an engagement in New York next month and will come to Chicago later in the season.

Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" will be staged in the Goodman theater tonight, for one performance, by the Circuit Theater company. The cast contains William Yule, John Connor, Richard Shankland, Robert Carlyle, Helen Dare, and Muriel Anda.

Chicagoan Engaged to Paula Tully, White House Secretary

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The festive spirit of Christmas at the White House was enhanced tonight with the announcement of the engagement of Miss Paula Tully of New York, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries, to Charles R. Larrabee, former Chicago attorney and now a counselor in the department of the interior.

The couple were fêted at a party given by two others of the President's secretaries, Miss Marguerite Le Hand and Miss Grace Tully, sister of Paula. The White House staf joined in the party, and Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, the President's daughter, and two other secretaries, Stephen T. Early and Marvin H. McIntyre, led the festivities.

GAS SERVICE HELPS MAKE IT A MERRY CHRISTMAS

Holiday time brings the family and friends around the fireside and the Christmas dinner table. Roast turkey or chicken, with cranberry sauce, vegetables, pumpkin pie and Christmas candy—all of them—add to the joy of the season, and gas service is on the job to cook them on Christmas day just as on any other day.

On Thanksgiving day this year, Chicago used nearly ten per cent more gas to roast the Thanksgiving turkey than was used a year ago. A new one-hour record was achieved between eleven and twelve o'clock noon.

That happened while you were thinking about anything else but gas service. You knew the gas would be ready at your burner just as it has been always ready for the last 84 years—and you were not disappointed, in spite of the terrific demand which was recorded on that day.

Christmas day will repeat the story. Gas service will be on the job, quietly and unobtrusively—and inexpensively—to save labor—to heat your home, to give you plenty of hot water, to run your refrigerator and to cook Christmas dinner—in short, to help make your Christmas a merry one.

You don't have to own a home to enjoy the advantages of gas heat. Thousands of installations have been made in rented homes.

The Greatest Gift of all

Automatic Gas Heat

WHAT greater gift could you give your family this year than the utter comfort of automatic gas heat? It will provide convenience you never thought possible—eliminating all back-breaking coal shoveling, dirty ash shaking and hauling, the nuisance of chopping kindling, the discomfort and anxiety of watching and waiting for heat to come up.

Give your family the comfort of gas heat. Even, healthful temperatures as you want them just by setting the thermostat on the wall. Fire your furnace from your easy chair.

Gas heat has many advantages

Every housekeeper appreciates the cleanliness of this modern heating method. Basement dirt is no longer tracked upstairs because you never have to go near your furnace month in and month out. Walls and drapes stay clean much longer. Dusting once or twice a week instead of every day.

To prove that every home can now afford to heat with gas . . . we will install it at our expense and remove it at our expense, if you don't like it.

Here, too, is a gift that you can try without investing a cent for equipment. Our special offer makes this possible. We will install gas heat in your present furnace or boiler at our expense.

While you are trying it you pay a small monthly rental—only $3 for the burner during the heating months in the average home. This charge is included with the bill for the gas you use. If you decide—as we think you will—to keep gas heat, the rental you have paid applies on the purchase price of the equipment. But, if within the first year you decide that you don't want gas heat, we'll take it out at our expense and replace your former heating equipment in good workmanlike order. The rental charge stops immediately.

Every home can now afford it

Because of new low rates for gas heating—now less than half of what they were a few years ago—every home, even the most modest, can now afford to heat with gas.

Decide now to give this unequalled gift to your family. A gift that will be appreciated this year and for many years to come. A gift that will relieve you and your family from the endless labor of furnace tending forever. Call your nearest gas company office. We'll gladly send a heating engineer to survey your home and give you an estimate on the cost of heating your home with gas.

YOU INVEST NOTHING

To Try Gas Heat!

Gas heat can be installed without your investing one cent for equipment. To prove that every home can now afford to heat with gas, we'll install it at our expense — remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. Accept this startling offer. Phone your nearest gas office TODAY.

ALABAMA SQUAD DEPARTS TODAY FOR ROSE BOWL

Plan Practice at San Antonio.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Dec. 20.—Alabama's undefeated football team heads west tomorrow morning for Pasadena and the New Year's day Rose Bowl game with Stanford. Thirty-five players have been named by Coach Frank Thomas for the trip.

The Alabama boys scrimmaged yesterday and today on the stadium gridiron. This afternoon the rehersal was a review of attack. In the morning a signal drill is ordered prior to leaving on the special train at 10 o'clock. Saturday afternoon the team will work out at San Antonio and then will continue to the west coast, arriving Monday, eight days before the game.

Hasn't Lost in Rose Bowl Games.

Alabama never has been beaten in Rose Bowl games, and the thousands of well wishers in the south are confident this year's championship team, the second Coach Thomas has developed in four years at Tuscaloosa, will whip Stanford. In 1925 Alabama defeated Washington, 20 to 19. The following year Alabama tied Stanford, 7 to 7, and in 1930, the last of the Wallace Wade coached teams defeated Washington State, 24 to 0.

Johnny Mack Brown, who scored one of the touchdowns in the 1925 Rose Bowl game, and Claude [Cupe] Perry, a tackle, who now is a member of the Green Bay Packers, were among the several hundred who saw the final scrimmage. Another was Dr. George Denny, president of the university, whose regret is he cannot follow the boys to Pasadena because the Alabama legislature convenes the first week in January.

Coach Played at Notre Dame.

Chicago has more than passing interest in Alabama. Coach Thomas, a Notre Dame graduate who played quarter back under Knute Rockne in 1920, 1921, and 1922, is the first reason. Thomas was first string quarter back in 1921, and in his senior year he shared the position with Harry Stuhldreher, then a sophomore. Coach Thomas' home is in East Chicago, Ind., where he played on the Washington High school team, which in 1916 claimed the state prep title.

Another reason for more than incidental interest in Alabama is Jimmy Angelich, right half back, who, like his coach, is a graduate of Washington High school, East Chicago. Jimmy is a 160 pounder who pairs with Milliard [Dixie] Howell, triple threat middleweight, on whom will rest the burden of Alabama's ball carrying New Year's day.

While Angelich's work has been overshadowed in press notices by Howell, he is an important cog in both attack and defense. On defense he is the left half back and covers the most important zone against passes. Howell drops back to handle punts.

Worries Over Outcome.

Thomas is worried over the outcome of the Stanford game, despite the brilliant record his team has compiled this year. He has one most valid reason.

"Alabama has not played against a double winged back system of attack," he said today in discussing the game. "While our line may be able to stop Stanford's heavy ball carriers, yet the lack of experience against this system is a disadvantage. I believe we can score once, possibly twice, for our attack is exceptionally well balanced, but this may not be enough."

Alabama has a fast line which averages 203 pounds. The back field average is 176 pounds, and Riley Smith, blocking quarter back, weighing 198 pounds, is a primary reason for Howell's sucess as a ball carrier.

How They Will Line Up.

CENTER—Cavanaugh Francis, 190, Timpson, Tex.
RIGHT GUARD—Bob Morrow, 186, Selma, Ala.
RIGHT TACKLE—Bill Lee, 225, Eutaw, Ala.
RIGHT END—Paul Bryant, 201, Fordyce, Ark.
QUARTER BACK—Riley Smith, 198, Greenwood, Miss.
RIGHT HALF—Jimmy Angelich, 160, East Chicago, Ind.
FULL BACK — Joe Demyanovich, 187, Bayonne, N. J.

Thomas' record at Alabama stamps him as one of the most successful football coaches in the nation. Throughout his career he has adhered to the fundamentals of the Notre Dame shift.

INDIANS WORK HARD

Stanford University, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—For the first time since the regular football practice season closed, Stanford put on full steam ahead today for the Rose bowl game with Alabama.

Coach Tiny Thornhill celebrated the end of the final examinations period by sending the Indians through a two hour workout.

For the third day since he went out of the California game Nov. 24 with torn rib cartilages, Bobby Grayson, keyman of the attack, played full back. His appearance has brought fresh inspiration to the squad, which as late as last week numbered seven injured and ailing. Only Stan Anderson, first replacement for Grayson, remains in a weakened condition, recovering slowly from a severe cold.

THE GUMPS—KITCHEN JINGLES

He's Only Three Hours Late; Honeymoon in South

PAUL DEAN.

Their marriage culminated a two months' courtship which started when Paul Dean returned from his and his brother Dizzy's conquest of the Detroit Tigers in the world series last fall. Dean, however, had known his bride for three years, but, in her words, "he only started going with me a couple of months ago."

Their obviously recent decision to marry gave Daffy full opportunity to bring his dashing manner into play.

He rushed off to Fort Smith this afternoon to buy his "trousseau" and wedding ring, and paused long enough to remark, in answer to a query as to what Dizzy would say about the wedding, that "it's none of his business, anyhow."

His bride, while Daffy was in Fort Smith, said they would join Dizzy and his wife in Gulfport, Miss., for their honeymoon.

The couple originally had planned to be married here at 5 p. m., but Paul's trip to Fort Smith took longer than he figured and the ceremony was not performed until 8 p. m., immediately after his return.

It was an informal affair at the bride's home with only seven guests, relatives and intimate friends of the Sandusky family present. The impetuous Dean kissed his bride soundly in the middle of the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Homer W. Haislip, pastor of the local Christian church.

She was given away by her father, J. S. Sandusky, Russellville lumberman, and was attended by her sister, Ruth, as maid-of-honor.

For once Paul was too serious for snappy comebacks as the small wedding party surrounded the couple to offer congratulations after the ceremony.

Dean's courtship of Miss Sandusky was revealed only this afternoon when the bride-elect admitted Dean had left here for Fort Smith to buy a wedding ring, license and a new suit. The license was purchased at Ozark, Ark., late today as he drove back to Russellville.

BETTY WISHES 'EM LUCK.

Columbus, O., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Betty Jane Holt, 19 year old Ohio State university sophomore, whose name was linked with that of Paul Dean last summer in rumors of a romance, wished him luck tonight when told he had married another.

"I thought that was all over," Miss Holt said, recalling the reports of her troth, which she denied from the first. "I wish him luck."

It was Paul himself, playing in the windup of the St. Louis Cardinal league schedule at Brooklyn, who said he was much interested in Miss Holt.

A few weeks later zealous friends of the baseball star reserved a bridal suite in a hotel in a Cleveland suburb for Paul on the assumption that he was going to be married.

The reservation was canceled, however, when Dean said he was not going on a honeymoon then.

ILLINOIS TO PLAY IN BASKETBALL DOUBLE-HEADER

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 20.—(AP)—An innovation in college athletics will be tried here tomorrow and Saturday when the basketball teams from Illinois, Missouri, St. Louis, and Washington universities will meet in a pair of double headers.

Arranged to revive local interest in the college sport, the first double header will see Missouri opposing St. Louis, and Illinois meeting Washington. On Saturday Washington will play Missouri and Illinois will meet St. Louis.

CUBS PREPARE 1935 CONTRACTS; SEE NO HOLDOUTS

Players to Receive Them About New Year's.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Vice President John O. Seys and Treasurer-Business Manager Charles Weber took yesterday off from their Christmas shopping to make out their 1935 player contracts. At eventide the envelopes containing the documents were stamped and ready for the mail, but Mr. Seys ordered a delay in the posting, on the grounds, perhaps, that some of them would not be harmonious with the merriness of Christmas.

For the most part, though, the figures are such that they will qualify as wishes for a prosperous New Year. At any rate, the contracts are to be sent out so they will arrive a day or two before Jan. 1. The players who find they have suffered cuts in their new papers are not expected to be very sore about it if they are at all fairminded, for those who have been trimmed, if such there be, probably are the ones who were vastly overpaid for coming out to the ball parks last summer.

Withhold Official Roster.

The Cubs will not release their official roster until after contracts have been distributed. Cub rosters which have broken into print recently have been made up from clippings and announcements of one sort or another and reflect great energy on the part of the informal compilers, but scarcely present the squad as it will push off for Catalina on Feb. 25, according to Vice President Seys. Five names, possibly six, which appear on the informal rosters will not be on the roll to be released by the Cubs Dec. 30, it has been indicated.

Among the early signers of contracts are expected to be Capt. Woody English, Gabby Hartnett, dean of the Cub players, and Freddy Lindstrom, who will be signing his first Cub contract, though he had ambitions to sign up with the Chicago Nationals at about the time, in 1920, when he played at Loyola academy. English, Hartnett and Lindstrom are wintering in Chicago and are expected to call at Cub headquarters in the Wrigley building as soon as they get their contracts.

Larry French and Tex Carleton, other important Cub newcomers, are not expected to offer any resistance to their new contracts, but each lives more than walking distance from the Wrigley building, so scarcely will be able to beat the Chicago lads into the fold. Carleton is a native and winter resident of Texas and French is a native and winter resident of California.

Anxious About 3 Contracts.

It is said that the Cub front office is especially anxious for French, Carleton, and Lindstrom to be contented hombres. for the Cub front officials know that all the fans are not convinced that the big trades in Louisville, which sent away Guy Bush, Babe Herman, Jim Weaver, and Bud Tinning, improved the Cub position. Debate on the matter seems to heat up instead of cool off as the winter grows colder, and the only way the arguments can be settled, as the Cub officials think they will be, is to have French, Lindstrom, and Carleton to be in there rarin' with all their might, it has been pointed out.

For some reason not quite clear, most of the adverse critics of the trade seem to fear that the new Cubs are burned out and somewhat older than the lads turned loose. Cub officials express themselves as puzzled because of this attitude and keep their record cards handy. These records show that the 1935 ages of Bush, Weaver, and Herman will total 95 years, as compared to 86 years for Lindstrom, French, and Carleton.

Mentions a Few Ages.

"Most of our correspondents seem to think that Jim Weaver is just a great big overgrown boy who hasn't come into the full bloom of manhood," said Mr. Seys. "I don't want to detract anything from Jim, and Manager Grimm and the rest of us would have liked to have kept him on the Cubs, but the fact is Jim will be 30 years old before he completes his first year with the Pirates. Bush will be 33 before he completes his next season's work, and Herman will be 32 before next season is very old.

"Lindstrom will be 30 the same week Weaver has his birthday, but French is the youngster of the bunch. Larry was 26 years old last month. Carleton will not be 30 until a year from next August."

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1934: By The Chicago Tribune.]

COACH FRANCIS SCHMIDT of Ohio State has become famed as a droll wit because he said that the Michigan football players were just like any others in that they put on their pants one leg at a time. . . . Columbus folk were so amused at the quip that gold pants charms have been awarded to the members of the Buckeye squad. . . . All of which leads to the suspicion that major league journals do not penetrate to Columbus, for Lon Warneke made the same crack about Babe Ruth prior to the 1932 world series and when the gag was given nation-wide circulation Lon hastened to explain he had heard his grandpappy say it about a too proud hill-billy down in Arkansas. . . . President Lou Comiskey of the White Sox, who was injured in a New York motor crash, is convalescing in St. Luke's hospital. . . . Bob Zuppke in a Los Angeles speech said: "Football is to physical culture what bull fighting is to agriculture." . . . Which may be something to think about at that. . . .

CLARK SHAUGHNESSY.

FRANCIS SCHMIDT.

There is little likelihood that Clark Shaughnessy, football coach at the University of Chicago, will leave the Midway to accept a job at Louisiana State or any other school. . . . Less than a year ago Shaughnessy declined an offer from Ohio State to succeed Sam Willaman. . . . He realized at the time that he would fall heir to one of the strongest squads in the country at Columbus, but he preferred to stay at the university that gave him his chance in big time football. . . . Nothing has developed in the last twelve months to change his opinions of Chicago. . . . He not only is satisfied with his position. . . . He is tickled to death. . . . Four Notre Dame gridiron players are spending the holidays tossing around mail sacks at the Chicago postoffice. . . . They are Andy Pilney, Andy Puplis, Henry Pojman, and Frank Kopczak. . . . It was Kopczak who stopped Southern California one inch short of a touchdown at Los Angeles, Dec. 8. . . . All four boys are from Harrison High school.

Milton Gaston, recently released by the White Sox, had a disappointing season, but he at least helped to make Jimmy Dykes' debut as manager of the club a success by shutting out the Senators on four hits. . . . Monk Moscrip, Stanford's All-American end, has kicked 18 out of 19 goals after touchdowns this season. . . . Joe Falcaro, New York bowler, set a new world record for five games in an exhibition at Fremont, O., recently. . . . His score was 1,405. . . . Gus Sonnenberg is wrestling in New Zealand. . . . Marquette's 1934 football crowds were 60,000 larger than in 1933. . . . Two Nebraska freshman basketball players, Floyd Ebaugh and Lawrence Nelson, are 6 feet 7 inches tall. . . . There will be 37 days of racing at Agua Caliente immediately after the end of the Santa Anita season. . . . Harry Morrisey again will serve as starter. . . . Abe Attel received 55 per cent of the gate for whipping Aurelia Herrera in 1901. . . . The latter got only five per cent. . . .

Cotton Warburton will marry a Southern California co-ed after his graduation in June. . . . Life begins at 40 for Joie Ray. . . . The old time miler, his barnstorming days completed, has opened a roller skating rink in Gary. . . . In the course of excavations for the Olympic village at Doberitz, near Berlin, two earthenware vessels were found that dated between 2000 and 2500 B. C., scientists say. . . . Elmer Layden wil not return from his speaking tour in the northwest until Christmas eve. . . . Pittsburgh paid Minnesota $43,000, Notre Dame $50,000, and Southern California $57,400 for their games in Pitt stadium this season. . . . Pitt's share of the Nebraska gate at Lincoln was $28,000, the Navy game brought $17,500, and the West Virginia contest $5,000. . . .

The rubber shoe strategy which defeated the Bears in the championship professional game was suggested by the Giants' veteran end, Red Flaherty, at 11 o'clock in the morning. . . . It took until the start of the second half, however, to find the shoes, which eventually were taken out of the locker room of Manhattan college basketball players. . . . Purdue has lost only five Big Ten games in five years, while Indiana has won only five in the same period, but two of Indiana's victories have been scored over Purdue. . . . George White, stage and screen producer, has purchased three yearlings from Albert C. Schwartz and will race them on the coast next season. . . . He has named them Black Bottom, Shimmy Dance, and Charleston. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Heavy rains on the coast forced Pop Warner to train the Stanford Cardinals indoors for their game with Notre Dame. . . . Battling Siki and his wife were arrested on a drunken charge in Memphis, Tenn., and spent the night in jail. . . . LEAGUE MAY PAY BACK SALARY TO ST. LOUIS ELEVEN

Columbus, O., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Players on the St. Louis Gunners, National Professional league football team, will be paid their back salaries even if the league has to dig into its own treasury for the funds, Joe F. Carr, president of the organization, said today.

The St. Louis club, transferred from Cincinnati in midseason, finished the year in a financial muddle, with the result that the players have not been paid for a couple of weeks.

President Carr said he did not think the league would be compelled to pay the salaries, since arrangements are being made in St. Louis to meet the situation through a new financial setup which may involve a change in ownership.

STEEPLECHASE LICENSE SOUGHT BY GLOUCESTER

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The duke of Gloucester, third son of King George and Queen Mary, today applied to the racing conference for a gentleman rider's license so he might take the mount on Blackman in the Ladies' bracelet race at Merton Jan. 1. He will ride at 154 pounds. The duke is completing a tour of the antipodes.

MINNESOTA WINS FROM CARLETON QUINTET, 34 TO 26

Dickinson Presents Football Trophy.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Minnesota and Carleton put on an old fashioned basketball game here tonight, the Gophers winning, 34 to 26. It was the fourth straight victory for Minnesota.

The Gophers started fast, scoring seven points before Carleton could make its first score. Minnesota led at the half, 15 to 12. Gordie Norman, Gopher center, suffered a slashed eye and other players bore bumps and bruises as a result of the rough game.

Between halves, Prof. Frank Dickinson of the University of Illinois presented the plaque symbolizing the national football championship to Athletic Director Frank McCormick.

Prof. Dickinson in his address declared the trophy "symbolizes that the university has overcome stronger opposition than any other football team in the United States."

Addressing the members of the football team who gathered in the center of the basketball floor, Prof. Dickinson said: "I came here tonight to pay my respects to a great university and do what little I can to honor a great football team. I saw them myself today in the movies and I never saw such blocking in my life."

INDIANA WINS, 30-25

College Park, Md., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Exhibiting a sustained offensive in the second half and drawing away from its rival, the Indiana university basketball team opened its eastern invasion with a 30 to 25 victory over the University of Maryland here tonight in the latter's first game of the season. A crowd of 2,500 watched the contest.

The Hoosiers went into the second half trailing 15 to 13, but took a 16 to 15 lead after three minutes on Bob Porter's free throw. Willard Kehrt and Lester Stout, forwards, did most of the scoring as the Western conference five gradually pulled away from the Old Liners.

With three minutes to play, Indiana held a 29 to 19 advantage, but a closing rally reduced the visitors' edge to 5 points at the gun.

An interesting duel developed at center between 6 foot 9 inch Fred Fechtman, Indiana, and 6 foot 5 Vic Willis of Maryland. The Old Liner came out on top with 9 points against 4 for Fechtman. Stout and Kehrt were high scorers, with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Lineup:

IOWA BEATS NEBRASKA

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The University of Iowa opened Nebraska's home basketball season tonight by defeating the Cornhuskers, 31 to 24, in an overtime game. The victory was the third this year for the Hawkeyes. Nebraska previously had lost to Wyoming.

Harvey Widman, Nebraska guard, brought the score to a 24 to 24 tie 15 seconds before the end of the regular playing period. In the extra period baskets by Blackmer, Rosenthal, and Bobby and a free throw by Grim enabled Iowa to triumph. Iowa led at the half, 14 to 9. The lineups:

VIRGINIA VAN WIE IS OUTSTANDING WOMAN ATHLETE

Chicago Golf Star Wins 1934 Poll from Helen Jacobs

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Virginia Van Wie's all-conquering march through the golfing year, including her third successive national women's title, today brought her the added distinction of being voted 1934's outstanding feminine sports star.

VIRGINIA VAN WIE

Thirty-seven of 102 experts voting in the fourth annual Associated Press poll decided that her feat in winning the south Atlantic title, the western Derby, and the national championship and her matches against Great Britain in Curtis cup competition rated her above Helen Hull Jacobs, the national tennis champion; Lenore Kight, Katherine Rawls, and other prominent women of the year.

In all Miss Van Wie piled up 177 points to 131 for Miss Jacobs, who won the award in 1933: 89 for Miss Kight and 72 for Miss Rawls. Miss Kight, outstanding free style swimmer, gained more first place votes than Miss Jacobs—19 to 16—but the latter was selected more often in second and third places. Points were scored three for first, two for second and one for third.

A surprising result of the poll was the number of votes for Mildred [Babe] Didrikson, who turned professional last year. Her sterling play in a golf tournament in Texas—a sport in which she retains her amateur standing—was given as the reason for her selection by several voters. Four picked her for first place, above Miss Van Wie and Miss Jacobs.

Divided as to sports, golf also headed the list there with five representatives, followed by tennis and swimming, four each, field hockey and trapshooting, one each.

The tabulation of the poll:

	Sport.	Points.
Virginia Van Wie	Golf	177
Helen Jacobs	Tennis	131
Lenore Kight	Swimming	89
Katherine Rawls	Swimming	72
Mildred Didrikson	All-around compt.	20

Duquesne Five Triumphs Over Loyola, 39-23

Duquesne university, Pittsburgh, last night handed Loyola university its first defeat of the year, 39 to 23, at Loyola gymnasium. Paul Birch led the Dukes with six baskets, and Jimmy Murphy and Frank Serany, guards, each scored four field goals.

The easterners started their second team, and within three minutes Loyola scored five points on Murray's long basket and free throw, and Schuessler's short field goal. Oscar Schneider, Duke forward, sank a long shot from the side. The Dukes then sent in their first team and quickly counted ten points.

Loyola will meet St. Ambrose tomorrow night.

ROMNES SCORES TWO GOALS FOR CHICAGO SEXTET

Coulter, Morenz Also Count.

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The world's champion Chicago Blackhawks strengthened their grip on first place in the American section of the National Hockey league tonight by defeating the New York Rangers at Madison Square Garden, 4 to 1. The victory gave the Hawks a standing total of 19 points, three more than the second place Boston Bruins. The Chicagoans meet the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday night and the Canadiens at Chicago Sunday.

Doc Romnes and Howie Morenz scored for the Hawks in the first period, in which Bill Cook also got the lone Ranger goal. Art Coulter scored for the Hawks in the second period, and Romnes added the final goal in the third session.

After Johnson and Bun Cook of the Rangers had finished serving penalties the Hawks scored a goal in 4:23. Romnes and Thompson pulled Kerr out of position, and then the former took Thompson's pass from the corner and fired it home.

Morenz Gets Second Goal.

About two minutes later Chicago made it 2 to 0 on a fast play, March to Morenz. March took the puck down the boards on the right side and centered a pass just at the right time for Morenz, going at top speed, to get it inside the defense. Kerr dived out and Howie took the shot over him. Connelly missed a pair of good chances in the next few seconds. Then Mason was banished for tripping Trudell, but back checking by Connelly and Patrick and Kerr's goaling prevented a score.

Soon after the sides were evened the Blue Shirts broke into the scoring as the Cook brothers lured Chabot off balance and Bill scored on Bun's pass from a scrimmage.

Locking then went off for holding, but the Rangers couldn't hammer their way into the scoring district, although they sent five men down through the entire two minutes.

Hawks Hold Edge.

The Hawks held a big edge in the next few minutes through better back checking and more accurate sniping. They were halted when Coulter drew a tripping penalty and the Rangers put in five forwards. Chabot did great work on the first rush, and Gottselig came out with the puck. Then, as Gottselig and March staged a breakaway, Bun Cook was banished for charging. March, peeved at some rough handling, spilled Bill Cook and was spilled in turn, and Bill was given the penalty.

At the start of the second period both Cooks were in the penalty box, but the Rangers survived without them. Seibert tried a solo and brought a tripping penalty against Morenz, but five Ranger forwards couldn't crack the Hawks defense.

After a slow minute Seibert was benched for holding Thompson, but the Hawks didn't press too hard.

Chabot Stops Rangers.

The Ranger attack finally got started again, but Mason and Connolly couldn't make their passes connect often against the tough Chicago defense. One rush produced two good saves by Chabot.

Bill and Bun Cook each handed Chabot a hot one which he stopped by quick footwork. Burke was penalized for cross-checking Bun Cook, but the Hawks, with Gottselig and March doing great work up forward, turned back the New York rushes. March finally drew a holding penalty but Burke came out after one play.

Coulter then soloed from his own defense zone down the right side, swung in behind the defense, and slapped a perfectly timed backhand shot into the corner as he crossed in front of the cage.

March was benched again for holding Bill Cook, but the Rangers didn't have time to make use of their advantage before the period ended.

It was Chicago's turn for a back to the wall battle as the third period began and the Hawks handled the job easily. Chicago made few raids, but turned one into a goal. Romnes got in for a shot on Thompson's pass and Kerr came out to block it neatly. Two Ranger defense men piled on him but the puck popped out and Romnes tried again and hoisted it over the pile into the net.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Detroit's Red Wings battled to an overtime 1 to 1 tie with the Montreal Maroons in a fast, well played National Hockey league match tonight.

The Wings took the lead late in the opening period, Aurie scoring on a pass from Weiland after Robinson and Lewis had been sent off for high sticks. The Maroons came back early in the second period to tie the count. Cain took an easy shot from just inside the blue line and the puck glanced off Goodfellow's leg to sail past the astonished Goalie Smith.

In the third period Evans was sent off twice for tripping and Marker also was penalized. In each instance the Wings used five forwards without avail.

In the overtime the Detroit club had another chance, when Ward was penalized, but the Montreal defense was too tight. Lineup:

ST. LOUIS, 1; TORONTO, 1

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 20.—(AP)—After clinging to a one goal lead for more than two periods, the St. Louis Eagles faltered to let the Toronto Maple Leafs gain a 1 to 1 tie tonight. The Eagles were off to a good start with a goal shortly after the four minute mark. Carl Voss, center, took a pass from Syd Howe, and beat Goalie George Hainsworth with a shot from the side. Shortly after the half way mark in the third period Baldy Cotton of the Leafs knotted the count. Cotton, flat on the ice during a scramble near the St. Louis Goal, swung at the puck and drove it past Beveridge. A crowd of 3,000 saw the game. Lineup:

Leo vs. St. Patrick, Kankakee, 9 p. m.
St. Mary's, Huntington, Ind., vs. St. Patrick, Chicago, 10 p. m.

Leo High school rallied in the third period to defeat St. George, 30 to 29, and enter the second round of the first annual preseason basketball tournament at St. George's gymnasium in Evanston last night. McElligott, center, led the south side school to victory, scoring six field goals and one free throw.

Leo Takes Lead.

By scoring 12 points in the second period Leo took the lead at the end of the first half, 16 to 9. But in the third quarter three baskets by Parlette, three free throws by Marriner and one by O'Donnell put St. George in the lead, 17 to 16. Leo, however, rallied and held a 20 to 19 advantage at the end of the period.

A last half attack also enabled Fenwick of Oak Park to advance to the second round. The Oak Park quintet eliminated Weber, 26 to 15. Norris starred for Fenwick, accounting for 17 of his team's points. Fenwick scored 14 points in the second half, while Weber only collected five.

Tied three times, once in each of the first three quarters, St. Patrick of Kankakee finally triumphed over St.. Ignatius, 25 to 17, in the third game of the night. The teams were deadlocked, 5 to 5, in the first quarter; 6 to 6 early in the second quarter, and 15 to 15 in the third quarter.

St. Patrick Wins.

St. Patrick of Chicago had little difficulty in defeating Holy Trinity, 47 to 13. Pasiery and Porcoro, forwards, shared St. Patrick's scoring honors, each scoring 10 points.

Mostly About Dogs

By Bob Becker

When Mayor Kelly was quoted in THE TRIBUNE last Tuesday regarding his message to managers of hotels, restaurants and other buildings urging them to lift the ban on dogs that lead the blind, he was stressing a dog problem that this department brought to the attention of the public some weeks ago. In fact, THE TRIBUNE was the first newspaper to point out that a blind man owning an educated shepherd dog in Chicago was severely handicapped in trying to use this dog, since every office building had the bars up against any dog of any kind entering the building or using the elevators.

Herbert Geisler, a practicing attorney who is blind, and his black German shepherd dog from the Seeing Eye, Morristown, N. J., are the pioneers in Chicago trying to blaze the way in this problem of dogs entering public buildings.

The first time I chatted with Geisler about his experiences in getting his dog Nubia from the Seeing Eye, he told me that he didn't know how much he was going to be able to use Nubia in his work because he couldn't even get her in the First National Bank building where his offices are located. The bars are up against all dogs going into this building, no exception being made for an educated German shepherd that has graduated from the Seeing Eye organization, has perfect manners, is thoroughly trained and possesses a good disposition. When a blind man owning a valuable educated dog that can act as a guide, companion and guardian, can't even get his canine "seeing eye" in his own office building, it is evident that the American people as a whole must be educated to the magnificent work dogs are doing for the blind.

In Germany there are thousands of these educated dogs performing a wonderful service for the blind. The blind master and his dog can go into any church. They are permitted to enter public buildings to transact business. Hotels go out of their way to make them comfortable.

Here in Chicago just a beginning is being made along these lines. Geisler tells me that the Milwaukee road has given him permission to ride on trains with Nubia. The elevated lines also have issued orders that Geisler and Nubia may ride on their trains. One restaurant on Clark street, at first a bit dubious about letting Nubia come in with her master, welcome both now because Nubia sits down when she is told, keeps quiet, doesn't move until she gets the command and all in all has perfect manners. There is nothing unusual about this behavior of the educated dog for the blind. They are trained and can be trusted to behave themselves like good citizens. Nubia went into the headquarters of the Chicago Bar association with her master the other day and again proved that she knew how to behave herself.

Unless you have seen one of these dogs in action it is difficult to appreciate just what an important part of the life of a blind man it becomes. How the dog figures out the trafic so as to lead the master safely past automobiles, how it tells the master when there is a step up or a step down, how it will lead the blind man around an obstruction on the sidewalk, and how the dog will pick up any object dropped by his master, are an education to any of us whether we like dogs or not.

HANNIN-KLEIN QUINTET MEETS ST. CYR TONIGHT

The Hannin-Klein Didits will depend on the sharpshooting of Benny Buddick and Gene Godina tonight when they meet St. Cyr, champion of the Knights of Columbus Basketball league for the last two years, at Tuley gymnasium, Potomac and Claremont avenues. Proceeds will be used to purchase Christmas baskets for the needy of the Thirty-first ward.

In a preliminary game the Spencer Coals, unbeaten national girls' champions, will play the Hart Motors. More than 15 leading Chicago athletes, including Charley Grimm, Phil Cavaretta, Phil Weintraub, baseball players, and King Levinsky, Solly Dukelsky, Joe Louis, and Fred Caserio, boxers, will attend.

Temple Takes Injured Stars on Trip South

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Glenn [Pop] Warner led his 33 man Temple university football squad south tonight for final training before battling Tulane in the Sugar Bowl clash at New Orleans New Year's day.

The Owl players will go to Baton Rouge, La., where they will stay a week at Louisiana State university for their pre-game practices. Temple is due in New Orleans Dec. 29.

Included in the group which started the southward trek tonight are the five members of the team who have been laid up by illness. They are Dave Smukler, Mike Lorenz, Danny Testa, and Wilfred Longsderff, all grippe sufferers in the early part of this week, and Horace [Bocco] Mowrey, left half back, who has a fractured wrist.

TULANE SPEEDS UP

New Orleans, La., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Tulane's football team went through its drills at an accelerated pace today for the Sugar bowl trophy game with Temple.

As practice started, Tulane athletic authorities announced that Head Coach Ted Cox and his assistant, Lester Lautenschlaeger, have been signed to new three year coaching contracts.

Tulane's chances have been enhanced with the announcement from examining physicians that Little Monk Simons, the team's star ball carrier, will be able to participate in the New Year's game. An x-ray of a fractured scapula of the injured star, hurt in the L. S. U. game, showed the wound to be healing nicely. Little Monk was in uniform again this afternoon and took part in the drills.

YELLOW JACKETS WIN FROM C. Y. O. HOCKY TEAM, 4-2

The Catholic Youth organization's newest athletic representative, the C. Y. O. All-Stars ice hockey team, lost, 4 to 2, to the Yellow Jackets in the opening game of the newly formed Chicago Hocky league at the Stadium last night.

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, director of the C. Y. O., was among the crowd of 2,200 which saw the double header which opened the season. In the second game the Jones & Baumrucker sextet defeated the Vodrazka Hornets, 3 to 0.

Baseball? Just a Millionaire's Bauble: Stengel

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Charging that baseball millionaires such as P. K. Wrigley, Tom Yawkey, Powell Crosley Jr., and Sam Breadon were ruining his racket, Casey Stengel today announced that he was preparing to start on a $100,000 ivory hunt through the hinterlands in search of talent for the 1935 edition of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The fearless Casey, who will climb into an airplane and whisk off through the snowy clouds for California tomorrow, was discovered today surrounded by ribbon clerks and gushing shopgirls in a Brooklyn department store.

"My money is no good," moaned Casey. "Baseball has gotten to be a millionaire's plaything. The Phillies don't need money now that they have received a big chunk from the Giants for Dick Bartell. The Cubs laugh when we offer them dough. They have a fortune back of them. The Reds want our best players; Crosley has sold so many radio sets he is buying a new yacht. Breadon cut a $101,800 dividend. Brooklyn will be ruined if I don't come up with something out of the turkey roosts."

Stengel charged that millionaires were a menace to baseball. He pointed out that with their advent the game began to hit the skids.

"I'm not a communist, either," he grinned. "I've just been stuck with the job of jerking a seventh place ball club out of the salt mines and I find I'm bucking fellows who laugh at $50,000 cash!"

"I tried to get Hubbell at Louisville when I learned the Giants were tossing him on the block," explained Stengel. "I tried to get him again last week. The Giants are angry with themselves now over the fact that they tipped their mitt.

"Other traders are now going around asking suspiciously 'What is the matter with Hubbell?' I don't think there is much wrong with him except overwork. He has to be used correctly. The Giants are waiting for a more advantageous moment to get a better price—then I think they will let Carl go. We'll be in there among the highest bids to pick him up."

Casey says if he looks over rough rookies he may yet bounce up with another minor league star or two of the caliber of Emil Leonard, Jimmy Jordan, Buzz Boyle, Glen Chapman, and Len Koenecke.

JONES REJECTS FOUR OFFERS; TO STICK TO ARMY

Biff Explains Why He Quit Louisiana Post.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Although reluctant to go into details concerning his row with Senator Huey Long, Capt. Lawrence [Biff] Jones, who resigned as football coach at Louisiana State university, today admitted that interference by Long with the coaching of the team and with the strategy of each game had prompted his decision to quit. Jones returned today from a duck hunting trip, and this was his first formal statement.

"When I came out on the field just before the Oregon game last Saturday," the former coach said, "there was the senator sitting in my place on the players' bench. So I sat away from the team.

"Between the halves I was preparing for a board talk with my players and coaches who had been watching the game from the stands. The senator walked in and asked if he could talk to the players. I said I would prefer that he did not. He then said: 'Suppose I talk to them anyhow? What are you going to do about it?' I said I would prefer that he did not. He pushed his way further in, and I pointed to the door. What we said to each other has been told. He went out of the door. I resigned, and am out of a job.

Biff Likes the Boys.

"I hated to do what I did because of the squad and the coaching staf. The boys have worked so hard for me and they're the finest I've coached anywhere. We had good coöperation among the coaches. There are some fine men among the L. S. U. alumni, but the senator can't understand that a coach doesn't like interference.

"My plans? I expect to be out of football for at least two years. I am trying to get an appointment from the war department to Leavenworth. That is the appointment I turned down last year to remain at L. S. U. If I succeed I will be out of football for awhile, after which I hope to return this way and renew many of the fine acquaintances I have in this section of the country."

Capt. Jones admitted he had received several coaching offers, but said he will confine himself to his army duties. Asked about a report that he had been asked to coach at Northwestern university, Jones said: "I have not been approached by Northwestern, but I've received offers from four other institutions."

Action Is Praised.

Jones has received thousands of telegrams congratulating him on his action in resigning rather than submitting to the dictation of Senator Long. One telegram came from an 80 year old confederate veteran at Natchez, Miss. Capt. Jones would not reveal its text, but the veteran is said by friends of Jones who read the telegram to have wired: "It took a Yankee to tell that polecat where to get off. I fought your ancestors, but now I am fighting for you. I am ashamed of Louisiana that it doesn't show Huey Long the gate as you did."

It developed today that Coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota has refused to consider coming to L. S. U. His wire said: "I know nothing about it. I have received no communication from Huey Long and will not consider going to L. S. U."

Champagne FOR CHRISTMAS? ...THEN BE SURE IT'S REAL CHAMPAGNE!

It is not artificially carbonated. Wines which are so carbonated are not champagne and cannot—however artfully concocted—satisfy the taste or suit the occasion for the real traditional bubbling golden vintage.
And, since 1859, COOK'S Imperial has had the further advantage of a lower price than any comparable imported wine. Its cost to you is NET for finest champagne quality; nothing to pay for ocean freight, import tax or foreign exchange.

65-YEAR-OLD FORMULA
Made by the same formula as Old Forester Famous Whisky—for years the standard of excellence in Kentucky whiskies.
EXPENSIVE SMALL GRAINS
The formula calls for a high percentage of small grains. More expensive to make but adding to body, flavor and smoothness.
PRESENT BOTTLING ONE YEAR OLD
Naturally aged in deep-charred white oak casks. Never less than 10 months. Present bottling is distillation of December, 1933.
LOW PRICE
Priced so low you can cheerfully afford it—especially with its extra quality and definite assurance of mellowness.

How Ester Testing INSURES MELLOWNESS IN THIS GREAT KENTUCKY STRAIGHT WHISKY

IT'S here! The Kentucky Straight Whisky you have been waiting for—"definitely mellowed." It's called "BOTTOMS UP." Made by an old Kentucky distillery known thru three generations for the excellence of its products.
And with a great additional advantage. Every bottle comes from a distillation that is given the ester test for mellowness before it is transferred from the aging casks. Unless it comes up to the definite, prescribed standard for mellowness, it is left in the casks for further aging. Esters give whisky its finer qualities of flavor and smoothness. The high ester content in "BOTTOMS UP" is made possible by the careful selection of grains, modern scientific methods of distillation, which insure maximum development and retention of the esters. Then this fine product is naturally aged in white oak casks under scientifically controlled temperature and humidity. "BOTTOMS UP" is offered at not less than 10 months aging. At present we are bottling one-year-old whisky. Ester tested for mellowness, distillation of December, 1933.
Here is a whisky you can depend upon. A fine pedigreed Kentucky product produced by Brown-Forman Distillery Company, known for their quality products for more than 65 years. And you know that every bottle measures up to a definite standard of mellowness that means so much in whisky.
The name is easy to remember. It's that famous old toasting phrase, "BOTTOMS UP." Just ask your dealer for . . .

CRUICKSHANK'S 267 CAPTURES NASSAU TOURNEY

Bobby Rallies to Beat Strong Field.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, Va., came back to win the $5,000 British Colonial open golf tournament today with a score of 267 after being five down to Tony Butler at the turn on the final round. Butler, a Harlingen, Tex., professional, faltered badly on the last nine holes, going four over par and finally finishing in second place, a stroke behind Cruickshank.

Third place in the tournament that saw the course record lowered by two strokes and the early leaders unable to stand the pace, was taken by Leo Mallory of Noroton, Conn., whose 72 hole score was 269.

Bobby Is Steady.

Steady golf brought Cruickshank the $500 first award. On no round did he exceed par. He finished the first round six strokes behind Joe Turnesa of Hartford, Conn., who smashed the course record with a 62.

The half-way point found Cruickshank tied for second place with Turnesa and two strokes higher than the 132 of Jack Thompson of Youngstown, O. The long-driving Thompson could not hold the top through the next round and Butler and Mallory were leading at 54 holes, with Cruickshank trailing by a single stroke.

Butler Starts Rally.

Then Butler started a rally that carried him far into the lead as 63 holes were finished. Cruickshank played that nine in 35, one over par, but strengthened as Butler wavered, and shot the home nine in 32 while the latter took a 38. Butler won $350, Mallory $250. The winner's score on the four rounds was 68—66—66—67.

Turnesa could do no better than sixth, at 273. Olin Dutra, national open champion and pre-tournament favorite, was bracketed with three others at 275. They were Leo Frazer of Saginaw, Mich.; Billy Burke of Belleair, Fla., and Gene Kunes of Norristown, Pa.

America's Cup Report Against Sopwith Boat

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—If any disqualification had come out of the fourth America's cup race T. O. M. Sopwith protested so vigorously, it would have been meted out to the British challenger, and not the defender Rainbow, the cup race committee revealed tonight in its report to the New York Yacht club.

Claim Foul At Start.

Discussing officially for the first time the protests that marred the race off Newport in September, the report declared that Harold S. Vanderbilt's successful defender, Rainbow, was fouled at the start. Sopwith protested that Rainbow failed to give him racing room both at the start and turning the first buoy, but the cup committee refused to hear his protests on the grounds that he delayed overlong in raising his red flag.

Vanderbilt, who won that race and went on to retain the cup by winning four of the six races, did not protest that race.

After deciding that Sopwith, and not Vanderbilt, had been in the wrong at the disputed start, the committee further explained that Endeavour's protest covering the luffing incident at the first buoy could not have come before the committee either, since one of the yachts would have had to have been disqualified prior to the start if the protests had been considered at all.

Failed to Raise Flag.

The report contained all the correspondence, previously published, between the committee and Sopwith and Vanderbilt, in which the Englishman was told that his protests could not be considered because he had failed to raise his red flag until 3 hours after the first alleged foul on Sept. 22, and 1¾ hours after the second.

The committee that made the report and officiated at the races, Edmund Lang, chairman; E. Vail Stebbins and Clinton Mackenzie, was renamed, and Junius S. Morgan was reelected commodore of the club for the third time.

LAKE FOREST IS 36 TO 31 WINNER OVER ARMOUR

Bill Emery, Lake Forest forward, scored 16 points on eight free throws in eight attempts and four baskets. Gene Heike starred for Armour with six baskets and a pair of free throws. Trailing, 21 to 15 at the half, Lake Forest stepped away from the losers in the second period.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

EN ROUTE, ONLY MORE SO.

TEXARKANA, Tex., Dec. 20.—Friend Arch: Well, Arch, we are in Texarkana, Tex., on our trip to California by uneasy stages. It's called Texarkana because the dividing state line runs right through the city, and you can step back into Arkansas by just crossing the street from our hotel, in case you want to step back into Arkansas.

Perhaps you wonder how I am enjoying the journey. Just don't wonder any longer. We haven't had a bit of sunshine and it has rained steadily on two of the three days, only this afternoon there was a little variation when a nice, thick, juicy fog came up from somewhere to supplement the rain. So I have a pretty good grouch on and my disposition is never at the best when motoring.

Well, we got up at the crack of dawn this morning, or rather before dawn cracked. As I took the elevator down to breakfast at 6:40—imagine any one having breakfast at 6:40—I said to the colored boy, "It's early, isn't it?" That shows how innocuous I've become, because of course it was early and I didn't need to ask any one if it was.

But he said, "No, suh, it ain't early; it's late, but it seems to be early because it's dawk yet."

"And when do you work?" I asked.

"From can't to can't," he replied, and I recognized the old cotton fields expression first heard years ago on a southern training trip with the White Sox. It means you work from you can't see in the morning until you can't see at night. The late Charles A. Comiskey, on that trip, gave a $5 bill to the chap who first used it to him, and the darky didn't work for a week thereafter.

Our trip today was through the Ozarks, but if there was beauty I didn't get an "O" out of them because I was so busy watching the road. Most of the way the surface was built up high, with only about four feet of shoulder on each side, then a precipitate drop of ten feet into ditches containing 3 or 4 feet of water. So if you skidded off the slippery road and didn't get bruised up beyond repair when the car turned over, you'd drown in the ditch anyway.

We saw only one car off the road, however. Fortunately that was right near a town where the ditch wasn't full of water like in the open country. It had just happened and a fellow and girl were climbing out of a roadster. They were pretty well bruised and cut, and another party was administering first aid. They said they were on their honeymoon. After first aid and their scare subsided, they started an argument as to which was to blame for the accident, so I can see that honeymoon isn't going to be a great success. We agreed to send a truck back from the next town to rescue them because it didn't look to me as if the roadster had been improved any by its skid.

So, all in all, what with the accident and the rain all day, we made only 340 miles because it was too foggy to drive after 4:30.

Financially the day was about a standoff. The breakfast setback, including tip, was only a buck for three of us. Lunch at Little Rock was 6 bits and tip, although I don't know why it wasn't more, for we had everything in the place. But the food item was offset by gasoline. We used 30 gallons, and the gas tax in Arkansas is 7½ cents, so that was $6.38. Then there were two 50 cent toll bridges. I didn't mind the first one over the White river, but the Red river is only about a 2 bit river or maybe a 15 cent one at the place where we crossed.

Moreover, the outlook here isn't so good. We're stopping at a hotel which thinks it's first class with price corresponding. It would be first class if it were first class. F'rinstance, hot water for shaving and bathing works on alternate days, and this is an off day.

Otherwise everything is fine, and if I live I want to do a lot of hard work for you in California. I must stop now, for I want to oil my tonsils before dinner. Hoping you will do the same. Regards.

HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

CRUSADERS PLAY TONIGHT.

De Paul Five to Seek 22d in Row Tonight

Seeking their 22d straight victory, De Paul university's basketball team will face the Southeast Missouri State college of Cape Girardeau tonight at the De Paul gymnasium. The start is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock.

Although having had only one day of rest after the 35 to 17 triumph over Valparaiso, Coach Jim Kelly expects his Demon squad to be in excellent shape for tonight's contest.

Veterans to Oppose Demons.

The Cape Girardeau team figures to offer keen competition. With the exception of Joe McDonald, sophomore guard, the visitors will present the same veteran lineup which held De Paul to a 30 to 28 victory last year. In that contest Frankie Owen, center, scored 15 points.

Capt. Willard Hubbard and Rolin Jones, both fourth year men, will appear at the forwards for Cape Girardeau, while the other guard will be Freddie Masteller.

Sand to Replace Campion.

Only one change is expected tonight in the Demon front. Coach Kelly will start Bob Sand at forward instead of Eddie Campion. Ray Adams, who contributed nine points against Valparaiso, will be at the other forward. Nich Yost again will perform at center, while the guards will be Capt. Frank Linskey and Bill Wendt.

Probable lineups:

DE PAUL.		CAPE GIRARDEAU.
Adams	F	Hubbard
Sand	F	Jones
Yost	C	Owen
Linskey	G	McDonald
Wendt	G	Masteller

OUT go Coughs, Colds

When Vitamin A works for you

The logical, safe treatment for coughs and colds is NOT swallowing a lot of harsh drugs or dope-laden pills. (As any doctor will tell you!)

The real way to get the infection out of the system is to "help Nature to help herself" . . . to give your body the weapon that it must have to fight infections. That weapon is Primary Vitamin A, the "Anti-Infective" vitamin.

Smith Brothers Cough Syrup gives you quick, soothing cough relief. In addition, its Primary Vitamin A helps you to fight the infection from within—to drive it OUT of the system. And Primary Vitamin A raises your resistance against re-infections with new coughs and colds.

NEARLY ALL CIGARS have a "quality look" on the surface, but approximately 85% of a cigar is filler tobacco. And it's that unseen 85% that determines smoking pleasure.

But—even though it's unseen—you don't have to judge a cigar's filler tobacco blindly. For now every box of White Owl Cigars carries a Vintage mark.

This Vintage mark is our pledge—and your assurance—that Vintage White Owls contain none but the finest of American filler tobaccos. Only when nature particularly favors the crops—when leaf of Vintage quality is grown—is the tobacco considered suitable for White Owl.

That's what we mean by the Vintage mark on the White Owl box. That's why you can be sure of a quality cigar when you see the Vintage mark.

What Vintage Tobacco Is

THE GENERAL CIGAR COMPANY maintains a comprehensive Crop Inspection System built up over the last ten years. By this means, we learn the condition of nearly every tobacco district in Pennsylvania and Ohio—the two states which produce practically all the cigar filler tobacco grown in the United States.

So accurate is this inspection system that every Vintage crop can be forecast, and our buyers are on the spot to purchase the best of it for White Owls.

But Vintage tobaccos alone are not enough. Even in Vintage years, we classify all filler tobacco into seven grades. And only tobacco of the quality of the top three grades passes White Owl's strict requirements for its Grade A filler tobacco. No other filler tobacco is ever used in White Owls. That's what we mean when we say Grade A Vintage Tobacco.

At the present moment, we have sufficient Grade A Vintage filler tobacco mellowing in our warehouses to make nearly one billion White Owls—more than a two-year supply. With this tremendous reserve, we can assure every White Owl smoker of a continued supply of the mild, fragrant cigars which Vintage tobaccos yield.

CHICAGO GROUP ROBS GARDEN OF RING PRESTIGE

Norris and Aids Sign Up Game's Headliners.

The Chicago organization headed by James Norris Sr., millionaire grain broker, with James C. Mullen and Nate Lewis serving as co-matchmakers, appears to have supplanted Madison Square Garden as the leading boxing promotional unit in the country. The New York Garden, possessing a monopoly on major bouts since the rise to prominence of the late Tex Rickard more than ten years ago, has lost its power to dictate to managers of champions and their challengers due to opposition to its matchmaker, James J. Johnston.

In addition to this, a recent ruling by Attorney General John J. Bennet Jr. of New York, which held contracts binding boxers to the Garden for more than one fight were invalid, made free agents of such prominent fighters as Max Baer, heavyweight champion; Steve Hamas, Passaic, N. J., contender, and Max Schmeling, former titleholder. The decision appears to have put the huge eastern corporation out of business altogether in so far as big time boxing is concerned.

Local Group Expands.

The Norris firm not only seems to have exclusive rights for the presentation of shows in Chicago Stadium, but also will promote major matches in the Detroit Olympia and The Arena, St. Louis. The new organization has put on two financially successful shows in the last month. The ten round draw between Art Lasky and King Levinsky Nov. 23 attracted 13,872 and 14,000 watched Joe Louis score an eight round technical knockout over Lee Ramage Dec. 14. Receipts at the Lasky-Levinsky battle amounted to $30,570 and at the Louis-Ramage show $26,000.

Matchmakers Lewis and Mullen apparently will have another financial winner next Fiday, When Champion Baer and Levinsky will fight four rounds or less in the main event of a strong card. Indications yesterday pointed to a crowd of 15,000 with the probable receipts reaching $30,000.

Match Louis, Perroni.

The Norris-Lewis-Mullen group will offer its first show at Detroit on Jan. 4 with Louis meeting Patsy Perroni of Cleveland in the windup. Max and his heavyweight brother, Buddy Baer, tentatively have been signed to appear on the program, the former in an exhibition and Buddy probably against Jack O'Dowd, a Detroit battler.

The Baer-Levinsky bout at the Stadium next week took on a more important trend yesterday with two discoveries. No. 1 was the champion's refusal to face Levinsky for less than 40 per cent of the gate and the King's quick acceptance when 15 per cent, the lowest he has been paid since he broke into topnotch competition a few years back, was offered him. No. 2 was the promise made by Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, that the Kingfish will get a title bout with Max if he wins decisively next Friday.

The caliber of the supporting program is indicated by announcement last evening that Frank Battaglia, Chicago middleweight, and Kid Leonard of East Moline, Ill., will be paid $1,500 each for their ten round meeting. Buddy Baer will receive $500 for his four round bout with Gene Stanton of Cleveland. Al Ettore, Philadelphia heavyweight, has been signed for another encounter at ten rounds.

Gig Rooney, agent for those interested in a card at Wrigley field in Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 22, left town last night confident he had clinched a return match between Lee Ramage of San Diego and Joe Louis for that date. Ramage, who was stopped in the eighth round by Joe last week, accepted and representatives of Louis agreed pending outcome of two contests next month.

Dave Barry, state athletic commission referee, was out on bond yesterday pending a hearing Jan. 14 in Criminal court of charges growing out of an alleged plot to defraud a Chicago bank and a Springfield insurance company.

Dan Carroll, member of the Chicago Board of Trade, has taken over the management of Bill Treest, 1934 Golden Gloves middleweight champion, who is boxing successfully as a professional. . . . Eddie Vlk is training in Portland, Ore., for a ten round bout against Billy Townsend at Vancouver, B. C., New Year's afternoon. . . . The next show at Arcadia Gardens will be held on Jan. 16. . . . Frank Battaglia, local boxer, yesterday agreed to terms for a ten round overweight match with Champion Teddy Yarosz at Pittsburgh on Jan. 8.

College Spent $40,000 for Football Team

Washington, Pa., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—A militant reiteration of future athletic policies at Washington and Jefferson college by Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison, president, today definitly swept the W. and J. football teams off the "gold standard" and made it certain the school had retired from the national gridiron stage.

Earlier in the week, Dr. Hutchison took advantage of the announcement of the 1935 schedule to explain that W. and J. had given its last athletic scholarship and from now on no attempt would be made to recruit talent for any team. The number of major opponents was reduced and Dr. Hutchison declared there would be even further curtailment when present contracts ran out.

Says Team Cost $40,000.

Today, the young head of the college presented additional information to prove that in the past W. and J had been one of the most heavily subsidized institutions in the country.

This sum was accounted for by free tuition to the players at $350 each; $12 a week was paid fcr each player's board and room; books amounted to about $15 per man a year. The average cost of maintaining a player was in the neighborhood of $800.

Dr. Hutchison revealed that when he became president three years ago the college gave almost fifty athletic scholarships along with the additional compensations which went with them.

Result of Three Year Study.

The present action is the result of a three year study of conditions by Dr. Hutchison, the faculty, and the athletic council.

For years W. & J. was one of the leading football powers of the east. The high point in its history was reached in 1921 when the varsity eleven, coached by Earl [Greasy] Neale, at present back field coach at Yale, won the eastern championship and was chosen to play against the University of California in the Rose bowl at Pasadena. The game resulted in a scoreless tie.

OLYMPIC SPEED SKATING GROUP TO MEET SUNDAY

Members of the 1936 United States Olympic speed skating committee from all sections of the country will gather in Chicago Sunday at the Morrison hotel to arrange the program for the trials which will be held at Minneapolis Jan. 12-13 and Jan. 19-20.

According to Frank M. Kalteux of Chicago, chairman of the committee, plans for financing the sectional trials will be formulated, as well as a schedule for the conduct of the trials in each section of the United States.

The members of the committee are Frank M. Kalteux, Chicago, chairman; Chester Roan of Minneapolis, Judge John D. Watts of Detroit, William M. Taylor of Bear Mountain, N. Y., Joseph K. Savage of New York City, and Edward A. Mahlke, Chicago, secretary.

John Hardwick, chief engineer for the Chicago Board of Underwriters, has been elected president of Musratz swimming group at the Lake Shore Athletic club for 1934. The announcement was made yesterday by Stan Brauninger, athletic director of the club.

The Musratz meet every Thursday night at the Lake Shore, enjoying a program of water sports which is followed by dinner and entertainment at the side of the pool. The swimming club is one of the oldest and most active groups in the L. S. A. C.

SUGAR EXCHANGE TO ACT ON SHORT 'CORNER' TODAY

Orders Vote on Rules to Aid Members.

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The board of managers of the New York Coffee and Sugar exchange announced tonight that it would not make public its course of action in the present technical "corner" until tomorrow morning at 9:50 o'clock. The managers decided that members should be notified of their decision directly from the rostrum of the exchange just before the market's opening.

To alleviate the situation of the shorts an election will be held tomorrow to decide whether failure to deliver sugar against a sale of December, 1934, contract shall be considered a default.

Trader Is Helpless.

This proposal is made because it is realized that inability to deliver December sugar is due to factors outside the province of the exchange or of traders to influence, and does not arise from the insolvency of a member or a client of a member.

A further difficulty arose on the announcement that the Cuban sugar quota for 1934 had been filled, which might make undeliverable until January the approximately 8,000 tons of December sugar on which notices were issued in the last two days. Two leading sugar interests issued 129 notices for December sugar this morning, making total deliveries by shorts for the last two days 159 lots, or 7,950 tons.

Total Set at 25,000 Tons.

With 1,000 tons more liquidated by deals on the floor and 2,000 tons reported settled by private negotiation the short position at the close of trading today was believed to be about 25,000 tons, against which no sugar is available for purchase or delivery.

At 2 cents a pound or $40 a ton the short interest stands near one million dollars. No statements were made regarding the average price at which the contracts were sold originally, but for every 25 points of rise from the sale price a loss of $125,000 appears.

Directors of Armour & Co. to Hold Meeting Today

Directors of Armour & Co. will meet today, with no special matters scheduled to come before them. The second $1.50 quarterly dividend on the new prior preferred stock, issued as part of the recapitalization plan adopted last July, was declared last month payable Jan. 1 to stockholders of record Dec. 10. According to latest figures, more than 94 per cent of the old 7 per cent preferred shares have been converted into the new 6 per cent stock. The former will be $28 per share in arrears on dividends on Jan. 1, with little likelihood of any further dividends being declared on it.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Dec 20.—(AP)—Raw sugar was unchanged today and the only sale confirmed was 12,000 bags of Cubas for January melt concluded late yesterday at 2.60c per lb delivered, and it was believed that more could be had at this level today.

Futures moved within narrow limits with only a small trade. Final prices were 1 point higher on the spot month and unchanged to 1 lower on later months. Sales were only 5,450 tons. There were 129 December notices issued, aggregating 6,450 tons, but they were promptly stopped and the only sales in the present December position were at 2.00c or a point above the previous close in the last minute of trading. It was announced by the board of managers that all clearing members reporting an open position in December, 1934, contracts at the close today shall inform the superintendent of the number of such contracts on their books.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Bleachable cottonseed oil was steady today at 5 points advance to 2 points net lower with sales of 24 contracts. Steadiness of lard and hogs as well as crude oil and moderate buying by refiner interests were supporting factors. Bleachable spot nominal; December closed 9.96c per lb.; January, 10.02c; March, 10.02c; May, 10.09c; July, 10.19c.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Fresh eggs sold at unchanged prices yesterday. Receipts were 1,319 cases. Butter was firm with prices ⅛@¾c per lb higher. Receipts amounted to 4,579 tubs. Live turkeys were steady to 1c lower; ducks, unchanged to 2c higher, and geese unchanged to ½c per lb higher. Receipts were 2 cars and 42 trucks. Potatoes were about steady with receipts 58 cars, and 263 cars were on team track.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1934.

BIG COMPANIES TOLD TO REVEAL OFFICIALS' PAY

SEC Order Affects Listed Concerns.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Big business, as represented by 2,350 of America's largest corporations, was told by the Securities commission today that it must reveal much hitherto carefully guarded data, including salaries paid high officials.

The order that the pay, bonuses, and other profits of the highest salaried officials of a corporation be disclosed was one of many included in a set of new regulations made public today. They cover in detail what the businesses must do to have the legal right to sell their securities on the stock exchanges.

The rules were officially described as aimed at safeguarding the country's investors by informing them fully about securities.

Investors Are Affected.

The new form directly affects the millions of investors who hold between $60,000,000,000 and $70,000,000,000 of the securities of these companies. Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy of the commission said that it carried an indirect economic effect of almost incalculable weight.

The filing of the form with the commission constitutes registration. Actual filing of the new statements is not expected before February. All must be filed by June 30, 1935, although exceptions will be made.

Since the requirements do not touch corporations which do not list their securities on exchanges, thousands of companies are not affected. However, issues not traded on exchanges, but bought and sold in other ways, will be affected later.

The information also will be required on an annual basis, Kennedy said, and therefore will cause considerable revision of methods of publishing periodical information for investors.

Ask Uniform Information.

The rules do not require uniform accounting—that is, methods of presenting the information—but, Kennedy said, they do require uniform information, and explanation of the accounting methods used.

"Corporations may not now shift their methods in the middle of the deal," the chairman explained. "In the past it has been something like changing bridge systems during the game." Kennedy said he did not believe the rules would impose burdens on corporations, and predicted that few would criticize the order severely.

Much will be shown hereafter about the control of corporations. Each one listed on an exchange must show exactly its relation to other companies. These fact will enable investors to test the strength of a particular company by determining the interests in control.

This matter is further considered in rules requiring all holders of more than 10 per cent of the company's stock to report their holdings. Such information on an annual basis will permit analysis in shifts of control.

Banks Buying Bonds; So Get U.S. Deposits

How the banks are buying government bonds and the government is boosting bank deposits, to provide the basis for what may prove a tremendous expansion in credit, is strikingly brought out in the banking statistics issued last night by the federal reserve system.

Member banks of the reserve system in New York bought 119 million dollars of government bonds last week, one of the biggest increases shown in weeks. It was during the period covered by the report that the treasury effected its 2 billion dollar financing operation.

During the same period, the report showed, the government placed 310 million dollars on deposit with the New York banks. Without the additional government funds, the deposits of the New York banks last week would have shown a decline of 122 million dollars. Time deposits and demand deposits, other than government, fell that amount.

Similar Process at Chicago.

With the government's pouring millions into the banks, added impetus is given to the forces which are working toward a big credit expansion. The government may draw on its deposits to pay for services and materials in its manifold activities, but the money comes back into the banks in the form of deposits from the recipients of government disbursements. Thus deposits are being steadily forced upward and the pressure of idle funds in the banks, which already carries dangerous credit potentialities, is being increased.

The total expansion in bank credit in New York last week was $175,000,000. There was an increase of $26,000,000 in brokers' loans and $42,000,000 in investments other than government bonds. Business loans shrunk $4,000,000.

Chicago Cuts Business Loans.

Chicago banks reduced their business or commercial loans $2,000,000, increased their holdings of governments by $39,000,000, and received $18,000,000 in new government deposits.

The statement of the combined reserve system showed a large increase in gold stocks of the country, which were up $28,000,000 last week, when many foreign currencies sold above the gold export point. Money in circulation expanded $55,000,000, reflecting the increased Christmas season demands. Direct industrial loans of the reserve system were boosted $1,832,000 for the country as a whole, but the Chicago district showed no gain.

A reduction from 3 to 2½ per cent in the rediscount rate of the Kansas City Reserve bank was announced last night by the federal reserve board, effective today.

Brewing Industry Retains Code; Bruckmann Chairman

The brewing industry yesterday began operating under a reorganized code authority as the term of the old code authority ended. John Bruckmann, Cincinnati, O., will continue as chairman of the code authority. Brewers were reported satisfied with the code regulation of last year.

State Auditor Edward J. Barrett last night authorized payment of 22 per cent on the claims of depositors, preferred creditors, and trusts in the closed Central Manufacturing District bank. Hope is held that checks may be out by Christmas.

At the same time, two other banks were making restitution to depositors. The Bowmanville National was paying 15 per cent to bring its total repayment to 25 per cent. The current distribution amounts to approximately $180,000, and was made possible through a loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Belmont-Sheffield Pays.

The Belmont-Sheffield Trust and Savings bank began distribution of checks amounting to $14,720 yesterday. This is the second "dividend," and raised the total returned to 47½ per cent. William L. O'Connell, state receiver, also announced that payments to preferred creditors aggregate $34,806. Funds were obtained from ordinary liquidation of assets.

The repayment authorized for the Central Manufacturing bank amounts to $609,536, and will be the first since the institution's doors were closed on June 24, 1932. The bank was one of the larger outlying houses, and failed with a deposit liability of $2,821,595.

Pay Claims Equally.

The plan of repayment, equally to depositors and preferred claimants, has been used in several other cases recently so that depositors will not be forced to wait months longer for final disposition of claims whose right to preference is being disputed by the receiver. In accordance with court decisions, the receiver is retaining a cash reserve balance of some $70,000—equal to the amount of cash on hand at the time of closing—as legal security for unpaid preferred claims. It was disclosed by the state auditor's office that just $335.49 cash will be left available to the receiver for expenses.

AUTO WORKERS DON'T TAKE LABOR BOARD ELECTION SERIOUSLY

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Results of the election in the Cadillac Motor Car company plant Wednesday, while in a form prescribed by President Roosevelt's automobile labor board, raises a question whether the employés treated the "primary election" as seriously as the board intended. Some workmen, acting upon reported instructions from outside labor unions, cast blank ballots.

The election, designed to nominate for collective bargaining two representatives in each of 16 shop districts, brought votes for Santa Claus, Babe Ruth, Herbert Hoover, and the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, radio priest, who actually was nominated in one district. He will be asked, as will every other nominee, whether he will be willing to serve before including his name on the ballot for the election Dec. 28.

The Cadillac Employés' association garnered 152; blank or void ballots numbered 143; the American Federation of Labor, 94; Mechanics' Educational Society of America, 20; the Society of Designing Engineers, 7, and the Auto Workers' union, 1. The plant has 2,300 eligible voters.

MARSHALL FIELD HOLIDAY TRADE TOPS LAST YEAR

Marshall Field & Co.'s business for December will be 20 per cent greater than during the holiday month last year, Vice President F. D. Corley said yesterday. It also was said that December, 1933, was not a "bad" month, but that the current December trade will be surprisingly close to 1930 and 1931 figures.

Figures are not available, because of Field's policy of never breaking down statements by months, but the departure from tradition in Mr. Corley's statement assumed large proportions in view of the unusually heavy trade enjoyed every December by the company.

PRESIDENT GIVES ULTIMATUM TO WIRE CONCERNS

Tells Firms to Take Code or Offer One.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—A virtual ultimatum to the two major telegraph companies either to accept a code for their industry that has been pending for more than a year or to present one of their own was handed down today by President Roosevelt in a conference with leaders of the industry at the White House.

The President intervened for the first time in the fight by the National Recovery administration to bring under a code of fair competition the largest uncoded industry at the request of the National Industrial Relations board.

None of the participants in the conference would discuss it afterward. It seemed evident to observers, however, that the heads of the telegraph companies were as disinclined after the conference as in previous months to accept codification proposals voluntarily.

Report Roosevelt Insistent.

At the same time it was reported on good authority that despite strenuous objections by the industry leaders President Roosevelt was most emphatic in his insistence that they join the ranks of other major industries which have accepted and are operating under codes.

At least a part of the administration's insistence on a code for the telegraph industry was ascribed to the President's desire to have all major business interests operating under the NRA when he presents to congress new legislative proposals for perpetuating the major points of the recovery program. The national industrial recovery act will expire June 15, but fair trade practices, stipulations regarding minimum wages and maximum hours of work, and other high points of the administration recovery program as it effects business will be recommended before that date as subjects for new legislation.

Heads of Companies Attend.

Those present at the conference were S. Clay Williams, chairman of the NIRB, and the whole membership of the board; Eugene R. Sykes, chairman of the Federal Communications commission; Newcomb Carlton, chairman of the Western Union Telegraph company; Sostehenes Behn, chairman of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, of which the Postal Telegraph company is a unit, and L. H. Peebles, who is in charge of the proposed telegraph code.

A code for the telegraph communications industry has been hanging fire since September, 1933, when the industry submitted one which was unsatisfactory to the NRA.

Business Men's Industry Plan Compromise, Not Agreement

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Ninety of the nation's business leaders, attempting to meet President Roosevelt's criticism that business men could not agree on a platform for industry, went to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and in a three day session ended Wednesday drew up a program on which they said they could agree.

They appointed one committee, consisting of C. B. Ames, chairman of the board of the Texas company, and George Mead, president of Mead corporation, to inform the President of their agreement, and a second committee, headed by Mr. Ames, Robert L. Lund, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers, and Silas Strawn, Chicago attorney, to win the support for the program from business interests not represented at the White Sulphur Springs conference and to offer to the President the "cooperation" of business men on the basis of the program they have drawn up.

"Compromise" would be a better word than "agreement" to describe the platform, which is neither fish, flesh, nor fowl. From the remarks of delegates returning from this meeting it was readily discovered that the fruit is by no means sweet even to those who produced it.

The business men present, feeling that they had been put "on the spot" by Washington criticisms of their inability to place their ideas all in one groove, felt that they had to produce, and it was the feeling that some kind of platform had to be devised rather than mutual acceptance of the platform that was devised that forced the conferees to sign on the dotted line.

"This is an egg laying job, rather than a ditch digging job," was the way one of the guiding spirits expressed it. "And the hen has got to sit on the nest until the egg is laid."

An egg was produced, but among many of the tired delegates who returned yesterday from three days and nights of toil and strife there was the suspicion that it was a porcelain egg put into the nest by Owen D. Young, who slipped in quietly during the second day of clashing opinions, and W. I. Harriman, head of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who has been writing articles and making speeches all over the country trying to swing business more closely in line with the New Deal.

* *

On the majority of recommendations, it is true, the disagreements were of a minor nature. Return of the dollar to a fixed and unvarying gold content was favored by a vast majority of the delegates, despite the objections of a few, like James Rand Jr. of the committee for the nation who was there to argue for a "managed currency."

A balanced budget, curtailment of expensive "make work" relief projects, amending the securities act, getting the government out of socialistic projects, scrapping of plans for an enforced thirty hour week, and expansion of foreign trade were propositions that aroused little objection.

On the subject of the NRA, however, there was not and is not now any real measure of agreement. Long after the subcommittees drafting the other planks had submitted their products to the steering group headed by Harriman, Young, and Raskob the subcommittee charged with developing the plank on NRA was still battling behind closed doors. And after an NRA report had been produced it was openly admitted to be a compromise, and one which satisfied neither side.

* *

A group of manufacturers still imbued with the idea that they could soften the rigors of the anti-trust acts and arrive at price fixing agreements wanted the conference to go on record favoring continuation of the NRA by legislation on its expiration next June.

A larger group of disillusioned business men who agree with Gen. Hugh S. Johnson that the NRA is as "dead as the dodo" fought for its elimination. To break the deadlock and try to prove that business can be regimented back of a single policy a compromise was finally drafted.

In the NRA plank the business men ask that the adoption, amendment, or scrapping of a code be voluntary within any industry; but that if most of the companies in a given industry vote for a code it shall be made binding upon the entire industry. Other provisions ask for continuation of minimum wages, maximum hours, and prohibition of child labor in all codes, but in industries not covered by codes these would not be mandatory.

To those who oppose the NRA such arrangements would be merely legitimate conspiracies in restraint of trade, and they believe that trade would be restrained through artificial boosting of costs of operation, which, of course, would mean higher prices to the consumer.

* *

Although seeming to favor increasing costs and prices in this way in the NRA plank, the conference elsewhere in its platform pointed to the need of preventing artificial boosting of costs in order to stimulate foreign trade.

And in spite of the fact that the platform opposes arbitrary limitation of production of farm crops, the NRA plank reflects a desire to control industrial production.

Instead of demonstrating unanimity of opinion among business leaders the hybrid document drawn up at the White Sulphur Springs conference bears striking evidence of the futility of expecting business men to subordinate their individual ideas to a regimentation of business thought.

It is difficult for many business men to understand why it should be necessary for all business men to think alike when even college professors and politicians disagree.

Mesta Machine Company Will Pay Employe Bonus

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Directors of Mesta Machine company today authorized a Christmas bonus to its salaried employés ranging from one full month's pay for all those who were on the pay rolls at the beginning of the year down to a proportionate amount for those who joined the company at a later date.

NATIONAL LEAD DECLARES 14% STOCK DIVIDEND

Many Specials and Extras Voted.

The National Lead company yesterday declared a 14 per cent common stock dividend, payable Jan. 15 to common stock holders of record Dec. 31. Cash dividends on this class stock for 1934 have been paid at the usual $5 rate.

The stock dividend represents the excess of such shares the company purchased during the depression over and above that which it planned to sell to its employés on an instalment plan. The last extra dividend voted by the company was 25 cents, in 1931, which stockholders were requested to donate to several relief funds.

Refused Cash Offers.

E. J. Cornish, chairman, said: "We have had several cash offers for the stock that we are distributing to common share holders, but we refused to consider these offers. The management felt that the stock should be redistributed to the shareholders."

Directors of Pullman, Inc., declared the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share, payable Feb. 15 to stock of record Jan. 24.

The Steel Company of Canada voted to pay an extra dividend of 27½ cents in addition to the regularly quarterly payment of 43¾ cents on the common stock. The regular quarterly dividend of 43¾ cents was also declared on the preferred stock.

Special of 15 Cents.

Thompson Products voted $7 a share on the preferred stock, payable Jan. 2, on account of accumulations which will amount to $5.25 a share after this payment.

American Securities Shares [St. Louis] will pay an extra dividend of 8 cents a share, in addition to the semi-annual 6 cents, payable Jan. 15.

Lefcourt Realty declared a dividend of $1 on the preferred stock, the first payment since July 15, 1932, when 75 cents a share was disbursed. The dividend is payable Jan. 15 to stock of record Jan. 5.

Dividend Is Omitted.

Supervised Shares, Inc., declared a

54 Duties for Your Executor

Upon the promptness and care with which 54 separate but necessary duties are performed during the probate of your estate, may depend its protection from unnecessary losses. If your wife is made executrix, these duties will fall upon her.

The assistance of an experienced trust company as executor or co-executor of your will should be worth more than its moderate cost. A discussion of the matter with one of our Trust officers involves no obligation.

It is advisable to review your will with your attorney periodically; changed economic or family conditions may necessitate some modifications.

UTILITY SHARES DIP; GENERAL LIST STEADIER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 20.—Although utility shares again weakened the stock market displayed a steadier tone today. In certain sections the list gave evidence of a mild resumption of constructive activity, but the effort was hardly enough to produce more than fractional gains.

Trading volume again fell short of the million share mark, dashing the hopes raised some time ago that Santa Claus would drop a few million share days into brokers' stockings before the end of the year. The last million share day fell on Dec. 11, when the total volume reached 1,280,000. Up to that time the volume had shown a marked tendency to expand and hopes had run rather high.

Consolidated Gas Leads.

The break in the utility division was led by Consolidated Gas. Criticism of the company's rates by city and state authorities and the Washington government's friendliness to schemes for a municipal light plant drove the stock below the $20 level for the first time this year and provided a highly disturbing factor for the market. Other utility shares were also soft, Public Service of New Jersey, United corporation, American Water works, and North American registering fractional losses. A new selling drive appeared against American Telephone, which dropped a full point.

The news of the day continued to be cheering with statistics showing that bank clearings for the week ended Dec. 19 reached a new three year top. This was received in Wall street as reflecting the huge turnover of checks incidental to the large increase in retail trade.

Despite the weakness in the power and light shares the industrial group put on an improved performance. American Can was a strong spot, rising fractionally, while du Pont showed a better tone after a hesitant beginning.

Rails Point Lower.

Railroad shares, despite preliminary estimates of carloadings to be published tomorrow indicating the possibility of a gain of more than 20,000 units over the corresponding period of last year, were in supply. New York Central, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, and several of the lower priced carriers finished at fractional losses.

Motor shares were inclined to be sluggish, with Hudson, Studebaker, and General Motors climbing to their previous closing levels. Chrysler moved in a narrow range, but added to its value fractionally.

The oil group appeared to be ignoring the mark-up in prices in several areas, with mixed tendencies resulting. Socony was off fractionally, while Standard Oil of New Jersey and Indiana held firm.

Chemicals also showed some signs of steadying and after yesterday's break of more than 3 points, the selling in Allied Chemical halted.

PROFIT TAKING CAUSES LARD PRICES TO CLOSE IRREGULAR

Continued strength in hogs yesterday more than offset the effect of the declining corn market as a bullish influence on lard and the latter advanced early. Profit taking developed later on reports the upturn in hogs had not been maintained and the finish was 7½ points higher to 2½ points lower. Bellies were unchanged. According to a leading local packing interest the yield of lard from hogs slaughtered by their plants last week was around 23 lbs per head, compared with a normal of 25 to 30 pounds. Cash lard closed at 11.45 cents; loose, 10.82 cents; leaf, 10.87 cents, and bellies, 14¾ cents per pound. Prices follow:

		Lard.
December	11.50	11.50	11.50	11.42	4.40

January	....	......	14.85	14.85	5.60
May	15.40	15.40	15.40	15.40	6.10

Note—Above prices include processing tax of 2.47c per pound on lard and 2.62c per pound on bellies taxed on produce made since March. This tax is rebated on produce exported, but varies according to the amount, due to the fact that tax was gradually advanced.

WINTER WHEAT ACREAGE TOPS 4 YEAR FIGURES

Farmers Exceed Quotas of Control Plan.

Reporting the largest acreage planted to winter wheat since 1930, the department of agriculture yesterday forecast a crop of 475,000,000 bushels. The estimate is made both on the acreage planted and the condition of the crop on Dec. 1, which was appraised as the best since 1931. At the same time the department reported the acreage planted to rye last fall as the largest in the last five years and the crop's condition as the most favorable since 1931.

Acreage sown to winter wheat was estimated at 44,306,000, as compared with 41,283,000 in 1933. Part of the big increase in acreage was attributed by the government to the need for pasture and forage growing out of the drouth.

Abandonment May Rise.

The department said that the abandonment of the 1934 seedings would probably be above average and approximately 18 per cent. Another construction which might be put on the big increase in acreage is that farmers are exceeding their quotas allowed them under the agricultural adjustment program. There have been indications farmers were planting more wheat acreage than that alloted to them and letting normal abandonment bring them within their quotas.

Year—	Acreage.	Cond. Dec. 1 Pct. normal.
1930	45,240,000	86.3
1931	41,283,000	79.4
1932	42,669,000	68.9
1933	41,850,000	74.3
1934	44,306,000	77.8

Total rye acreage was estimated at 5,697,000, as compared with 5,027,000 last year. Condition was given at 80.4 per cent of normal against last year's appraisal of 69.9 on Dec. 1.

Figures on Rye Crop.

Year—	Acreage.	Cond. Dec. 1 Pct. normal.
1930	5,196,000	82.9
1931	5,085,000	82
1932	4,470,000	76.3
1933	5,027,000	69.9
1934	5,697,000	80.4

The normal abandonment of winter wheat acreage is about 12 per cent a year. In the last two years, however, the acreage abandoned has been considerably larger. In 1933 21.3 per cent of the acreage planted was later abandoned and in 1932 the figure reached 33 per cent. The average for the ten years, 1921-'30, was 12.1 per cent.

STUDEBAKER'S OUTPUT RISES ABOVE YEAR AGO

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Production of the Studebaker corporation for December will reach 5,500 units, Paul G. Hoffman, one of the three trustees of the corporation, said today. December, 1933, production was 5,000.

Hoffman said that fifteen hundred orders will be carried over to January. The pay roll Friday will be one of the largest in the last five years with more than seven thousand men at work. Studebaker at one time employed twelve thousand men.

Grains Meet Small Demand and Prices Weaken Slightly

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Grains went begging for buyers on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday and failed to attract sufficient demand to prevent another slight recession in prices. The traditional decline in trading activity at this season was carried further with the volume of business estimated to have been the smallest in several days.

This is the off season period for domestic crop news. The condition of the winter crops, on which the government made its first report after the close of the market yesterday, now becomes a price influence.

Present Price Factor.

For the next few months, however, the adjustment necessary to strike some balance between demand and the available supply of grains, and more particularly feedstuffs, will be the most important price making factor in the market.

Wheat has lost approximately 2⅛ cents a bushel during the last week and corn has dropped about 2 cents. The complications of the international wheat situation have entered into the decline in that grain. Corn's weakness has resulted from a slackening demand in the country as well as in commercial channels. The slow recession in price has been anything but spectacular. The net losses chalked up yesterday were meager.

Comparative Prices.

Closing prices on the May futures were:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	$0.98⅛	$0.98⅝	$1.00⅞
Corn	.86⅝	.87⅛	.88⅝
Oats	.51⅞	.52	.53⅛
Rye	.76⅝	.76⅛	.77⅝

The London dispatch to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE yesterday telling of the charges of huge short selling operations on the part of the Argentine government was taken here as another version of the alleged dumping which the South American country had been previously charged with. The charge is made at a time when the Argentine wheat producers are agitating for better prices for the government. Three of the biggest European importing firms, which were credited with buying a big lot of Argentine wheat, were the targets of similar charges a few weeks ago.

W. J. M'ANEENY BECOMES HEAD OF HUPP MOTOR

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—William J. McAneeny, former chairman of the Hudson Motor Car company, has been elected president of the Hupp Motor Car corporation. The announcement was made today by Archie M. Andrews, chairman of the board of directors of Hupp. McAneeny was named president and general manager to fill an office vacated recently by the retirement of Charles D. Hastings.

The election makes McAneeny one of the few men in the automotive industry who have headed two large automobile manufacturing companies.

HOGS REACH NEW HIGHS EARLY, BUT DECLINE LATER

The trend of hog prices was reversed abruptly yesterday after new highs for the last eleven weeks had been established during the forenoon on light receipts. Early advances of 10 cents to 25 cents were rubbed out in the butcher grades, the bulk of offerings weighing 200 pounds and over selling on late afternoon rounds at prices about steady with the average of Wednesday.

Receipts at 26,000 were second lightest for a Thursday in seven weeks.

Cattle showed a two-way price trend again yesterday. Best weighty steers met dependable demand at strong to 25 cents higher quotations, but the inbetween and thin kinds were weak. Wilson bought a load of 1,306 pound steers at $10, the top.

New five months' highs were made in lambs yesterday in the face of larger receipts and the influence of poultry on the trade for dressed lamb. City butchers paid up to $8.00 late in the afternoon, the highest since the middle of July. Old ewes held steady, lights selling at $3.50 and heavy ewes at $2.25 to $2.50.

FRANCE REPORTS FURTHER LOSSES IN GOLD STOCKS

PARIS, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes in francs: Gold decreased 83,000,000; sight balances abroad decreased 2,000,000; bills discounted at home increased 13,000,000; bills bought abroad unchanged; advances decreased 7,000,000; circulation decreased 385,000,000; current accounts increased 100,000,000.

Chicagoans Lose $11,600 Income Tax Case Appeal

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—Irving and Edwin Klein, Chicago, today lost a $11,600 income tax case before the United States Board of Tax Appeals. The board ruled that payments made in an effort to buy control in the L. Klein corporation and as insurance premiums were not deductible in tax returns.

CENT. REPUBLIC HOLDERS ASK RFC SUIT BE QUASHED

Argue U.S. Court Lacking in Jurisdiction.

A petition asking dismissal of the Reconstruction Finance corporation's suit to collect $14,000,000 from stockholders of the Central Republic Trust company was filed in federal court late yesterday by the law firm of Sims, Stransky, and Brewer on behalf of approximately 100 shareholders.

This is the first pleading of defendant and is an attempt to knock out one of the three identical suits filed by the RFC. The other two suits were brought in Circuit court, one before and one after the appointment of William L. O'Connell as receiver for the former state bank. The petition declares that the federal court has no jurisdiction in the case. The bill, drawn by Attorney T. I. McKnight, shows that the suit is based on liability of stockholders under the Illinois constitution and statutes.

Argue State Court Jurisdiction.

It is contended the state courts have exclusive jurisdiction over the matter of stock liability in the closed state bank. Federal courts have no jurisdiction where the amount involved is less than $3,000, the petition continues. It points out that the large majority of stockholders own less than 30 shares and could not have liability of $3,000. In this connection, it is argued that the suit is a "misjoinder of parties defendant"—that separate suites against 4,300 parties are involved, and that the defenses vary.

No question arises under the federal constitution of laws, the bill declares, nor is the suit one involving different states. Point also is taken that the RFC is neither the United States nor an officer of the United States, and that no action is possible in federal court when it is no more than a private corporation.

Represent Small Stockholders.

None of the stockholders in the group of 100 owns a large number of shares, according to Attorney McKnight, although they have an aggregate of "several thousand shares." Walter R. Werner, an assistant vice president in the former bank, is manager of the group. A charge of 50 cents a share is being made, with the added provision that not more than another 50 cents may be levied to cover the entire defense.

Stockholders now being served with notice of the suit were given an extension of time for filing answers yesterday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, to whom the case has been assigned. On motion of the RFC time for all was extended t Feb. 1.

Suits were filed yesterday by the RFC in the District of Columbia court against thirteen Central Republic stockholders who reside in the capital and in the Los Angeles federal district court against 124 California stockholders. The latter suit is to recover $438,000.

CREDIT SURVEY IN CLEVELAND AREA ORDERED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Encouraged by the reception of the report of Dr. Jacob Viner and Dr. Charles O. Hardy on a survey of credit and banking conditions in the Chicago federal reserve district, Secretary Morgenthau authorized today a similar investigation by them in the Cleveland district. It will be launched shortly after the holidays. Morgenthau saw a possibility of a like survey in all federal reserve districts.

Besides the banking survey the Cleveland investigation will embrace the subject of real estate mortgages, it being understood that the treasury desires to get "inside" knowledge on foreclosures, lending on mortgages and real estate, the situation of building and loan associations, and the coöperation given by the Home Owners' Loan corporation.

The district embraces Ohio, eastern Kentucky, a part of northern West Virginia, and western Pennsylvania. This district had a particular problem in the failure of some large banks to open after the banking holiday.

PELLEY REPORTS CAR POOL PLAN NEARLY READY

Saving to Roads Is Put at $100,000,000.

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—A national freight car pool plan which, it has been estimated, would save the railroads $100,000,000 annually, is nearing completion, J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today. The association's executive committee spent all day in discussing the pool and will present methods for establishing it at a meeting of the full board today.

Mr. Pelley explained that the railroads had employed a unique method to determine the extent of empty car movement, which the pool would be calculated to control.

Study Car Movements.

"We completed this week a two-week investigation of the causes of empty car movements," said Mr. Pelley. "In this period, we determined the reason for the movement of every empty car in the country. The information thus obtained is in process of assembly and will be used in designing a car pool. Announcement of the pool plan is to be made soon."

The estimate of a $100,000,000 annual saving through a car pool was made in a survey by the staf of Joseph B. Eastman, federal coördinator. Mr. Pelley said he could not say now how much of this saving might be realized through the association's pool plan, but that the facts elicited in the two-week investigation would provide the first exact answer to the question.

Urges Unified Control.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 20.—(AP)—After declaring that "our railroads today are in a very low state of health, financially and physically," Joseph B. Eastman, federal coördinator of transportation, today advocated a single federal agency for the regulation of all important forms of transportation, "for the protection of both the carriers themselves and the public."

He said the railroads, with long experience with regulation, do not wish it abandoned, but instead feel all forms of transportation should be subject to regulation.

Eastman Asks Coöperation.

In urging coöperation between the railroads and with their competitors, Eastman said:

"All of our studies point directly to the fact that the big opportunities for elimination of waste and improvement of service lie in greater unity of action and in collective dealing with many matters.

"When we reach such conclusions, the railroads suspect that they are a product of my own leaning toward railroad nationalization; but I assure you that they have been reached without any prompting on my part and by men who have no liking for nationalization."

Rail Leader Flails Proposal to Scale Down Capitalization

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Repeated suggestions from shippers and others that the financial problems of the railroads be solved through radical scaling down of capitalization were sharply criticized yesterday by R. V. Fletcher, vice president and general counsel of the Association of American Railroads, in a talk before the Trafic Club of Chicago at the Palmer house.

Mr. Fletcher said that such a course would help railroad credit little at the present time since there would still be left the problem of the slim margin of safety resulting from the constantly narrowing spread between gross revenues and net income due to decreased earnings. Further, he said the harm that would come to the railroads through repudiation of their obligations would be far greater than any benefit they might expect from reduced capitalization obtained in such a manner.

Assails Federal Ownership.

The speaker, whose subject was "Probable Transportation Legislation," said that if the railroads must be subject to federal regulation all forms of transportation likewise should be regulated in the interest of coördination. He took issue with proponents of government ownership of the railroads as being opposed to the principles of American democracy and he warned of the effects of possible radical legislation, including the six hour day.

Mr. Fletcher said he felt that three main planks in a program for the improvement of the railroad situation could be: 1. Regulation of highways. 2. Regulation of waterways. 3. Modification of the fourth section of the interstate commerce commission act, which includes the long and short haul clause. Interests previously opposed to modification of the clause are now coming around in favor of it, he added.

Calls Scaledown Ineffectual.

Discussing the scaling down of capitalizations Mr. Fletcher said:

"If we were to reduce railroad capitalization 50 per cent we would not improve railroad credit much today. The margin of safety is too narrow. The difference between gross and net is too narrow.

"The capitalization of the railroads is now two-thirds of what it was in 1893, that is in proportion to investments. Railroad expenses are now too high and there is a tremendous problem before the roads which must reduce their operating costs to increase their net income.

"There is a possibility of measures being adopted that may add enormously to the cost of operation. One is the six hour day, which means a man would work six hours and get eight hours' pay. Then there is the legislation requiring the railroads to pay retirement benefits."

DOLLAR AGAIN GAINS AS MORE GOLD ARRIVES

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The dollar was improved against leading foreign currencies in trading here today. The British pound weakened ⅜ cent to close at $4.94, while French francs dropped ⅜ point to 6.60⅛ cents.

At the closing quotation on the franc the dollar was worth 59.35 cents, based on the old par of the franc, against 59.32 cents yesterday, while calculated on the new par of the franc the dollar was valued to $1.0049, against $1.0043 yesterday.

Belgian belgas eased 2 points to 23.40 cents, Swiss francs 2 points to 32.41 cents, and Dutch guilders 4 points to 67.65 cents. The German mark was 3 points lower at 40.20 cents, while Canadian dollars lost 3⅛ points to close at $1.0093¾.

In London bullion brokers raised the price of gold one penny to 140 shillings 8½ pence a fine ounce, equivalent to $34.78, based on the opening of sterling at $4.94 9-16. Bars valued at $370,734 were purchased.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York today announced the receipt of $10,031,600 of gold imports, of which $5,920,800 came from France, $2,999,300 from England, and $1,111,500 from Holland.

$22,300,000 SCHOOL BONDS OFFERED; ARE MOSTLY SOLD

Public offering of $22,300,000 of 4½ per cent Chicago Board of Education bonds was made late yesterday by the five major loop banks which on Monday purchased them from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Bearing our previous statements regarding the improvement in the credit rating of Chicago the bankers said last night that practically all the bonds have been placed.

Large investors in all parts of the country contracted to take the bonds before the offering was publicly announced, it was stated, with the consequence that only a few remain to be sold.

The five banks are the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, First National bank of Chicago, Harris Trust and Savings bank, Northern Trust company, and the City National Bank and Trust company.

The banks bought the bonds from the RFC at 101 and reoffered them at 103. The bonds are due Aug. 1, 1954, and are callable on 60 days' notice at par and accrued interest on any interest payment date on and after Aug. 1, 1944.

"BLUE SKY" LAW SAVES MILLIONS FOR INVESTORS

Hughes Cites Record for This Year in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Strict enforcement of the Illinois "blue sky" law by the office of the secretary of state prevented the sale of millions of dollars of questionable securities in Illinois during 1934, according to an announcement by Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes today.

"This is evidenced," he said, "in the large number of issues that were canceled and withdrawn during the year and also by the fact that the number of issues approved is the lowest in many years."

Twelve Stock Issues Suspended.

Hughes said that he had suspended twelve stock issues amounting to $2,472,500 during the year. In addition, he said, requests for approval to qualify fifty-one issues totaling $46,861,000 were withdrawn because of the exacting requirements demanded.

Total revenues of the various departments of the secretary's office increased in 1934 almost $2,000,000 over 1933 to a total of $21,195,145. Of this sum $17,342,308 came from motor vehicle license fees, which totaled $1,112,981 more than last year. Most of the increase came from the greater number of passenger cars registered, as truck registration decreased.

More Passenger Cars Registered.

During 1934 passenger car registrations totaled 1,285,992, up 9,128 over 1933, and truck registrations totaled 178,454, down 7,732 from 1933.

During 1934 the office of the secretary of state put into effect the anti-theft act, known as the certificate of title law. This, according to the department, was in large measure responsible for the virtual elimination of organized car stealing in the state.

L. D. Karcher, securities commissioner of Illinois, said yesterday: "Chicago is now cleaner of bucket shops than it has been in the last fifteen years."

Electric Refrigerator Sales Exceed Year's "Quota"

Sales of household electric refrigerators in the United States in 1934 will reach 1,326,331 units, or about 315,000 units over the year's "quota" of 1,010,506, R. Cooper Jr. announced yesterday. During the first ten months of this year 1,272,331 units were sold, a "quota" realization of 136.9 per cent.

Optional on or after August 1, 1944.

Principal and semi-annual interest (February 1 and August 1) payable at the office of the City Treasurer, ex-officio School Treasurer, Chicago, Illinois, or at the office of the fiscal agent in New York City. Denomination $1,000. Registerable as to principal only, if desired. Callable on 60 days notice by lot at par and accrued interest on any interest payment date, on and after August 1, 1944. The Board, further, may purchase such of these bonds as may be, from time to time, offered to it at not to exceed par and accrued interest.

Under existing laws, in our opinion, the income from these bonds is exempt from all Federal Income Taxes.

In our opinion these bonds are eligible to secure postal savings deposits.

The latest available published information, in our opinion, indicates these bonds are a legal investment for savings banks and trust funds in New York, Illinois and other states.

The Supreme Court of Illinois has decided that the Board of Education of the City of Chicago is a School District, the boundaries of which are coterminous with the boundaries of the City of Chicago, and constitutes a separate corporate entity with power to issue bonds and provide for levy of taxes upon all taxable property within the District.

THESE BONDS, part of an authorized issue of $22,500,000 issued under authority of the Board of Education and an ordinance of the City Council in conformity with the Statutes of the State of Illinois, were issued to provide additional monies for the Working Cash Fund of the Board of Education. In the opinion of counsel, they constitute direct and general obligations of the Board of Education, payable from ad valorem taxes without legal limit levied against all the taxable property within the Chicago School District, and the full faith and credit of the Board of Education is pledged for their payment.

For the payment of principal and interest of these bonds, a Sinking Fund has been created through the levy of an annual ad valorem tax as follows:

Year of Levy	Principal	Interest	Total
1934	None	$2,025,000	$2,025,000
1935-36	$ 250,000 each year	1,012,500 each year	1,262,500 each year
1937-38	500,000 each year	1,012,500 each year	1,512,500 each year
1939-40	750,000 each year	1,012,500 each year	1,762,500 each year
1941-42	1,000,000 each year	1,012,500 each year	2,012,500 each year
1943-45	1,500,000 each year	1,012,500 each year	2,512,500 each year
1946-51	2,000,000 each year	1,012,500 each year	3,012,500 each year
1952	1,000,000	1,012,500	2,012,500

Additional security has been pledged with The First National Bank of Chicago as Trustee, in the mortgage of certain properties, from which rentals were collected in 1934 of approximately $622,000. Such rentals, after January 1, 1935, payable to the trustee, are available for interest and purchase or redemption of bonds.

Price 103 to yield over 4.10% to the optional date and 4.50% thereafter
(Accrued interest to be added)

These bonds are offered when, as and if received by us and subject to the approval of their legality by Messrs. Chapman and Cutler of Chicago.

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Pressure against utility issues as the aftermath of the renewed threat of government competition in the field, unsettled domestic corporation bonds generally on the stock exchange today. United States government bonds finished generally lower, while foreign loans pointed higher. Trading was moderately active, at $14,140,000 par value, compared with $12,392,000 yesterday.

A number of the utility issues sold off fractionally to more than a point or more, not alone the obligations of companies doing business in New York City, but of companies located in various parts of the country.

Industrial Issues Lower.

Industrial bonds averaged lower, while the better rated rail issues were irregularly higher, although the more speculative rail issues finished easier on the day.

Kelly-Springfield 6s were again weak, losing 5¾ points. Tobacco Products of New Jersey 6½s were also off 5⅛. Others, down 1 to more than 2, included American and Foreign Power 5s, American Water Works 5s, Columbia Gas 5s, Consolidated Gas 4½s and 5s, Hudson Coal 5s, New Orleans Public Service 5s, North American 5s, North American Edison 5s, Paramount-Publix 5½s, Philadelphia company 5s, and Utah Power 5s, at 63⅛.

Several Liens Advance.

Porto Rican American Tobacco 6s jumped 9 points, and advances of 1 to 2 points were shown by some issues of Denver and Rio Grande, Norfolk and Southern, Rio Grande Western, Great Northern, Consolidated Coal, St. Paul, and Santa Fe.

The declines in United States government bonds ranged from 1-32 to 7-32 point on a turnover of $2,834,800.

German and South American loans showed about the best strength in the foreign group. Other foreign issues showed minor irregularities.

Curb bonds were weaker, notably the utility issues, some of which lost 1 to more than 4 points.

Link-Belt.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly give me your opinion on Link-Belt?—L. N. W.

Answer: Link-Belt company furnishes a diversified group of industries with sprocket chains and power transmission machinery, conveying machinery, and miscellaneous power machinery, such as cranes, elevator buckets, etc. Illustrative of the widespread market for its products is the fact that the automobile industry, the largest customer, takes only 10 per cent of output.

Earnings fluctuate with industrial activity. Reflecting this, sales for the first nine months of 1934 amounted to $7,665,000, against $5,418,000 for the corresponding 1933 period, and net income was $573,000, or 60 cents per common share, against net income of $52,000, which was only 28 per cent of preferred dividends, for the first nine months of 1933.

1933	$ 7,705,000	$ 217,000	*$0.05
1932	6,808,000	*970,000	*1.78
1931	12,530,000	639,000	.56
1930	20,304,000	2,310,000	2.89

*Loss.

Current position on Sept. 30, 1934, appeared strong. Cash and securities alone of $6,688,000 amply covered total current liabilities of $669,000.

Capitalization consists of 35,142 shares of $100 par 6½ per cent preferred and 672,873 shares of no par common.

Keystone Telephone.

Investors' Guide: Please send me information on Keystone Telephone 5½s, series A.—D. G. H.

Answer: Keystone Telephone company of Philadelphia is an operating company controled by Telephone Securities, Inc. Earnings in recent years have been covered by only small margins, current position is not impressive, and the company is in direct competition with the Bell system in Philadelphia. In addition it has a $4,000,000 first mortgage bond maturity to meet on July 1, 1935. Its outstanding bonds are more a speculation than an investment.

In the early part of December Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, Keystone's competitor, filed a petition with the Pennsylvania public service commission asking for permission to consolidate the two companies' services in order to eliminate wasteful duplication and improve the service.

KELLY ASKS HOLC COMPLETE LOANS TO HOME OWNERS

Mayor Cites Distress of 15,000 Chicagoans.

BY AL CHASE.

Federal aid for 15,000 home owners who face losing their property as a result of the shutting down of Home Owners' Loan corporation lending activities, was asked yesterday by Mayor Kelly in a letter to Congressman A. J. Sabath. He stated that a large number of Chicagoans had called on him to ask his assistance in securing loans on their homes.

"I understand there are approximately 15,000 home owners in this undesirable situation of not being able to get their loans through because of the order from Washington stopping further HOLC lending," Mayor Kelly wrote, "and that the average loan request is $4,500.

Comply with Federal Rules.

"These people have complied with the government's preliminary requirements. Many of them were led to believe that their loans would be completed within a short period, and have so assured their mortgagees. Now, of course, because of the order from Washington, these home owners are being threatened with foreclosure and with the loss of their homes, which in most cases represent their life savings.

"I am sure I need not emphasize the advantages that would accrue to Illinois and Chicago through the placing of $67,000,000 or more in circulation. I am confident that you know the dire need for help on the part of distressed home owners.

Urges Loans Be Made.

"I am sure that you understand the necessity for exerting every possible effort toward having this situation relieved through the continued authorization of home loans to those who have applied for them and who have complied with the government's requirements. On behalf of the citizens of Chicago, I urge your support of the above suggestion."

The county records yesterday disclosed what the rentals will be for the new Beverly theater now under construction at the southeast corner of West 95th street and South Ashland avenue—Chicago's first new cinema in several years. The Warner Brothers Theaters, Inc., will pay the Ashland-Ninety-fifth Street Properties, Inc., $18,000 annually, plus 15% of gross receipts over that amount.

The lease also provides that in case the lessee decides to sublease the playhouse the leasing corporation must pay the lessor $24,000, plus 15% of gross receipts over that sum.

MUNICIPAL BOND NOTES

An issue of $500,000 Kenosha county, Wis., 3½ per cent relief bonds is offered by Halsey, Stuart & Co., R. W. Pressprich & Co., and Piper, Jaffray & Hopwood. The bonds mature serially Jan. 15, 1936 to 1955, and are redeemable at any interest date, although the county has advised the purchasers that none of the bonds will be called prior to January, 1936. At 101¾, the offering price, the bonds yield 1.70 per cent for one year and 3½ per cent thereafter until redeemed or paid at maturity.

A. C. Allyn & Co., Inc., and John Nuveen & Co. have purchased an issue of Ogden, Utah, 4 per cent bonds. Proceeds of the financing will be used for waterworks construction. Announcement of the offering prices and other details will be made later.

Summit county, O., of which Akron is the county seat, announces it will be in the market on Jan. 4 with a new issue of $500,000 of refunding bonds. The issue will be dated Oct. 1, 1934, and will mature serially 1939 to 1943, with the rate of interest to be named by the bidders at not to exceed 4½ per cent.

A new issue of $450,000 Milwaukee county, Wis., metropolitan sewer district 4 per cent bonds has been announced for award on Dec. 28. The bonds will be dated Oct. 1, 1933, and will mature 1951 to 1953.

Phelps, Fenn & Co. were the successful bidders for a new issue of $253,032 Town of Eastchester, N. Y., street assessment bonds, maturing serially from Jan. 1, 1936 to 1950. The price was 100.03 for the bonds as 3.60s.

A new issue of $63,000 Village of Bronxville, N. Y., public improvement bonds, dated Dec. 1, 1934, and due 1936 to 1974, has been awarded to Phelps, Fenn & Co. at 100.03 for the bonds as 3.70s.

BUTTER ADVANCES ¼ CENT; EGG PRICES ARE UNCHANGED

Late buying caused egg futures to close unchanged on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday after an early decline. Butter closed ¼ cent per pound higher.

Eggs sold off at the start under moderate liquidation. The four markets reported only 2,500 cases less out than last year and the more favorable movement induced short covering in the last hour and scattered new support appeared, aiding the market in rallying.

It was reported the government is planning to purchase 2,000,000 pounds of butter. Withdrawals from storage totaled 182,000 pounds more than last year, and the centralizers reported production 11 per cent less than last year and 4 per cent less than the previous week.

COTTON TRADE AGAIN HOLDS TO NARROW PRICE RANGE

Cotton prices again held within narrow limits yesterday, and while trade was somewhat larger than earlier in the week, sufficient liquidation developed in the January delivery to offset largely trade and commission house buying. Reports of improvement in the demand for cotton goods with estimated sales of 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 yards made in New York yesterday attracted some attention, as did claims Germany and Egypt were considering a barter agreement whereby the former would secure cotton.

Ginning of cotton from the 1934 crop previous to Dec. 13, as given by the bureau of the census, was 9,174,000 bales, compared with 12,356,000 bales last year. Futures closed 1 to 4 points higher in Chicago, and 3 points lower to 3 points higher in other markets. Spot cotton was unchanged to 5 points higher, with New Orleans, Galveston, Houston, and New York all quoted at 12¾ cents per pound. Prices follow:

BURNHAM

63 YEARS KNOWING HOW TO TEACH GIVES YOU A FLYING START.

The easy-to-learn Burnham System quickly enables you to become a skilled beauty operator. Plenty of living models. You learn by doing rather than by studying. Each teacher a specialist. Fewer pupils per teacher.

WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY.
FOR THOSE WHO ACT NOW.

Pay for MOST of your tuition after graduating. You can take advantage of many money-saving offers RIGHT NOW that we probably will not be able to offer after the first of the year. Our advice to every girl who wants to take up beauty culture is to visit Burnham's this week. By all means get your application in NOW. Call, phone, or write for Free Beauty Book T. Open every day, or Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings.

Every DeLEE GRADUATE Is EMPLOYED

Every day shop owners are offering good paying positions to DeLEE graduates. During the past few weeks we have had many more calls for operators than we have graduates.

Think what that means to YOU. It means that if you receive your beauty culture and hairdressing training at DeLEE under Mme. Louise you will qualify for one of these good paying, pleasant positions. It won't take long, either, because the DeLEE individual, personalized method of instruction makes learning easy. Come in today.

Expelled Hungarians as they reached Budapest from Jugo-Slavia when feeling ran high between the two countries over the assassination of King Alexander. Many of the Hungarians were half starved as they reached a haven. An agreement reached at the league of nations eased the war scare which troubled Europe.
